MARIN BUS DEBUT

Riders Happy, A Bit Late

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

Posh buses, still smelling new, won immediate favor today with riders as the Golden Gate Bridge District kicked off its local bus service throughout Marin.

But the opening day was a qualified success, with the very first run, the 6:37 a.m. south from San Marin, 15 minutes behind schedule when it got to the College of Marin — with some two dozen students late for classes.

The bus was less than five minutes behind schedule when it went through San Rafael, but to the chagrin of the students, it then went back onto the freeway instead of following the former route over Wolfe Grade.

Heavy commuter traffic cost 10 minutes, but district officials differed over whether switching back to the Wolfe Grade route formerly served by Marin Transit Systems Inc. would save time.

. Most of the 23 buses in service today, however, were running no more than five minutes behind schedule, "which we don't even consider late for a first day," according to Jerome Kuykendall, the district's transportation developer.

Drivers had been instructed to err slightly on the late side rather than be early and bypass potential riders, he said.

The first quarter to clunk in the fare box was dropped by Laurie L. Peterson, 21, of 42 Laurie Court, Novato. She boarded with a wide-eyed "oh no" as three district officials and an Independent-Journal photographer's flash greeted her.

Miss Peterson, who boarded on Novato Boulevard at Novak Square, was confused momentarily by the "Mill Valley" destination sign on the bus, a confusion shared by many of the other riders.

A total of 29 persons had climbed on the bus before it got to the Kentfield campus, all but a few going to the college. Some got off to San Rafael and Marin Catholic high schools.

No one at all got on at the first stop at San Marin Drive and Sereno Way, although there was a flurry of expectation among the waiting district officials as three persons appeared out of the cold darkness. It turned out they were commuters catching a charter bus to San Francisco.

But one of them, Hermann E. Schnabel of 68 Sotelo Way, said he will switch to the bridge district's system because it will provide frequent service, giving him far greater flexibility than the once-a-day charter.

He also noted that the charter costs $38 a month, about $8 more than the district buses will cost.

The bridge district's commuter service to San Francisco will start Jan. 3, replacing Greyhound Lines with a vastly expanded network of service into populated areas of the county and north to Santa Rosa.

The two services, both local and commuter, will link at numerous points to provide transfers.

The first bus out of San Marin today, for example, has 90 stops before it turns around at Mill Valley.

Local service is limited to weekdays under the district's contract with the county, which is subsidizing the cost — estimated anywhere between $300,000 and $700,000 a year.

The commuter system will operate around the clock seven days a week.

Local service also includes routes between Sausalito and Novato, Sausalito and Belvedere, East Corte Madera and Sleepy Hollow, Peacock Gap and Fairfax, Santa Venetia and Terra Linda, and the Marin County Civic Center and Novato.

Schedules are available at city and county offices, banks, chambers of commerce and at the bridge district's bus base, 517 Jacoby Street, San Rafael.

One Novato rider to the College of Marin, Jan L. Pool, 19, of 67 Leland Drive, commented that the schedule "looks like a

President Thwarts Skyjack

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (UPI) — A submachine gun-toting President Jose Figueres led more than 200 National Guardsmen Sunday in surrounding a hijacked Nicaraguan jetliner, shooting its engines and tires, then killing two of the aerial pirates.

One passenger was wounded earlier when he tried to resist the hijackers.

The Lanica airlines pilot, Capt. Miguel Murciano, said he had just taken off from San Salvador, El Salvador on a flight from Miami to Managua, Nicaragua when three men pulled guns and said they were taking over.

Murciano said they demanded to be flown to Cuba but agreed to a landing in San Jose when they were told the plane would have to refuel.

Stewardesses Barbara Stein, Tonia Vigil and Cristian Lambote said that Alfonso Lobo, 29, son of the Nicaraguan agriculture minister, tried to resist the gunmen while the plane was in the air. He was shot in the leg, the hand and the stomach. Lobo was hospitalized in San Jose.

The hijackers let the passengers disembark in exchange for fuel. But Figueres sped to the airport and ordered police to prevent the takeoff. He took up a submachine gun and led police and guardsmen, who filled the plane with teargas, shot up the engines and flattened the tires.

The engines burst into flames and police fired into the plane through smashed windows.

Officials said Raul Ignacio Arana and Alfonso Acuna were killed and Guastavo Villanuevo escaped injury inside the plane but was roughed up by a crowd that gathered after the gunfire.

"Once the plane was surrounded, I saw that inside the plane one of them (hijackers) was pointing a gun at a stewardess," said President Figueres. "At that very moment, I ordered tear gas to fill the plane."

Figueres said the aerial pirates were members of a "subversive Nicaraguan group" of Communists.

Several hours after the incident, Figueres made an unusual telephone call from Costa Rica to a UPI reporter in Wash-

Indian Forces Draw Loop Around Dacca

East Pakistan City In Lull Before The Storm

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Indian paratroopers advanced to within six miles of the center of Dacca today, bringing the Pakistani defenders within range of their artillery, an Indian spokesman reported in New Delhi. He said the Indians would be in a position to capture Dacca within 24 to 28 hours.

Gen. S.H.F.J. Manekshaw, chief of staff of the Indian army, broadcast an appeal to Pakistani commanders in Dacca to surrender. But a pooled dispatch by American correspondents in Dacca said Gen. A.A.K. Niazi, the Pakistani commander there, vowed to fight to the last.

A military spokesman in Calcutta said the Indian paratroopers, dropped Saturday and later reinforced, had overcome heavy resistance to advance to the Lakhya River ferry crossing six miles northeast of the heart of the city. Other Indian columns advanced with tanks and armored personnel carriers to within 12 miles of Dacca.

UPI Correspondent Joseph Galloway in Dacca said the city was quiet Sunday night with no bombing and very little small arms fire. Galloway said the curfew was lifted early today to allow residents to make last-minute shopping trips before the expected attack on the city of 750,000 persons.

Neutral planes flew 435 foreign nationals out of Dacca Sunday and only a small group of American and foreign newsmen and diplomatic officials was left. Dacca dispatches said many of the people had fled into the countryside to avoid being caught in the battle for the city. Indian Defense Secretary K. D. Lall told newsmen in New Delhi "within the next 23 to 28 hours we will be in a very strong position around Dacca... Lall said the situation along the West Pakistan border had not changed significantly and he appeared to be at pains to stress there were no Indian designs on West Pakistani territory, UPI correspondent Robert Kaylor reported from New Delhi.

Lall said Pakistan started the war Dec. 3 with preemptive air attacks in the west and "since then we have reamained on the defensive—all operations we have taken since then... are to endeavor to see that the fighting in on the enemy's territory."

Prime Minister Indira Gandhi met for the second time today with the Soviet first deputy foreign minister, Vassily Kusnetzov, and a spokesman said they were exchanging views on how to coordinate efforts to restore peace.

In Calcutta a group of 30 Communist youths marched to the Soviet consulate in a show of support then attacked the downtown ticket office of Pan American World Airways with gasoline bombs and rocks in the first anti-American outbreak in Calcutta in two years. No injuries were reported but damage was heavy.

Rail Lands Bill Signed By Reagan

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Legislation empowering the Golden Gate Bridge District to buy abandoned railroad rights-of-way for transit use has been signed into law by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The bill, AB 919 by Assemblyman John F. Foran, D-San Francisco, authorizes the district to buy the rights-of-way from the Northwestern Pacific Railway.

The district plans to use the narrow easement abandoned south of Corte Madera as an exclusive route for buses — with possible future conversion to rails from Novato to downtown San Francisco via a transit deck on the bridge.

The bill also gives the district another two years to complete a long-range transit plan. The one submitted to the legislature this year failed to look far enough into the future and to make decisions on the shape of future transit, according to legislative critics of the plan.

Arrested Lay Teachers Now Facing Suspension

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Lay teachers — including two from Marin Catholic High School in Kentfield —have been threatened with suspensions because they were arrested in connection with demonstrations on school property in the recent Catholic schools strike.

The threat by Catholic officials came amid teachers charges that school administrators have been "harassing" them since they returned to work Thursday.

James Gallagher, an official of the American Federation of Teachers, said the contemplated suspensions are another instance of harassment and vowed to fight them in court.

Rev. Bernard Cummins, superintendent of parochial schools in the Bay Area, said yesterday the Archdiocese of San Francisco plans to suspend 15 teachers for 90 days for sitting in at three Catholic high schools Nov. 30.

Eighteen teachers arrested for invading the chancery office here Dec. 3 face 30-day suspensions, Father Cummins said.

Two teachers at Marin Catholic, Jack Breen and John Bechtold, could receive 30-day suspensions, according to Rev. Francis A. Lacey, principal of the Kentfield school.

A third teacher, Michael Peterson, may receive a letter of reprimand for allegedly invading the office where the archdiocese's department of education is housed, Lacey said. He said Peterson will not be suspended because he left when police ordered the demonstrators out and was not arrested.

Father Cummins said no action will be taken until the teachers are given a chance to "give their side of it."

Father Lacey said all 14 teachers who went on strike Nov. 15 have been treated the same as those who stayed since the strike ended Thursday. He said all have been returned to their former positions.

Father Cummins said this is true at all seven of the high schools hit by the strike, but teachers' representatives disputed his claim.

Gallagher said Friday that the teachers' union is gathering evidence to seek a restraining order barring retaliation by the Roman Catholic Archdiocese.

He charged, among other things, that the teachers are being denied normal teaching duties, are being reduced from tenured to probationary status and are being "berated and belittled" before their students.

Father Cummins denied the allegations.

Car Poolers Are Climbing

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Bay Bridge officials reported today that Monday traffic included 1,919 car pools using a special free lane for cars with at least three occupants.

The number was up from 1,602 last Thursday. A bridge spokesman said the idea seems to be "picking up" and there were few bridge delays today.

The free lanes were instituted last week as an attempt to encourage car pooling.

Nixon, French Leader Begin Talk In Azores

ANGRA DO HEROISMO, Azores (UPI)—President Nixon opened a round of private summit talks on this mid-Atlantic island today with President Georges Pompidou of France. They were discussing the international money crisis and other world problems in advance of Nixon's historic trips to Peking and Moscow.

The two presidents arrived at almost exactly 10 a.m. (6 a.m. EST) at the 18th century General Assembly Building in the center of Angra.

Nixon and Pompidou began their talks seated in highbacked chairs in the salon of the Junta Geral, a building once used by Portuguese kings. The two presidents met and posed for photographers in a palm-lined court outside of the building, then moved in for their discussions.

Tough bargaining over the international money crisis was high on the agenda.

Nixon, standing up in his bubble-top limousine, waved at several thousand townspeople who lined his motorcade route through the twisting cobblestone streets.

The onlookers waved U.S., French and Portuguese flags.

"Congratulations on the Concorde," Nixon told Pompidou in reference to the British-French supersonic jetliner Pompidou used for his trip to this picturesque island in the Atlantic.

Nixon was blocked by Congress in his effort to build a

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Rites Tomorrow

PALM SPRINGS (UPI) — Services will be held tomorrow for Maurice James McDonald, who with his brother Richard built a hamburger stand in San Bernardino into the multi-million dollar McDonald's hamburger chain, with more than 1,500 locations.

McDonald, 69, died Saturday night.

McDonald was an electrician at Paramount movie studios before he opened the original hamburger stand in 1943. He and his brother, who survives him, hit on the idea of eliminating menus and carhops by preparing 15-cent hamburgers in advance, ready for sale to customers when they walked in. Their stands were characterized by a tall golden arch.

A Tradition

BROADSTAIRS, England (UPI) — Prime Minister Edward Heath kept up a 35-year tradition yesterday by conducting the annual Christmas carol concert in his home town.

Heath, who first directed the 80-member choir and orchestra in 1936 as an Oxford University undergraduate, came this year with new aplomb — gained two weeks ago when he served as a guest conductor with the London Philharmonic Orchestra.

Dies On Slopes

SOFIA (UPI) — Bulgarian Foreign Minister Ivan Bashev was killed yesterday in a skiing accident on Mount Vitosha near Sofia, the government announced today. He was 55 years old.

The announcement said the body of Bashev, the foreign minister for nine years, was found by searchers at 5 a.m. today.

The foreign Ministry said he fell while skiing, was seriously injured and died before he could be found.

New Bishop

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — An activist churchman exiled in 1967 from South Africa for his opposition to apartheid was installed yesterday as assistant bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of San Francisco.

About 600 persons witnessed the installation of Right Rev. C. Edward Crowther, 42, by Bishop C. Kilmer Myers.

Bishop Crowther, arrested in 1969 during an anti-war demonstration in Washington, D.C., has no specific duties in his new post.

"The church doesn't seem to know what to do with deported bishops," said the clergyman who considered his post an honorary one.

Fund Raised

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — About 600 persons paid $100 a plate Saturday night to attend the first fund raising dinner in the South for the Black Congressional Caucus.

The affair, which included on the program comedian Bill Cosby and Rep. Louis Stokes, D-Ohio, was termed a success by black leaders.

Democratic State Sen. Avon Williams called the dinner a "defeat for whites who are trying to divide blacks and liberal whites in uniting for a common cause."

Hits Israel

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Al Rai, the semiofficial newspaper in Amman, said today Arab war talk which was designed primarily for domestic consumption will be used by the Israelis as an excuse to start another war in the Middle East.

"Under the present circumstances, talk of war will only help the Israelis and will give them a pretext to attack," the newspaper said.

David Sarnoff Succumbs At 80

NEW YORK (UPI)—David Sarnoff, a Russian immigrant paperboy who became one of the giants of the communications industry, died yesterday of complications from an ear infection. He was 80.

Sarnoff's communications career was launched April 14, 1912, when he was the first American to hear word of the sinking of the Titanic. He went on to pioneer both radio and television and rose to chairman of RCA Corp.

He retired from RCA in 1970 but retained the title of honorary chairman until his death. He had suffered from the ear infection for several years and underwent a seris of operations to try to correct it.

The body will repose at the Frank E. Campbell Funeral Home today and tomorrow. Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday in Temple Emanuel.

"General Sarnoff had the qualities of spirit that embody the highest tradition of our nation — imagination, daring, patriotism and generosity," President Nixon said yesterday. "Mrs. Nixon and I join his family and the nation at large in mourning the passing of this gifted American."

Neither an inventor nor an originator of the electronic means which brought the radio-television boom, Sarnoff was a man who saw clearly the potential of these new inventions and gambled on their success even in the darkest of times.

In 1916, he asked the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Co. for money to develop a "radio music box" and the company grudgingly gave him $2,000. After the radio had become a booming success, Sarnoff in 1923 proposed to the Radio Corporation of America, which took over Marconi, a plan to develop television.

Even in the Depression, when as president of RCA he was fighting to keep the company out of financial trouble, Sarnoff spent money to develop the new media.

His work culminated with the first public television broadcast in 1939 in which he appeared at the New York World's Fair and told the television audience, "Now we add radio sight to sound." After World War II, he was a leader in pushing the development of compatible television—sets which would produce both color and black-and-white.

Born Feb. 27, 1891 in the small Russian village of Uzlian, near Minsk, Sarnoff came to the United States in 1900 with his parents. After his father's death he sold newspapers on the streets of New York and later went to work as a copy boy for Marconi Wireless.

As an operator for Marconi, Sarnoff had the tedious job the night of April 14, 1912, of monitoring broadcasts at an experimental wireless station atop a Wanamaker department store along Broadway.

It was there that he heard the first faint SOS that would shock the world: "S.S. Titanic ran into iceberg, sinking fast."

For 72 hours, Sarnoff sat by the wireless set relaying to the world the news of the sinking of the "unsinkable" ship and copy- ing down the names of the survivors.

President William Howard Taft ordered all other stations in the country to shut down to minimize interference with the signals coming from the doomed ship.

Sarnoff's actions in those days earned him a succession of rapid advancements at Marconi. In 1916, he sent his famous message saying, "I have in mind a plan of development which would make radio a household utility in the same sense as a piano or phonograph. The idea is to bring music into the home by wireless."

He predicted sales of radios would reach $75 million, but in the first three years of production alone sales reached $83 million.

Another of his hopes, a central broadcasting organization, was realized in 1926 when RCA formed a subsidiary which was to become the National Broadcasting Co.

Although best known for his work in communications, Sarnoff was the major influence in building RCA into a multifaceted corporation that at the time of his death was grossing more than $3 billion annually.

During World War II, Sarnoff served as special consultant on communications in Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's staff.

Newton Jury Deadlocks; New Trial?

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)— District Attorney Lowell Jensen meets with his staff today to decide whether Black Panther leader Huey P. Newton should be tried for manslaughter a fourth time in the slaying of an Oakland policeman.

A panel of eight women and four men declared thesmelves hopelessly deadlocked 6-6 late Saturday after deliberating three days. Newton was charged with killing policeman John Frey in an early morning shootout in 1967.

Jensen returned to Oakland Sunday from a Palm Springs meeting for a conference on the case with prosecutor Donald Whyte, who said "hell, yes" when asked whether Newton should be retried a fourth time.

Defense attorney Charles R. Garry told newsmen after the deadlock announcement that another trial would "amount to harassment and would be cruel and unusual punishment." He said he would go to an appellate court if necessary to block such a move.

Newton, 29, spent 10 months in pre-trial confinement and later 22 months in prison following a manslaughter conviction in 1968 which was overturned by an appellate court on a judicial error. A second trial earlier this year also ended in a hung jury.

The Black Panther Party's Central Committee issued a statement after the jury action saying, "The inability of the jury to reach a decision once again has revealed an outstanding point—the gross corruption of the California state judicial system."

The jury included 10 caucasians, one Chinese-American and one Spanish -American.

Newton has been free on $40,000 bail and must return to court Wednesday for the setting of a new trial date if the district attorney decides to prosecute again.

Irish Underground Kills Senator, Blows Up His Corpse And House

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—The official wing of the outlawed Irish Republican Army (IRA) said today it was responsible for killing a Protestant legislator Sunday and blowing up his home.

In a statement issued in Dublin, the IRA said the death of Northern Ireland Sen. John Barnhill, 65, was a mistake. It said he had been asked to evacuate his home, but was shot when he attacked members of the raiding party.

British troops dug Barnhill's smashed body from the ruins of his bombed home early this morning.

"The purpose of the raid was to destroy the house in reprisal of the destruction by British forces of working class homes throughout the province," the IRA statement said.

"On entering the house, the officer in charge informed Sen. Barnhill that his house was to be destroyed and he was asked to evacuate it along with his family.

"He then attacked the raiding party and in the ensuing struggle received wounds from which he died."

Barnhill's home was selected for the raid "because Sen. Barnhill represents a leading position in the Unionist Party and has been identified as a supporter of (Prime Minister Brian) Faulkner's policy of repression and terrorism against the working class people of the north," it said.

Faulkner earlier accused the Irish Republic of harboring the gunmen who he said probably killed Barnhill in the first political assassination in three years of escalating violence.

Double Pickets Over Abortions

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Rival women pickets met headon during a weekend demonstration on abortion outside the Cathedral Hall Medical Center.

About 30 women showed up at the clinic with anti-abortion signs reading "unborn children have rights too" and that women having abortions were "murderers."

While the pickets marched, 30 women had operations to terminate pregnancy inside the facility.

The women's abortion coalition sent counterpickets to the scene who called the pro-life group "vicious" and "stupid".

Saigon Troops Hunt Foes; More GI's Head For Home

SAIGON (UPI) —South Vietnam with U.S. air support sent 6,000 troops deeper into Cambodia today in a search for a large North Vietnamese force believed using the big Chup rubber plantation as a sanctuary. Military sources predicted major fighting.

In Saigon, the U.S. command announced the pullout of 6,600 American servicemen from Vietnam last week, the largest weekly troop withdrawal in more than six months.

A command communique said U.S. troop strength fell to 171,000 on Dec. 9, the lowest since November, 1965, but still short of the 159,000 figure ordered by President Nixon for Christmas.

The only action reported in South Vietnam was skirmishing between irregular guerrillas and militiamen, but a spokesman said two Americans were killed and eight wounded Sunday in a Viet Cong attack against a U.S. outpost near the coastal city of Qui Nhon.

UPI correspondent Kate Webb reported from Phnom Penh that Cambodia government troops reoccupied the small village of Thmat Pong, 18 miles west of Phnom Penh, without a fight.

New fighting was reported in Laos. Government spokesmen in Vientiane said Laotian troops with U.S. air support repelled a North Vietnamese attack against the strategic crossroads town of Tha Teng on the Bolovens Plateau.

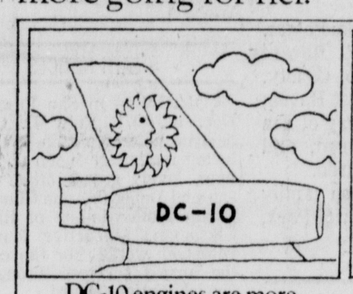
National introduces the first, the only DC-10 between San Francisco and Florida.

Fly Barbara. She's the first of our new fleet of DC-10's between San Francisco and Florida. She's big and beautiful. And luxuriously comfortable. And she's got a lot more going for her.



DC-10 engines are more powerful, but quieter. And virtually smokeless.

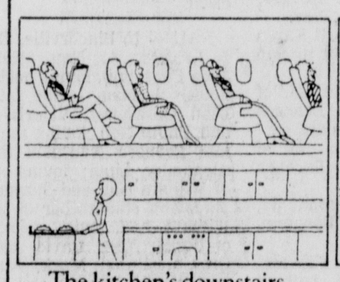
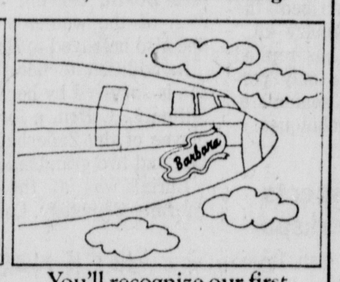
Two's company, three's a crowd. Our DC-10's have only two-abreast seating.



The kitchen's downstairs. So is the clatter and clutter.

Twin aisles. And ten channels of stereo. On every flight.



You'll recognize our first DC-10 by her distinctive nose. Her name is Barbara.

Living Room Comfort

You get the kind of living room comfort you've always looked for on an airplane. You get armchair space. And you're never more than one seat from the aisle. In coach. You also get ten channels of stereo. On every flight.

Hitches, Happy Rides In Marin Bus Debut

computer program" as she struggled with it.

But she clearly liked the bus. "It's nice and new and doesn't creak, and it's got really great shocks."

Like the other students aboard, she formerly rode the Marin Transit System bus, now replaced by the district. The private company's operations will shift to other demonstration projects under a county subsidy. These will include transporting senior citizens, disabled persons and recreational traffic within Point Reyes National Seashore.

Miss Pool said that several regular riders on the former bus were missed today because of changes in the route.

Especially happy today was the driver, Charles R. Cook of Larkspur. A former Greyhound driver, he said he looked forward to smiling at passengers and having them smile back. "No matter how nice you are on Greyhound, you couldn't change the public's opinion of Greyhound," he said.

"There's no comparison" in driving a new district bus and a Greyhound bus, he said. The new buses are "a lot safer" because the automatic transmission allows both hands to remain on the steering wheel, he said.

The automatic also means "passengers don't get their necks out of joint every time you shift," he said.

The brakes are "100 per cent better," Cook added.

Summing up his satisfaction with the buses and district bosses, Cook said he planned to stay with the system "until I retire." He is 25.

On board for the inaugural run were two bridge district directors, Marin County Supervisor Michael Wornum and Dean N. Meyer of Mill Valley. Wornum observed that always "meant to visit Novato."

San Rafael Mayor C. Paul Bettini had expected to join the entourage, but did not.

District officials closely shepherded the first run, and even dispatched a trailing car to pick up a Los Ranchitos girl who let the bus pass because she did not recognize it as the new one to the college.

The general manager of the bridge district, Dale W. Luehring, hopped off the bus after she was missed and escorted the rescue mission car piloted by the district's bus transit manager, H. Donald White.

The red-faced damsel they rescued from being even later for class was Renee Losk, 18, of 20 Circle Road. She was welcomed aboard by cheers from the other students.

Fares on the local bus runs are 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children through age 12, students through age 16 and senior citizens. Riders must pay with exact change since drivers carry none.

Ericka Huggins At Quentin Six Hearing

Ericka Huggins, who along with Bobby Seale was freed of charges growing out of a Connecticut Black Panther slaying earlier this year, was among spectators today during a hearing for six San Quentin convicts in Marin Superior Court.

She and about 25 other visitors sat quietly in Judge E. Warren McGuire's court as five of the convicts tried unsuccessfully to fire their attorneys. Only one inmate was satisified with his lawyers.

Hugo A. Pinell, hired private counsel, Ralph Bencangey of Beverly Hills.

The other five had charged repeatedly that court-appointed attorneys are agents working against their interests. The six are accused of murder, conspiracy and assault stemming from the Aug. 21 prison uprising. Missing attorney Stephen M. Bingham is also charged.

Motions by the five attorneys to be relieved of the case were either denied or put over until Dec. 27 for argument.

The judge said he will hear arguments by attorney Louis F. Hawkins to be replaced by G. Douglas Vaughn as attorney for Louis N. Talamantez.

Also on Dec. 27, the judge will hear attorney Steven Koolpe's motion to continue the sealing of the grand jury transcript of testimony which led to the indictment against the six.

Koolpe's client, John Larry Spain, asked that Charles R. Garry of San Francisco be substituted for Koolpe. When this was denied, Spain asked that he be removed from the courtroom, and he was led into an adjoining holding cell.

Other attorneys who want out are public defender Frank Cox, representing David Johnson; Richard H. Breiner, representing Fleeta Drumgo, and Howard A. Morehouse, named for Willie Tate.

The judge refused their requests, explaining that until each one comes up with his attorney of choice who is willing to take the case, the court-appointed lawyers will be attorneys of record.

ington to explain why he had personally stoped the hijackers.

"We are prepared to deal vigorously with this sort of Communist threat," he said. "And this was the only way to do it."

Figueres said he called Nicaraguan's President Anastacio Somoza, as soon as the incident was over and dispatched the lone surving hijacker to Nicaragua. But Figueres said "I don't think he'll survive" the gun wounds.

Figueres has encountered some domestic problems over his government's establishment of trade relations with the Soviet Union. In the telephone call to UPI he stressed that the agreement with the Russians did not mean his government would not "act with strength" against Communist subversion.

Women's Group Condemns Book

The Marin Women's Legislative Council has voted opposition to use of the book, "The Movement Toward a New America," in San Rafael High School classes.

Mrs. Paul A. Hammer of San Anselmo, president of the council, which is an affiliate of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, announced today the action was taken at the council's November meeting.

She said the book was presented to the members, and their reaction was that "a shocking situation exists in our schools today, the poisoning of the minds of our youths."

She said the action of the council has been reported to Gov. Ronald Reagan and to Wilson C. Riles, state superintendent of public instruction.

Span Leap Seen, No Body Found

An unidentified youth wearing a motorcycle jacket and boots leaped from the east railing of the Golden Gate Bridge Saturday.

The Coast Guard reported searching for two hours without finding the body.

California Highway Patrol officers said two motorists saw the young man scramble over the east railing of the bridge's center span.

A fishing boat crew reported seeing a body fall from the span.

prisoners with Peking leaders during his two trips to China.)

Two of the Americans freed, Richard Fecteau and Miss Mary A. Harbert, crossed the border into Hong Kong shortly before the Chinese announcement on their release was broadcast by the New China News Agency (NCNA).

The third American, John Downey, 41, New Britain, Conn., had his life sentence commuted to five years in prison starting from the day of the commutation, according to NCNA.

Fecteau, 43, of Lynn, Mass., and Miss Harbert were flown from the border by British helicopter directly to the Hong Kong internatioal airport where they boarded a U.S. military plane for the flight to the United States. A spokesman at the U.S. consulate here refused to give their specific destination or other details.

Downey and Fecteau were captured in November, 1952, while trying to set up guerrilla espionage bases in North China, according to the Chinese. They were civilian employes of the U.S. Army at the time—during the Korean War and crashed on a flight over China.

The Chinese charged that they were employes of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) and tried them before a military tribunal.

They were found guilty and sentenced in 1954. Downey was given a life sentence. Fecteau, 44, Lynn, Mass. was sentenced to 20 years in prison.

Miss Harbert was aboard a yacht captured by the Chinese in April, 1968, in the Pearl River estuary, near Hong Kong and Japan.

In announcing her release, the Chinese said that "another American, Gerald Ross McLaughlin, male, who illegally introduced into China's territorial waters on the same yacht with M. A. Harbert, was also detained. During detention, the culprit behaved badly, resisted investigation and, taking the warders unawares, committed suicide on March 7, 1969."

The Chinese never reported the capture of the two Americans and did not give any information on their home addresses when the release of Miss Harbert was announced.

Police Auction Brings In $885 To City Coffers

A San Rafael Police Department auction Saturday collected $885 for the city's general fund.

San Rafael City Mgr. James H. McCown said about 225 persons attended the auction at Albert Park.

Auctioned were unclaimed goods confiscated by police from suspects or turned into police.

A watch which was sold for $48 brought the highest priced item, McCown said.

A progress report on changes in the teaching program for the fourth, fifth and sixth grades will be presented to the Lagunitas School District Board when it meets at 7:30 p.m. today at San Geronimo Valley Elementary School.

The board will also open bids for a new school bus at the meeting.

Protest Of Bus Service On Agenda

The Fairfax City Council will be asked tonight to protest the Fairfax service of the Golden Gate transit system which began its intra-county bus service today.

City Adm. Robert E. Crowe said the service ends at Broadway and Bolinas Road, but that city officials had been told previously by the bridge district representatives that the bus routes would terminate at Olema Road and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard — about two miles farther west.

Crowe said he would ask the council to go on record against the bus route and to insist that the transit system comply with its original outline of the route to Olema Road.

At its 8 p.m. meeting at the Fairfax Women's Club, the council will also consider a request from the city of San Anselmo that Fairfax join it in seeking to have the next phase of the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control project put in an underground conduit.

Petaluma Man Pleads Guilty In Knife Case

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Mark D. Souza, 32, of Petaluma, has pleaded guilty in Sonoma County Superior court to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Souza changed his previous innocent plea after the charge was reduced from assault with intent to commit murder.

Judge Joseph P. Murphy Jr. set sentencing for Dec. 20 and indicated he might send Souza to the California Medical Facility at Vacaville for a three-month psychiatric evaluation before sentencing.

Souza was arrested Oct. 11 after stabbing his estranged wife, Carolyn, 21, with a knife during an argument at her home in Petaluma.

Traffic Chase Brings Charges

A near accident Saturday night started a chase of one car by another around San Rafael streets, ending with one man arrested on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon and hit-and-run driving.

Christopher Jay Wooton, 18, no known address, was held in Marin County Jail in lieu of $1,000 bail to appear this afternoon in Marin Municipal Court.

Police reported that shortly after 9 p.m., Robert Edmonds O'Rielly of 2 Bungalow Avenue, Mill Valley, was stopped northbound on Irwin Street at Second Street. Police were uncertain what started the trouble, but Wooton chased O'Rielly around the city's streets, bumping his car twice, trying to force it off the street. O'Rielly escaped the other car, according to police.

Wooton was arrested later in front of 120 Trellis Drive.

Food Sought For Baskets

The Novato Christmas Giving Committee is seeking food to fill baskets for 150 needy families in the city, according to Rev. Eugene Quinones, committee chairman.

Father Quinones said nonperishable foods are being accepted at Our Lady of Loretto Church, 1806 Novato Boulevard, from 1 to 4 p.m. Mondays through Fridays and 10 a.m. to noon Saturdays. Donors may also contribute funds to purchase food.

Anyone who wishes to contribute toys or clothing may do so at the Economic Opportunity Council office at 875 Grant Avenue, he said.

U.S. government-subsidized SST.

Nixon traveled by helicopter from Lajes Air Force Base, where he spent the night, to Angra, the island capital. The flight took about twice as long as necessary to permit him to take a close look at the cliff-lined coastline.

The President was accompanied by Secretary of State William P. Rogers, Treasury Secretary John B. Connally and Ambassador-at-Large David Kennedy, a key negotiator.

It appeared economic relations would produce the toughest talk in the two meetings scheduled today and the third on Tuesday. But Nixon also was reported particularly anxious to discuss with Pompidou the latest developments in the Indian-Pakistan war with special concern for what role the Soviet Union might take.

Nixon had stressed the important matters would probably not be seen by the public.

Board To Face Book Decision

The San Rafael Board of Education is slated to act on the controversial book, "The Movement Toward A New America," at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the city schools' office, Third and E streets.

Complaints were lodged against the book, used by Virginia Franklin in an American Government class at San Rafael High School, in a heated board session in October.

Supt. John F. Plank and a staff committee are scheduled to report on the matter before the board acts.

Critics have described the book as a "revolutionary kit," and Mrs. Franklin has replied she intended to use only portions of it to teach senior students propaganda techniques.

Young Pot Suspects Arrested In Larkspur

Three 17-year-old San Bruno youths were arrested yesterday on suspicion of possessing marijuana and equipment for smoking it, according to Larkspur police.

The three were arrested about 9:50 a.m. in a panel truck at 17 Upper Ardmore Road after a resident of the neighborhood reported a suspicious vehicle had been parked there all night, police said.

Tito Fighting For Life Of Yugoslavia

VIENNA (UPI) — President Tito, in what may be his last hurrah, is fighting for the life of Yugoslavia.

The enemy, as Tito himself has said, is the old Balkan bugaboo — nationalism. The threat is so great that Yugoslavia — a unified nation for only 53 years — may not survive.

Yugoslavia is a federation of six republics or provinces—the prosperous Croatia and Slovenia in the northwest, the powerful Serbia in the center and, to the south and southeast, the rugged and relatively backward Macedonia, Montenegro and Bosnia-Herce-Govina.

The six have little in common. Croatia and Slovenia, with their capitals of Zagreb and Ljubljana, once belonged to the Austrian Empire and are western in atmosphere. They are Roman Catholic and feel themselves superior to other Yugoslavs.

Serbia (Belgrade) and the other provinces labored under the Turks for centuries. Orthodoxy or Islam predominate and the atmosphere is more Byzantine than Western.

Each republic has its own history, customs and national pride. None like the others very much. But the greatest enmity has always been between the proud and western Croats and Zagreb and the powerful and eastern Serbs of Belgrade.

There have been recent Serbian-Croatian street brawls. Croatian professors have been expelled from the party for preaching nationalism. One angry Croatian scholar raged recently:

"Since the war we have been robbed by Belgrade. I'm a Croat first, a Yugoslav later. I hope Yugoslavia survives, but my loyalties are to Croatia."

This, to a great degree, is what the current crisis is all about.

After World War II, when Communist Yugoslavia was born, Serbia and its police ran all Yugoslavia — including Croatia — with an iron hand. That ended in 1966 and, since then, Croatia and the other republics have won a degree of autonomy from the central government unknown in other Communist countries.

Constitutional amendments enacted in September gave the republics an extreme form of "state's rights" and left Belgrade with little to control beyond the army, foreign policy and exchange rates.

Tito, who is 79 now, also set up a 22-man "collective presidency" with representatives from each republic, to run Yugoslavia when he is gone. The idea behind this, and the other reforms, was to give each republic a vital stake in the preservation of Yugoslavia as a whole.

Croats were happy with the reforms and praised their local Croat Communist Party — itself largely independent from Belgrade — for leading the way. But things quickly soured.

Negotiations began on how much precious foreign currency which Croatia earns from its industries and resorts must be shared with Belgrade. Students in Zagreb went on strike to push for a bigger share for Croatia. The Communist party of Croatia praised the strike with faint condemnations.

Tito, infuriated, accused the Croat Communists of "rotten liberalism" and called for purges. His intervention has ended similar crises of nationalism in the past, but passions run high in Croatia and no one knew what would happen now — or later, when Tito steps down.

"Croat nationalism is terribly romantic," a diplomat noted.

A Study Shows Smoking Worse Than Some Smog

BOCHUM, Germany (UPI)—Heavy smoking appears to cause more coughing, sputum and difficulty in breathing than the industrial smog of this coal-mining and steel-making region, according to a study by the Silicosis Institute.

Professors Wolfgang T. Ulmer and Gerhard Reichel based their analysis on a six-year survey of more than 8,100 persons. The results of their study have been sent to the World Health Organization.

Attacks of coughing, sputum and difficulty in breathing appeared twc or three times as often among heavy smokers of advanced age as among nonsmokers, Ulmer and Reichel reported.

But they produced no evidence to indicate pollution of the air in the industrialized area caused any increase in general respiratory ailments.

Air pollution could reach a specific limit beyond which bronchial infections would increase, the two men said. But they insisted that point has not yet been reached in Germany's industrial regions.

Indians Receive Christmas Bounty

ST. MICHAEL'S, Ariz. (UPI) —The annual Christmas drive for the sprawling Navajo Indian reservations was "successful beyond all expectations," according to a project spokesman.

An estimated 20 tons of food, clothing, toys and medical supplies arrived Saturday.

Library Stands Ready With Valuable Medical Facts

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—A library crew at the University of Utah claims it "covers the nation" on behalf of medical men scattered over a sparsely populated 300,000 square miles in the West.

A professional staff, working in a building dedicated in October, does for physicians what librarians do best.

"We collect information," according to the medical librarian, "from books, treatises or magazines in the library or through a nationwide computer system.

"We pull it together for medical men who want to know the latest developments on a problem with which they or their patients are faced."

The library's function is to get those in the health professions "in the know" in the shortest time. The Spencer Eccles Library relies on its own collection and an affiliation with a national system of medical libraries.

"Our job is service," according to Mrs. Priscilla Mayden, who acts as a chief helper for medical men in Utah and parts of five surrounding states.

It's part of one of the least-told stories about the nation's medical centers, according to Mrs. Mayden, the University of Utah's medical librarian.

The library serves halfforgotten gambling towns of Nevada, Indian villages in Utah and sugar beet and cattle country in parts of Idaho, Wyoming, Montana and Colorado as well as the metropolitan Salt Lake area.

"It is our business to get the tremendous flow of today's medical information to doctors, nurses, hospitals and pharmacists when they request it," Mrs. Mayden said.

Their questions can range from the psychiatric aspects of home kidney dialysis to bladder disorders, pregnancy complications or statistics on diseases that strike Americans every year.

Golden Gate Span Due Brighter Lights

The Golden Gate Bridge will get new lights for its roadway, and a new generator to keep them lighted in emergencies.

Bridge district directors voted Friday to call bids for about $36,000 worth of new, high-intensity light fixtures to replace obsolete lights now serving the roadway. The new fixtures will be installed by bridge crews.

The directors also asked bids for a new generator to replace the 30-year-old standby unit for the bridge lights. Estimated cost is $177,000, including design work.

Golden Gate Bridge District directors also:

BUSES — Paid current bills totaling $6,652,839, the largest sum paid since completion of the bridge in 1937. One bill was for $5,815,272 from General Motors Corp. for the 132 new buses.

PARKING — Approved enlarging the toll plaza parking area, but rejected a staff proposal to fence the maintenance area and employees parking lot at a cost of $12,000.

SAUSALITO — Endorsed design of a canopy over the loading area for the Sausalito ferry terminal large enough to protect about 250 people, asked the City of Sausalito for a longer-term use permit than the present renewable 90-day lease.

NOISE — Authorized measurement of sound levels at toll booths, in the shop and at sandblasting operations to forestall impairment of hearing to employees, and asked for a cost estimate on studying fumes in the toll booths.

SANTA ROSA — Allocated $5,000 for architectural design of the Santa Rosa bus terminal by the firm of Sverdrup and Parcel.

STATE — Approved a lease with the state to park commuter buses midday in San Francisco at $1,800 a month for five years.

TRAFFIC — Received a report that average daily traffic in November was 89,486 vehicles, up 4.61 per cent over November last year.

FERRY — Received report that 68,824 passengers rode the Sausalito ferry last month, up 40.7 per cent over the patronage in November last year.

GREYHOUND — Leased 20 buses for Greyhound Lines at a cost of $146 each for the next six months, and $300 the following six months, and authorized the staff to amend an application for a $6.1 million federal grant to cover as well two-thirds of the cost of 20 more new buses at a cost of about $45,000 each.

NOVATO — Leased temporary parking and office space for the Novato satellite bus facility at the Sportsman Lodge for $500 a month pending purchase of a permanent site for about 25 buses.

INSURANCE — Derailed a committee recommendation challenging the district's insurance broker, Marsh and McLennan Inc., and giving another firm a chance at the business, with more than $500,000 a year in premiums at stake. Director Dean N. Meyer of Mill Valley, long a proponent of such a change, said the last-minute switch back to Marsh and McLennan "smells." The recommended change was derailed by an almost solid vote by San Francisco directors, led by Supervisor Ronald Pelosi.

RAILROAD — Appealed to Southern Pacific Railroad Co. to postpone until Jan. 15 further sale of its surplus right-of-way south of Corte Madera. The district plans to buy the right-of-way for transit use.

BICYCLES — Approved paving about 300 feet of path from the end of the bicycle bridge connecting the span with Fort Baker, but refused a staff recommendation that Conzelman Road also be paved for safety reasons. The Army should pay for paving its own road, directors said, but the staff said the Army already had indicated disinterest in paving the road.

SIGNS — Rejected a single bid by Air Cooled Engine Exchange of San Rafael to supply 1,000 bus stop signs and poles for $38,900, way over the staff estimate of $15,000. The sign will be redesigned and readvertised for new bids, and temporary signs used in the meantime.

PROGRAMMER — Approved hiring a computer programmer-analyst at a maximum salary of $1,200 a month.

MEETING — Rescheduled the second monthly meeting from Dec. 31 to Dec. 22 in toll plaza offices at 10 a.m.

Pot Penalty May Lower

On a 22-12 vote, the Senate agreed to go along with a House-Senate compromise on a bill reworking the state's drug laws.

The bill would change the penalty for possession of marijuana from a 10-year felony to a misdemeanor punishable by one-year in jail and $1,000 fine.

Campbell Taggart Declares Dividend

DALLAS (BW) — Campbell Taggart Inc., the nation's second largest producer of bakery and refrigerated-dough products, has declared its 129th regular dividend of 25 cents per share on its common stock, payable Jan. 7 to shareholders of record Dec. 21.

The company products are sold under the brand names of Rainbo, Colonial, Manor, Kilpatrick's, Merico and Bimbo (Spain).

More Fuel For Market's Big Rally

NEW YORK (UPI)—Wall Street's year-end rally, which has been high stepping since Thanksgiving, got a little more fuel today.

Much of the new demand for stocks stemmed from reductions in key bank lending rates.

Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. sliced the prime interest rate—the rate it charges most creditworthy customers — to 5 1-4 per cent from 5 1-2 per cent. This came on the heels of Friday's reduction in the Federal Reserve's discount rate to 4 1-2 per cent from 4 3-4 per cent. The discount rate is the interest the Fed charges its member commercial banks for short-term loans.

Newton Zinder, senior analyst for E. F. Hutton & Co., called the market advance "a reflection of the cut in key interest rates and a better feeling about the corporate profit taking for 1972."

A Wall Street Journal story suggested that investor concern that Phase Two of President Nixon's economic program will hamper corporate profits next year may be wholly unwarranted.

Prices also moved higher in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Toy Product Line Is Sold

HAWTHORNE (BW) — Eldon Industries Inc. (OTC) has signed an agreement to sell its toy product lines and some of its related toy assets to Leisure Dynamics Inc. of Minneapolis for a combination of cash, notes and common stock, estimated to have a value of $6 million.

Actual sales price will be determined upon completion of the year-end audit, Eldon spokesmen said.

Consummation of the transaction is expected to take place before the end of the year.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER J. WIKEL

Decision-Making Time On Taking All Income Or Wait Until 1972

Now is the time to take a good hard look at your 1971 income and make a decision. Should you take all of the income you can get into 1971, or should you postpone all of the income possible until 1972.

The same is true of your deductions. Should you pay all of your expenses now in 1971 in order to claim the deduction against 1971 income, or should you save them and use them in 1972 against 1972 income.

For the cash basis taxpayer, and that is most of us, some of these things can be controlled.

Let's look at our tax picture and at our crystal ball and see what we can determine.

If your income is going to be substantially the same in 1971 and 1972 without fooling with it, then possibly the best thing to do is nothing.

PUT TAX OFF

If your income is going to be very large in 1971, and not so large in 1972, then the best thing to do is put off until 1972 any income you can and to accelerate into 1971 any expenses that you can.

But, be sure to check your posible tax results with income averaging under the new rules. If you have had a low income in your base period, a large income in 1971 might be taxed less than if you deferred part of it to 1972.

Conversely, if 1972 will produce a large income and 1971 is small, perhaps you should defer deductions until 1972 and get all the income in 1971 you can.

TRY AND BALANCE

In other words, the idea is to try and balance them so that you will have an equal amount of taxable income each year.

Let's look at the current tax situation.

The following tax cuts will go into effect next year:

Personal exemption up from $675 to $700.

Standard deduction up from 13 per cent of income with a $1,500 limit to 14 per cent with a $2,000 limit.

Maximum tax rate on earned income decreases from 60 to 50 per cent.

Actually, we don't know what is going to happen for 1972 taxes, but I go along with Will Rogers. Over thrity years ago he made a statement that is still true today, "the only sure thing is death and taxes . . . and death don't get worse every time Congress meets."

Sears Point Strip May Reopen By Next Spring

A strong possibility that the Sears Point International Raceway in Sonoma County will be conducting motor races again by spring is being held forth by W. Craig Murray, who headed the operation before it was closed down about 18 months ago.

So confident is Murray in completion of his plan announced last April to raise $1.5 million and purchase the speedway from the parent company, Filmways, Inc., of Beverly Hills, that he has scheduled a drag race for March 18 and 19.

Syntex Deal Consummated

PALO ALTO (BW) — The acquisition by Syntex Laboratories Inc. of Diamond Laboratories Inc. has been consummated, spokesmen for the two companies have announced.

Under terms of the agreement, acquisition has been made through Diamond Laboratories Inc., a newly formed wholly owned subsidiary of Syntex Laboratories, in exchange for 297,500 shares of Syntex Corp. common stock and the assumption by Syntex Laboratories of the book liabilities of the acquired company.

Business and operations of Diamond will be continued under the same management.

Murray now heads a group which is purchasing the raceway and related improvements (approximately 288 acres) for $939,000. The remaining property of approximately 400 acres at the junction of Highways 37 and 121 will be retained by Filmways. It is zoned light industrial and was originally intended for other use.

According to the group's registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission and preliminary prospectus of Oct. 1, there will be two companies — Sears Point Properties, Ltd., which will own all the real estate and improvements, and SPIR, Inc., which will lease the entire facilities from Sears Point Properties and operate them.

If approved by the commission, a public offering would be made of combination units consisting of one limited partnership interest in Sears Point Properties and 50 shares of common stock in SPIR, Inc. Murray reports that it would be the first combination offering of this kind ever made. The limited partnership and common stock would be separated at the completion of the underwriting. Murray hopes to have commission approval to "go public" by the first of the year.

Underwriting the offer will be Waldron and Co., of which Murray is presently director of finance. He plans to resign from the company if the registration statement is approved.

Murray is president and director of SPIR, Inc. Neil E. Shooter is vice-president and director; John C. Brawner is secretary, treasurer and director. Other directors are Darrel O. Holleyman, Paul Mendelsohn, George Follner, Dan Gurney and Peter Revson.

Murray's father, William S. Murray, an officer of Simons Machinery Co., San Francisco, is the general partner in Sears Point Properties.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

General Host Bond Comment Sought

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. General Host's 7's of 1994 have been recommended to me for purchase. I am retired and have $10,000 available for investment. The liberal income afforded on this bond would be very helpful. The company has had difficulties in the past but I understand that income from the Cudahy investment alone is sufficient to pay interest on this bond. Would you comment on this bond? — E.M.

A. General Host acquired 85.6 per cent control of Cudahy which in fiscal 1971 earned $3.2 million. Interest expenses on General's $190 million in long term debt runs $14 million annually. Company recently reported earnings for the first nine months through Oct. 31, 1971, including Cudahy from July 15. Earnings of $5.92 million for the period included $5.36 million realized from the sale of assets. Earned income from operations therefore amounted to only $564,000. In fiscal 1969 and 1970 deficits of $3.52 and $2.09 a share were reported.

The debt issue you are interested in is rated CCC, a grade which is reserved for outright speculations. A direct unsecured debt of the company, the issue is subordinated to senior debt. The current yield of over 12 per cent and yield to maturity of 10.5 per cent indicative of the high risk inherent in this obligation. Unless you can afford to assume that degree of risk I would certainly advise settling for a lower but more secure income.

Q. On what date in August did the American Express $2.30 convertible preferred go ex-dividend? If a sale occurs on or after the ex-date who is entitled to the dividend? What is the last date this stock can be converted to common? — H.G.

A. The conversion privilege on these shares is discretionary. However, in the event of redemption of this issue by the company, conversion would have to be completed no later than the fifth day preceding redemption.

The ex-dividend date was Aug. 30. Shares sold on or after that are sold "ex" or without the dividend. Therefore, the seller and not the buyer is entitled to the dividend.

Plans For Tennis Club Gets Boost

Plans for the $3 million Olive Ridge Tennis Club, near Blackpoint, havereceived favorable reaction from members of the Black Point Improvement Club, according to vice president Peter P. Yarish.

Plans for the development, which would include 21 club courts and 12 public courts, were presented to members Friday night by Attila Quartaroli, San Francisco contractor, project developer.

"The reaction was good," Yarish reported. Members felt the courts would be better than other possible uses of the site at Olive Avenue and Deer Island Lane, he said.

After the meeting, members held a birthday party for Mignon McDonald, who celebrated her 90th birthday anniversary Thursday. The club meets in the rumpus room of the McDonald home at 81 Manzanita Avenue.

Marriage Solves Video Problem

MARTINEZ (UPI) — Virgil Ramsey, 76, married Eileen Renia, 60, at a convalescent hospital Sunday and put an end to their television blues.

The elderly patients had been banned from late night television viewing by a state law prohibiting single couples in a convalescent hospital from watching the late show together.

A nurse said about 50 persons attended the ceremony with "champagne, punch and cake afterwards" and added there shouldn't be any quarrels over what television program they'll watch.

"He said he'll watch anything that happens to be on," the nurse said.

Florence Planning A Subway System

FLORENCE, Italy (UPI)— Florence is planning to become the third Italian city after Rome and Milan to give itself a subway.

According to a tentative blueprint, subway lines through the center of the city would pass under the middle of streets to avoid weakening foundations of historic buildings.

Volcano Poses Slide Dangers?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mt. Rainier, the 14,410-foot dormant volcano that dominate's western Washington's skyline, would be more likely to fill surrounding valleys with rock and mud than with hot lava and ash should it erupt again, according to a new report.

Dr. Dwight R. Crandell, a U.S. Geological Survey geologist, said an earthquake or volcanic explosion could send huge masses of rock and mud thundering down Rainier's slopes at some future time.

Crandell in a weekend report said "lahars" —an Indonesian word used to describe rock slides on the slopes of volcanoes — appear now to be the greatest hazard in any future eruption.

Does More Than Help Shrink Swelling Of Hemorrhoidal Tissues Due To Infection
Also Gives Prompt, Temporary Relief in Many Cases from Pain, Itching in Such Tissues.

Doctors have found a remarkably successful medication that actually helps shrink swelling of hemorrhoidal tissues when infected and inflamed. And it does more. In many cases it gives relief for hours from pain and itching in these tissues. Tests by doctors proved this true in many cases.

The medication used was Preparation H. And no prescription is needed for Preparation H.® Ointment or suppositories.

GIVE YOUR CHILD THIS TEST

Have him read List I and then List II.
Note the number of words misread in each list.

LIST I		LIST II
green	nine	dirty	cage
egg	chicken	war	hundred
play	boat	base	fork
baby	grandmother	giraffe	broken
ten	seven	match	doctor
walk	yellow	young	kill
apple	bed	alarm	radio
three	street	music	decide
big	little	sweet	forgot
fish	school	pencil	spoon

A third grade child who can read most of the words in List I but few in List II has learned to read words one at a time by memorizing them as wholes (the look-say approach).

A child who has truly learned to read can read correctly almost all the words in both lists.

How well is your third-grader learning to read? A child cannot keep up in school by memorizing words.

Come to the Sullivan Reading Center to see how we teach reading skills. It's a good system. We'll even unconditionally guarantee your child's progress in our program, or return your money.

Give the test. Maybe the Sullivan Reading Centers should be helping your child to READ.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

The Foolish Player Is Wrong When He Believes In 'Luck'

Is contract bridge a game of luck or a game of skill? If you listened attentively to the surface complaints of the 40 million bridge players in North America you might think that luck played an important role in the game, but readers of this column can dig below the surface. They don't have to dig very far with today's hand.

RETURNS SPADE

East took the ace of spades and returned a spade for his partner to ruff. West then led the king of clubs to dummy's ace.

South led out the ace and king of hearts, discovering that he would have to lose a trump trick. He started on the diamonds at once, hoping to discard his losing club, but East ruffed the third diamond. South had to ruff the spade return and surrender the setting trick to the queen of clubs.

South moaned piteously about his bad luck. He would have made the game if there hadn't been a spade ruff, or if West had held three trumps instead of only two, if West hadn't returned a club, or if East had held three or more diamonds.

NO SYMPATHY

Readers of this column are the tenderest hearted creatures in the world, but they have no sympathy for South. He dug his own grave.

West's spade ruff proved that East had started with seven spades. West's discard on the second trump showed that East had started with three trumps. East could have only three other cards, and he had already played one club. Therefore East couldn't possibly have as many as three diamonds.

ONLY CHANCE

South's only chance was to lead a third trump before running the diamonds. East would be unable to lead a club, and South would then be able to run the diamonds safely to discard his losing club.

What if South's bad luck is that he can't think clearly when he plays the cards? Then he should double three spades and collect a modest profit instead of demonstrating his infirmity as a declarer. There are no unlucky bridge players, there are only bad players afflicted with self-pity.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:
♥ - 6 4
♦ - 8 5 2
♣ - K Q 9 8 7 4 2.
What do you say.

ANSWER: Pass if vulnerable. Bid three clubs if non-vulnerable, particularly if the opponents are vulnerable. You would prefer to have the jack of clubs as well as the king and queen, but the actual suit is good enough for the shutout bid.

Called "Pentaram," the shows revolve around Malaysia's national ideology and new economic policy. They also preach racial harmony between the Malay majority and the Chinese minority. One recent show had an audience of 10,000.

ORR HEARINGS

Chief's Outbursts Are Described

A Fairfax police officer has testified that he saw ousted Police Chief James R. Orr lose his temper "more than four or five times" in the police station after the chief had been drinking.

Patrolman Alan R. Wernstrum so testified when called to the stand Saturday before the Fairfax Board of Review, which is hearing Orr's appeal against his firing in September by City Mgr. Robert E. Crowe. The firing later was upheld by a 3-2 vote of the city council.

Under direct questioning by City Atty. Wallace S. Myers, Wernstrum repeated many of the complaints about Orr's regime made by earlier witnesses and contained in the list of charges on which Crowe based the firing. Wernstrum is to be cross-examined tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in the Fairfax Women's Club.

Morale in the department was "on a rather low note" because of lack of a chain of command, orders being issued directly by police clerk Marsha S. Kittelman, lack of equipment "to do a good job," lack of training, and lack of direction in the use and care of guns and other equipment, Wernstrum told the review board in direct examination.

Wernstrum testified that one occasion when Orr showed anger was a night when the patrolman had locked the rear door to the station, although Orr had instructed it be kept unlocked.

"I preferred the door be locked" when alone in the office, Wernstrum testified. He said the chief "practically beat the door down" and "stormed by me" after admission. "I wouldn't say he was intoxicated, but he had been drinking," Wernstrum said on the stand.

After sparring between Myers and Orr's attorney, Leonard Shaw, over how frequently Wernstrum had seen Orr lose his temper and show signs of drinking, the patrolman testified "more than four or five times," but did not specify the occasions.

Wernstrum said that he had difficulty learning when police training courses were available, but "I requested to take many courses. I eventually was asked by Mister Orr if I wanted to be a policeman or wanted to go to school."

Wernstrum added that the chief was hostile to the officers' daily activity logs inaugurated afterinsistence by the Fairfax Police Officers Association. "He called it a 'lie sheet' and wasn't for it," Wernstrum testified.

Wernstrum complained that patrolmen "received orders from all over," many of them from Mrs. Kittelman. "I received orders from Mrs. Kittelman that didn't appear to come from the chief," he testified.

Mrs. Kittelman figured prominently in the charges by Crowe, who accused the chief of favoring her over men in the department, improperly appointing her as a policewoman, and having improper social relationships with her.

Earlier Saturday, former Fairfax police cadet Lynn S. Welter, now a Sausalito patrolman, was cross-examined by Shaw.

Welter testified that he "complained continually to Mrs. Kittelman, the chief and the sergeants" that the woman was passing her regular duties on to the cadets.

Welter singled out one order last Dec. 14 signed by Orr, instructing him to do monthly reports that Mrs. Kittelman had always done. Welter admitted he composed a written reply that brought a reprimand from Orr, Shaw brought out.

Welter admitted adding a note below Orr's orders, that read: "Dearest Marsha: This is obviously another trick of yours . . ." to load the cadet with more work by getting the chief to sign an order.

Orr followed that up with a note to Welter instructing him "not to leave memos about implying someone 'forced' " the chief to sign anything, Welter testified.

Welter told the review board he resigned the following New Year's Eve because "the work and the situation became unbearable. There wasn't any future in the department . . . morale was extremely low."

Saturday's session was attended by about 20 persons, including City Councilman Robert R. Souza.

Gate Span Collision Kills 1, Injures 3

A Guerneville woman was killed and three other persons injured yesterday when a speeding car crossed the center divider on the Golden Gate Bridge and slammed into three northbound cars.

Julia May Languille, 52, a retired secretary for a San Francisco mortuary, was dead on arrival at Marin General Hospital following the 12:15 a.m. accident, the Marin County Coroner's office reported.

She was a passenger in a car driven by Thomas P. Scott, 52, of 386 Elm Avenue, Larkspur.

Reported in satisfactory condition today at the hospital were Scott, his wife, Lorraine, and Carlos John Flores, 35, of San Francisco, driver of the wrong-way vehicle.

Hospital officials said Scott had a broken leg and arm bone while his wife received cuts and a broken right arm. Flores suffered multiple face and leg cuts.

According to the California Highway Patrol, Flores's car, southbound on the bridge near the north tower, crossed the center line and collided head-on with Scott's car.

Officers said the Flores vehicle then sideswiped two other northbound cars, driven by George V. D. Newhart, 28, of 160 East Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley, and John E. Anderson, 28, of 1539 Lincoln Avenue, Apt. 7, San Rafael. Neither was injured.

The patrol said a witness told them the Flores car was weaving and alternately accelerating and slowing as it drove along the Sausalito lateral. As it reached the bridge, the patrol quoted the witness as saying, the car accelerated rapidly, crossed the cone divider and collided with the other three cars.

Mrs. Languilla worked for 15 years as a secretary for the McAvoy O'Hara Co., a San Francisco mortuary. Before that she was a secretary at the California State Automobile Association, San Francisco. She retired three years ago.

She is survived by a brother, Morris Cooney, of San Francisco, and a sister, Elizabeth Buckley, of Daly City.

Mass of the Resurrection will be celebrated at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday at St. Thomas More's Church, San Francisco. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the McAvoy O'Hara Co. Burial will be at Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

Mrs. Languille was Marin's 32nd traffic fatality this year, compared to 38 at this time last year.

School Board To Receive Guides

The Novato Unified School District board is scheduled to receive guidelines on food sales at elementary schools at a meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Novato High School lecture hall.

Trustees agreed last month to lift the ban on food sales subject to approval of the guidelines to be submitted by the food sales committee of the North Marin Council of the Parent-Teacher Association.

Elks Favor Ousters In Berkeley

Legal action to remove from office members of the Berkeley City Council who voted to give sanctuary to war dissenters and armed forces deserters has been urged by San Rafael Lodge 1108, B.P.O. Elks.

In a letter to Atty. Gen. John Mitchell, Gov. Ronald Reagan, California Atty. Gen. Evelle J. Younger, and U.S. Dist. Atty. James Browning Jr., the lodge's Americanism committee declared:

"This action (of the Berkeley councilmen) is in open defiance of our form of government and laws and is overtly giving aid to and abetting the enemies of this United States of America by encouraging desertion among members of our armed forces, providing aid and comfort to draft resisters and offering asylum to both of these groups.

"The people perpetuating this unthinkable act should not be allowed to flaunt the laws which they swore to 'obey and uphold' when taking office."

The letter was signed by Walter S. Filler, Americanism committee chairman.

Woman Hurt In Auto Crash

A Fairfax woman was injured yesterday when her car skidded and hit two parked cars early, Fairfax police reported.

Leah D. Danley, 51, of 49 Hillside Drive was treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut lip and bump on her arm.

She lost control of her car at 6:20 a.m. in the heavy rain and skidded into two cars on the 200 block of Bolinas Road, police reported. The cars were owned by Arthur Atwood of 88 Hazel Avenue, Larkspur and Hertz Rent-A-Car.

Mysterious Tunnel Blast Fatal To 22

PORT HURON, Mich. (UPI) —A mishap-plagued water tunnel project where 22 construction workers were killed in a gas explosion must be completed if the water needs of southeast Michigan are to be met this century, a water services official said Sunday.

"We have to complete it," said Gerald Remus, general manager for the Detroit Metropolitan Water Services. "There is no question about that."

The bodies of the victims of Saturday's explosion were removed from the 250-foot deep pit Sunday but only 18 could be positively identified. Eight workers remained hospitalized, six in serious condition. Fourteen workers escaped injury.

The workers were pouring a concrete liner for the tunnel about a mile from its start when methane gas ignited and sent an explosive force ripping through the tunnel.

"People and bodies just went flying everywhere, just like a bomb," said Richard Green," 27, one of the eight men seriously injured in the blast.

Volunteer fireman Bob Messe was one of the first to crawl to the explosion site.

"It was unbelievable," he said. "My eyes couldn't believe it. What it did to the steel alone in that tunnel was unbelievable, let alone what it did to the bodies."

Meese said it looked "like a bomb went off in there."

Project officials would not speculate on the cause until state safety inspectors complete their investigations.

The $120 million project which began in the spring of 1968 has been plagued by a series of mishaps —collapses and weather damage. Until Saturday there had been only one fatality.

Remus said plans were underway to resume construction. The six-mile tunnel was designed to help carry clean Lake Huron water to Detroit and 85 other southeast Michigan communities.

State Labor Director Barry Brown said the force of Saturday's blast —which dismembered many of the victims — indicates a vein of methane (swamp gas) was unexpectedly tapped and ignited. He said investigators would look for a "breakthrough" in the shale lake bottom that could have yielded methane.

Only months after the project started in 1968 one of the cofferdams collapsed and a construction company which was later released from its contract charged in a court suit that the lake base was unstable.

In December, 1970, five of the seven cofferdams —used to create a dry hole five miles out in Lake Huron —collapsed in a violent storm, causing $5.5 million in damage.

Last month, another storm damaged the cofferdam cells again, causing another delay.

Health Planners Due Proposals

Two proposals by Regional Medical Programs, a Bay Area group concerned with medical education, will be presented to the Comprehensive Health Planning Council of Marin at 7:30 a.m. Wednesday at Marin General Hospital.

The group will present proposals on education in community hospitals and a regional cancer program, according to Michael Ingerman, health planning coordinator.

Council members also will receive a request from Marin Home Care to act as its advisory board.

Record-Breaking Cyclist Injured

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Motorcyclist Joe Einhorn was "in good spirits and talkative" today despite a broken nose and concussion.

The daredevil stuntman leaped 14 parked cars at an exhibition Saturday and claimed a new indoor cycle jump record. However, he was injured when he slammed into a bale of hay while attempting to match the record leap a second time.

His jump carried him 118 feet —and one car more than cyclist Evel Kneivel cleared recently in Portland, Ore.

Einhor, 23, Richmond, Calif., broke his back attempting a similar leap several months ago.

Session Off

The regular meeting of the Marin County Housing Authority, scheduled for Wednesday, will not be held because the authority and redevelopment agency has held several meetings in the past two weeks, according to Wallace K. Shepherd, executive director for both groups.

Crash Victim Satisfactory

A San Rafael man was reported in satisfactory condition today in the intensive care unit at Marin General Hospital where he was being treated for injuries received Thursday when his motorcycle collided with a car.

Allen R. Gotch, 25, of 254 Alpine Street, suffered a broken left arm, multiple facial fractures and head injuries, according to a hospital spokesman.

Police said he was driving his motorcycle east on Mission Avenue about 3:30 p.m. when he collided with a car driven by Leon M. Urban, 40, of 134 Morningside Drive, San Anselmo. The accident occurred at the intersection of E Street.

Sewage Plan Will Be Distributed

Directors of the Stinson Beach County Water District, after listening to a proposal for a sewerage system for the community, has authorized the printing of copies of the plan for distribution throughout the community, director John L. Jones reported.

Jones said the board hopes to give residents a chance to study the new plan and discuss it. The board will hold several meetings on the proposal in the next few weeks, she said.

The plan, prepared by consultants Frank M. Stead and George Tchobanoglous, calls for use of sewers only in areas where septic tanks are failing or impractical because of lot size and terrain.

It also proposes a treatment plant and a percolation gallery in the sand dune area of Stinson Beach where treated wastes could be disposed of by draining into the ground.

It also suggests recycling of liquid and solid wastes on hillside and in the Stinson Beach State Park and Point Reyes National Sashore.

Success Of Education Bills In Legislature

(Editors note: The California legislature met for a record 11 months this year. What were its accomplishments and failings? This is the first of a series seeking to answer that question. This article concerns education.)

By P. ALFIERI JONES

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — When the legislature considered education this year, the two issues which captured the most interest were sex and money. Both drew vetoes from Gov. Ronald Reagan.

In August, the State Supreme Court ruled California's system of financing schools through local property taxes was unconstitutional because the quality of education was forced to depend largely upon local wealth.

Although the cgurt's decision apparently made a major overhaul of school finance inevitable, the legislature put the problem off until the 1972 session.

The most ambitious attempt to meet the court's ruling this year—one the author admitted was doomed from the start—was a $6 billion package by Democrat Leroy Greene of Sacramento, chairman of the Assembly Education Committee.

The plan, which included a statewide property tax to raise funds, died Nov. 9 in the Assembly Ways and Means Committee.

Other major finance measures, including a $256 million proposal by Greene, a $300 million package by Sen. Albert Robda, D-Sacramento, and a plan by Assemblyman John L. E. Collier, R-Los Angeles, to finance schools through a 1½ cent sales tax increase, also were killed in the legislature.

One of the more emtional issues in the legislature was venereal disease education.

A bill by Assemblyman March K. Fong, D-Oakland, would have allowed classroom VD instruction without prior parental consent.

The bill narrowly passed both houses, but was vetoed by Gov. Reagan who said there was already "too much government interference in the family relationship."

Although Reagan said the VD bill was "unnecessary" because the instruction could be given without the measure, Mrs. Fong launched a statewide campaign to muster support for an override of the governor's veto. The Assembly upheld the veto.

Higher education generated its share of controversy, most of it over teachers' salaries.

Reagan vetoed a 10 per cent faculty pay raise from the budget in July. In November, he vetoed another bill appropriating $15.8 million to give the faculty a 7.5 per cent pay increase.

In his veto message, Reagan said the bill would force "the already overburdened wage earners of California to dig yet deeper into their pockets ..."

Angry faculty members charged Reagan's vetoes would lead professors to "leave state service for better-paying jobs elsewhere."

University of California and state college faculty have not had a cost-of-living increase for 2½ years.

One issue which split higher education was the proposal to rename some of the state colleges "state universities." Long sought by the state college system, the change was strongly opposed by the University of California.

But after several unsuccessful attempts in past years, the bill cleared the legislature this session and was signed into law by Reagan.

There is now a controversy over which, if any, of the state colleges deserve to be renamed universities.

In July, Reagan cut from the budget all construction funds for higher education.

But the withholding tax bill he signed provides $80 million in construction money for the university and state colleges. In addition, it furnishes $30 million to bring elementary and high school classrooms up to earthquake safety standards.

The Legislature also placed on the November 1972 general election ballot a proposed $160 million bond issue by Sen. Albert S. Rodda, D-Sacramento, to finance community college construction.

Education bills signed into law this year include:

EARTHQUAKE—A bill by Assemblyman Leroy Greene, D-Sacramento, establishing a state loan fund for school districts so they can bring their classrooms up to earthquake safety standards. The districts can levy a tax of up to 10 cents per $100 assessed valuation without voter approval to pay back the loan.

YEAR-AROUND—Also by Greene, a bill authorizing school districts operating a year-around program to apply for a cut in their payments to the state building aid program. Another bill by Fong, authorizes school districts to conduct experimental year-around classroom programs with the permission of the state superintendent of public instruction.

TENURE—A bill by Assemblyman John Stull, R-Leucadia, revising the procedure for firing a tenured teacher. The measure moves the appeals procedure in firings from the superior courts to three-member panel with representatives of the teacher, the school board and the state Office of Administrative Procedure.

Bills which were unsuccessful included:

VOUCHER—A Bill by Assemblyman Leo Ryan, D-Burlingame, authorizing pilot programs to test the voucher system of school finance. The bill was killed in committee.

BILINGUAL—A Bill by Assemblyman Wadie P. Deddeh establishing statewide programs for students who are not fluent in English. It was vetoed by Reagan.

COUNCIL—A bill by Sen. Alfred Alquist, D-San Jose, expanding the membership of the Coordinating Council for Higher Education. The bill was vetoed by Reagan who said no changes should be made until the council has completed its study of the Master Plan for Higher Education.

SWINDLE— A bill by Rodda establishing a state commission to study the regulation of unaccredited colleges and universities. Supporters contended it would protect students from swindlers, but Reagan vetoed the bill saying he was not convinced it was necessary.

SOME SIMPLE, FUN PROJECTS

How To Keep Those Children Busy

By PAT BALMES

Baking ornaments for the Christmas tree will keep children busy during Christmas vacation.

Other simple projects for young craftsmen are ice candles, organic necklaces, leather bookmarks, pull-tab ornaments, bug catchers and papier mache snack trays, bracelets and pencil holders.

These inexpensive gifts will be on sale, to children only, at Bel-Aire School Parent-Teacher Club Holiday Boutique Wednesday.

Mrs. James Martin, whose Tiburon home is decorated with her own oil paintings, crewel needlework and papier mache decorator assessories, worked with her 9-year-old daughter, Laura, on some of these items and shares her instructions with I-J readers, whose children may enjoy making things during the holidays.

BAKER'S DOUGH ORNAMENTS

3 cups flour (add ½ cup more in kneading)
1 cup salt
1½ cups water

Dissolve salt in water. Add flour and mix well. Knead for five to 15 minutes, adding flour. Roll out dough about one-quarter inch thick. Use cookie cutters or cut your own design with a knife. Be sure to make a hole at the top before baking ornament. Dough will puff slightly. A garlic press makes hair. Bake at 350 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes or until cookie feels firm.

After ornaments cool an hour, paint them with poster or acrylic paints, then shellac.

ICE CANDLES

½ gallon milk carton
Old crayons (3)
Old candle
Chunks of white wax, about two or three pounds
Ice cubes crushed into three pieces per ice cube.

Smaller containers like school milk cartons or dixie cups may be used. Melt wax in 2-pound coffee can in pan of hot water, add crayons for color.

Meanwhile, cut top off milk carton. Put old candle in center of carton. Arrange crushed ice with smaller pieces at bottom and larger ones at top, packing it tightly around candle. Pour in hot wax. Allow to cool thoroughly overnight.

Tear off carton. If it does not release easily, refrigerate five to 15 minutes. (Carton should be greased with salad oil before wax and ice are put in.) Makes a lacy candle. Center candle may be replaced when burned down.

ORGANIC NECKLACES

By using natural materials such as sunflower seeds, dried corn, dried berries, acorn heads and macaroni alternating with glass beads, make necklaces. Macaroni may be quickly dunked in vegetable food dye. Use thick needle and heavy thread.

LEATHER BOOKMARKS

With scraps of leather cut into assorted long shapes, bookmarks can be made. Add to it by cutting a fringe at bottom and weaving or gluing different colored leather down the front.

PULL-TAB ORNAMENTS

Soft drink or beer can pull tabs
Glue
Spray paint
Bits of felt and old jewelry

Glue tabs, overlapping, in a sunburst design. Spray paint. Glue on bits of jewelry and felt. Hang with colored yarn.

BUG CATCHERS

Wire screen 10 x 15 inches
Two cat food or tuna cans
Spray cans and screen one color. Decorate cans as desired. Roll screen, place one can on each end. Attach string on top for handle.

PAPIER MACHE SNACK TRAY

3 tablespoons flour
1½ tablespoons white glue
2 cups water

Mix and bring to boil, keep stirring to prevent lumps. Pour into flat container to cool. It lasts four days.

To make snack tray, tear newspaper into about 1½ inch squares. Cover thinly with paste and apply to paper plate, overlapping edges. Let dry overnight. Paint white with water base paint (poster paint). When dry, paint Christmas design on and shellac.

To make bracelet cut a strip of shirt cardboard and staple it to fit wrist. Apply bits of newspaper as above. Paint, design and shellac.

To make pencil holder use a baby food jar with its top glued to the bottom for a pedestal. Cover with gluey papier mache and wrap a string around neck and base. Dry overnight.

Paint with waterbase paint the next day; it will dry in an hour. Shellac, wait an hour and shellac again.

Cover with black India ink, then rub off with rag dampened with water for antique effect.

4 Symphony Previews Announced

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Four symphony previews will be presented during the upcoming season of the San Francisco Symphony by the Junior League of San Francisco, Inc., which includes Marin. They are a public service of the league.

The first preview is set for Jan. 6 at 11 a.m. and will feature Charles Boone discussing a new work and the American premiere of "Connexities for Piano and Orchestra" by the Greek composer, Iannis Xanakis. Boone is a composer and a lecturer on the new music in the U.S. and Europe.

Other previews are set for Feb. 17, with Marin Symphony conductor Sandor Salgo as speaker; April 6, Maestro Niklaus Wyss, associate conductor of the San Francisco Symphony, and May 11, Julian White, professor of music at California State College at Hayward.

All previews will be held at 11 a.m. at the San Francisco Museum Art rotunda, according to Mrs. Lee M. Gammill Jr. of Mill Valley,

Treating Excess Hair Problems

When excess hair is purely a cosmetic problem, there are a number of methods of treatment open to choice by the individual. All must be performed with care, according to the Medical and Pharmaceutical Information Bureau.

An article in a recent issue of Patient Care magazine describes shaving as the best and least-time consuming method for removing arm and leg hair. However, it must be repeated every day or so to prevent stubble. Shaving does not coarsen or darken hair.

For beard and mustache, plucking is the choice. Waxing takes care of an entire mustache neatly, but painfully. Electrolysis permanently removes both, but must be performed by a skilled operator. Bleaching conceals hair and should be preceded by a patch test for sensitivity.

Chemical depiliation is described as fine for women who can't shave and won't pluck. It also requires a patch test and should not be used facially unless advertised for this purpose.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Unmarried Couple May Cause Holiday Hosts Some Discomfort

DEAR HELEN:

We have good friends who aren't married but live together. They recently moved to another state, where we visited them last summer. They're completely open about their relationship, stating that for them marriage is unnecessary.

The rest of our friends aren't that liberal. Here's our problem: this couple will visit us over the holidays. We have only one extra bedroom which they expect to share. Do I imply to our other friends that "Jim" is sleeping on the couch; or do I insist that he sleep on the couch for appearance sake; or do I just bull it through and shrug my shoulders? — MODERN HOSTESS

DEAR MOD HOSTESS:

To put on an act for the benefit of people who already know the facts is embarrassing, silly — and futile. Let your friends sleep wherever they wish. It's their decision, not yours. (Nor is it any of those other friends' business.) — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Many young people voted in the last election and probably did their best to bone up on the issues before going into the booths.

This is directed to those who were like the young lady ahead of me. When the election clerk started to tell her how the machine worked, she said, "Oh yes, I know about the lever."

Then she went into the booth, pulled the handle and immediately pulled it back again, opening the curtains. The clerk questioned her about such speed.

"I was just practicing," she replied. "I'll go back and vote now."

"I'm afraid you've lost your vote," said the clerk.

"You're depriving me of my rights, blah—blah—blah—" On she went. "I'll stay here till the place closes," she wailed.

This girl held up the line, caused unnecessary commotion, and finally an officer had to escort her from the building. All because of her ignorance.

MY POINT IS: young voters should not only read up on issues and personalities before going to the polls, but also study carefully the mockup of the voting machine outside the booth, and follow instructions. And if they aren't sure — they'd better ask!

Voting isn't a lark. It's serious business. — E.B.

DEAR E.:

Right!

While we're on the subject, have you heard of Frontlash, an organization devoted primarily to registering the non-student segment of the 11.5 million newly enfranchised 18-to 21-year-olds in the United States?

The big registration push in colleges and universities has made most students poll-conscious. But the "invisible majority" — young marrieds, blue collar workers, high school or community college drop-outs — are hard to reach, and often not particularly interested in politics unless they're given the right impetus. Frontlash workers fan out into the communities, especially in low-income and minority areas, and show people there how important their vote is.

Almost two-thirds of the 18-to 21-year-olds in this country do not attend college. Many of these will not register to vote unless someone inspires them. If youth wants a good showing at the polls next November, then the politically active should get off campus and start campaigns where "the awakening" hasn't yet hit. — H.

Book Project For Inmates Really Booming

NORFOLK, Va. — Thanks to the efforts of two city librarians, inmates at the city jail are getting twice-a-week library service.

The project started in early June and by fall had grown from 182 to 530 books and magazines. The two librarians, Mrs. Jane B. Lego and Mrs. Fern Campbell, bring the requested books with them in addition to magazines contributed by local citizens.

Reading tastes of inmates range from black studies, nonviolent revolutions and westerns to Will and Arial Durant's 10-volume "The Story of Civilization." One man is actually reading all 10 volumes, said Mrs. Campbell. (Los Angeles Times, Syndicate)

Women Should Realize Making Will Important

(I-J Special Report)

NEW YORK — Ever since she was a young bride, Eleanor Ryerson had a precious Limoges China service.

Mrs. Ryerson, a widow with two grown sons in Australia, had always meant to leave the Limoges China to a niece who used to help her out with shopping and entertaining whenever the Ryersons had guests. Mrs. Ryerson died recently and because she made no will, her niece never received the China service.

The case of Eleanor Ryerson — not her real name — is typical of many women, widowed, married and single, who failed to make a will and so deprived themselves of an opportunity to dispose of their property as they might have wished to.

Why do so many married women neglect to make wills? Much of the problem, it would seem, stems from a mistaken belief that one will — the husband's — is sufficient per family.

Also, some feel that their property is "just not worth"

Firms Upgrading Breakfast Cereals

By ARTHUR E. ROWSE

WASHINGTON — A little criticism on nationwide television can accomplish more than milk in adding nutrition to dry breakfast cereals.

When Robert B. Choate shocked many companies and parents in 1970 with his analysis of breakfast cereals, industry spokesmen admitted that in many cases, the milk that was added provided more vitamins and minerals than the cereal itself.

Choate called most of the products over-advertised and under-nutritious. Since then, however, 26 out of 40 cereals mentioned by Choate have been "dramatically reformulated" to boost their nutritional values.

"THIS OVERDUE reaction," says Choate now, "refutes the arguments advanced by company-paid nutritionists who tried to belittle our remarks on the nutritional deficiencies of products advertised to children."

In terms of nutrition content, he said, Kellogg's Froot Loops, Apple Jacks, Cocoa Krispies, Sugar Pops, Puffa Puffa Rice and Sugar Frosted Flakes "finally can be considered reasonable breakfast cereals."

But he still is not impressed with the snap, crackle and pop of Kellogg's Rice Krispies and Corn Flakes, two of the most advertised products. He continues to place them in the bottom 10 per cent in nutiritional value.

According to his latest assessment, General Mills has improved the nutritional content of all its cereals, including Cheerios, Wheaties, Lucky Charms and the new Count Chocula Frankenberry to "respectable" levels.

General Foods also scores high marks with Choate, having improved the nutrient quality of its Grape Nuts, Alpha Bits, Crispy Critters, Krinkles, Post Toasties and Honeycomb.

OTHER CEREALS showing marked improvement, according to Choate, include Quaker's Cap'n Crunch and Crunchberries, Nabisco's Wheat Honeys and Rice Honeys. He also likes the quality of several products introduced since his first analysis, such as King Vitamin, Quangaroo and Pebbles.

He says Ralston Purina's Sugar Frosted Chex will be upgraded in the "near future," but he still puts the firm's Rice Chex and Corn Chex in the bottom 10 per cent of the nutrilional scale.

His analysis shows seven cereals so full of vitamins and minerals that he calls them "calorie-connected vitamin pills." They are Kellogg's Product 19; General Mills' Kaboom, Total, Corn Total and Buc Wheats; Quaker's King Vitaman; and Nabisco's 100% Bran.

Each provides 100 per cent of the Minimum Daily Requirements of at least four nutrients.

But Choate deplores the continuing heavy emphasis on sugar. He lists seven cereals which list sugar as the primary ingredient. They are Kellogg's Sugar Smacks, Froot Loops and Apple Jacks; General Mills' Kaboom, Frosty-o's, Count Chocula and Frankenberry; and General Foods' Super Sugar Crisp.

HE ALSO is critical of what he calls "grossly misleading" advertising for dry cereals. He says that children particularly have difficulty sorting out claims for protein, energy and nutrition.

In recent testimony before the Federal Trade Commission, Choate called for federal guidelines to govern advertising foods on nutritional bases, particularly when aimed at children.

For a copy of Choate's scorecard comparing nutritional qualities of 64 dry cereals, send a stamped and return-addressed envelope to Dept. K, Consumer News, Inc., 813 National Press Building, Washington, D.C., 20004.

Touch Of Sweetness Good For Entrees

A touch of sweetness goes well with many entrees, particularly cuts of pork, ham or poultry. Adding walnuts to the dish make it even more palatable.

Try this combination. Spread half of 1-pound can of yams in orange-pineapple sauce in buttered bake dish. Cover with a sliced banana; sprinkle with quarter cup each chopped walnuts and brown sugar. Repeat; dot with butter. Bake until bubbling.

WILL

drawing up a will. This despite the fact that many a woman's estate — real and personal property — may include valuable jewelry, furs, paintings and heirlooms, as well as life insurance policies, stocks, bonds and real estate.

WHAT SOME married women fail to realize is that in the event of the husband's death, their own passing away without a will could thwart any joint plans the couple might have had for the distribution of their property.

It also means leaving property for disposal by a court-appointed administrator, according to state law. In the circumstances, the property might not be distributed according to the owner's wishes, but on top of that, there are usually probate and administrative expenses, leaving a reduced estate.

A particular advantage of a wife making a will while her husband is still alive, advises the institute of Life Insurance, is that she can benefit by their discussing the subject jointly as well as participate in joint planning for children and grandchildren. A woman who waits to make a will until she becomes widowed may find that decision-making comes harder.

The absence of a will can cause unavoidable hardships. What if a husband were to die leaving a will in which the wife receives everything and then she dies shortly afterward? If there are young children, the consequences might be extremely serious unless their mother left a will naming a person specifically responsible for their care. The children's guardianship might be left for strangers to decide.

IN THE case of an unmarried woman with no dependents, a will assures that her estate will go to where she feels it will do the most good. This can mean named relatives, friends, schools, a religious group or charities. Otherwise her property would revert automatically to relations, however distant and perhaps totally unknown.

Should there be considerable assets, additional professional help may be needed when making a will. Depending on the kinds of assets involved — a trust officer, accountant and a life insurance agent along with the lawyer may make up an estate planning team.

Life insurance policies where the beneficiary is named are not included in wills. This facilitates payment of benefits which are usually needed by the survivors for immediate income.

Idea Behind A Designer's Knit Collection

"I went back to my childhood and took my inspiration from the striped sweaters the boys wore in 'Our Gang' TV comedy," explains designer Betsey Johnson about her new knit collection for spring.

"I knitted my 'Our Gang' group in preshrunk cotton and funky, old-fashioned colors like aqua, maroon brown, soft orange and salmon. All of them look a bit faded," she told Women's Wear Daily.

The designer says she works only in natural fibers, and "won't let the polyester salesman in the door" of her Alley Cat sportswear house. "Natural fibers look better, feel better and get old beautifully."

What In Common?

What do sheets and the story of Cinderella have in common? They both imply magical powers—the ability to turn one thing into another. For example, a vivid patterned sheet makes a bright, budget-minded bedcover or matching or coordinating curtains and pillow shams.

Brass Is Golden For College Band

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Golden brass sound and technical virtuosity were the outstanding features of Saturday night's winter concert of the College of Marin Community band of some 75 players conducted by John H. Myers in the college's Fine Arts Theater.

As in most of Myers's concerts, programming was fresh and challenging. With players capable of realizing mellow cornet tone, clear, true trumpet brilliance and stentorian trombone power, it was no wonder Myers focused program attention on the brass choirs. This was most evident in the seven movements from the contemporary English composer Gordon Jacob's "Music for a Festival," in which the brass played every other movement, joining the full band in the finale.

In this work the virtuoso capacity of the band was also notable. One of the most difficult forms to perform successfully in any instrumentation, the fugue is a Mount Everest to conquer for a large aggregation. The band most nearly achieved complete success in the fugue contained in the finale of this festival music.

Another fugue, in the polka and fugue from the contemporary Czech composer Jaromir Weinberger's opera "Schwanda, the Bagpiper," in a band arrangement by Glenn Cliff Bainum, did not quite achieve the split-second timing necessary in a fugue.

The work was otherwise remarkable for the extraordinary use in band of an organ, brilliantly played by Geoffrey Meyer. He was also at the piano keyboard in the equally unusual employment of that instrument with band, in the danza final from Argentine contemporary composer Alberto Ginastera's "Estancia." Meyer and Terry Bozzio, who also performed notably in this percussive work, have long been the backbone of the band's excellent percussion section.

Deserving a full share of credit were the band's nimble woodwinds, all of them, to mention just one place, in the scherzo of the festival music and the clarinets especially in the overture to Wagner's opera "Rienzi" in a band arrangement by M. C. Meyrelles.

In great contrast to the exuberance of the rest of the program was "Song of the Threnos" by the English contemporary composer Alfred Reed. It was conducted by David Murray, first trombone, in accordance with Myers's commendable policy of offering every possible opportunity for students' individual development. Murray's relaxed, graceful conducting produced the necessary long sustained and smooth flowing phrasing in this lyrical elegy.

Noteworthy for tightly controlled building of excitement was the performance of the berceuse and finale from Stravinsky's ballet, "The Firebird."

No band program would be complete without marches. The three performed with dynamic rhythm were the opening "Fairest of the Fair" by Sousa, one of the 32 different marches by this composer Meyers has programmed in a special project over 12 years; R. Vaughan Williams's march on sea songs based on tunes of "Princess Royal," "Admiral Benbow" and "Portsmouth;" and the encore, "Americans, We" by Henry Fillmore.

The last brought the program to a close with whistling acclaim from a near-capacity audience that appeared to be composed more of older adults and children than college students.

KING HEROD — Sonoma State College music professor E. Gardner Rust will sing the role of Herod in the performance of "A Christmas Story" tomorrow at 8 p.m. at St. Raphael's Church, San Rafael. The college chorus, philharmonic and children's chorus will take part in the production.

MUSIC REVIEW

A New Series Is Off To Good Start

Another Marin Concert series was launched successfully with the first program in the new family vespers series yesterday afternoon at St. Stephen's Church in Belvedere.

The opening was auspicious, for the concert performed by the Orchestra Piccola under the direction of Hugo Rinaldi was delightful, and a large audience almost filled the church, which has a 300-seat capacity.

For those who have attended the concerts of the Marin Youth Orchestra during the past 15 years, the mature level of the performance by these young people was no surprise because the Marin Youth Orchestra is one of the top ones in the state. The Orchestra Piccola is composed of 35 of the youth orchestra's best players, many with soloist potentialities.

It was also no surprise that St. Stephen's makes an excellent concert hall, except for visual problems caused by the flat floor. Its brilliant acoustics have been demonstrated in previous concerts, though not recently.

All resources of the young orchestra were heard in the rich, full bodied sonority achieved in the program's finale, the first movement of Bizet's Symphony in C.

Almost as impressive was Mozart's Sinfonia Concertante with solos by Jenny Sperry, oboe; Steve Gordon, clarinet, Kathe Kaeppel, bassoon, and Brian McCarty, French horn. The dexterity of the clarinet and oboe were especially remarkable. Either the difficulties of playing the horn, a very tricky instrument to control perfectly, or the technical intricacies in horn solo passages in this work resulted in a number of rough spots.

Two Vivaldi concertos — the Concerto in C Major for Violin, Two String Orchestras and Harpsichord and the Concerto in D Major for Guitar and String Orchestra — were excellent showcases for the talents of violinist Dan Smiley in the first and of guitarist Paul Bertolli in the second.

Smiley played with a light, sweet tone and fluid technique that became more assured and precise as the work progressed, and Bertolli's performance was marked by sure, crisp attack and sensitive phrasing.

Enhancing the total effect in both concertos was the velvety smoothness of the strings, one of the outstanding characteristics of this little orchestra.

A unique feature of the programs in the four-concert series starting at 5 p.m. is the light complimentary supper served after the performances in the parish hall of the church.

Slate Chosen For Railroad Hobbyist Group

A single slate of nominees for officers of the North Coast Model Railroad Society was named at a charter membership and nomination meeting Friday night at the Northwestern Pacific Railroad Depot in San Rafael.

Nominated for president was Jode Anderson, 16, who, with Jim Marklinger, also 16, organized the club. Young Anderson has been acting president during the formation period.

Edmund P. Webber of San Rafael was nominated for vice president; William L. Woodward of Corte Madera, for secretary, and Jack N. Carroll of San Rafael, for treasurer.

Thirty-three charter members were present at the meeting.

Election will be held at a meeting at the same place Friday at 8 p.m., moved up a week from the regular meeting date because of Christmas.

Recycling Units Shut For Winter

Recycling centers in Petaluma, Rohnert Park and two other Sonoma County cities have been closed for the winter by the Sonoma County Environmental Center.

Earl E. Piercy, center executive director, said lack of volunteers forced the closings. The main center at 2360 Mendocino Avenue, Santa Rosa, will remain open.

Although the Rohnert Park Center is closed, residents may use the new recycling center on the Sonoma State College campus. It is open from 8 a.m. to noon on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Larkspur Dock Plans Revised

The Larkspur Planning Commission will review revised plans by the Silver Pavilion Associated for a dock in Corte Madera Creek at 8 p.m. tomorrow at city hall.

The association has applied to the Army Corps of Engineers to construct a dock 60 feet long with fingers, rather than a dock 121 feet long.

Commissioners also will review plans by Millbrae Highlands Co. for a pier and float to serve apartments on two lots along the creek.

DRAMA REVIEW

'Play It Again Sam' Fools The Audience

By KAY KSANDA

"Don't you ever cook anything except TV dinners?"

"Who cooks them," answers the batching hero, "I just suck them frozen."

Last night Terry McGovern played the role of a typical, sympathetic, unfortunate, short, homely, manic depressive; and McGovern was marvelous.

The production of "Play It Again Sam" by the Actors Playhouse of Marin Friday, Saturday, and last night was an outstanding success in innovative venture. It was the first live comedy in the new Marin Veterans Memorial Building; and probably the first time that many in the audience realized that with the new auditorium, we can at last have "big-city" theater in Marin County.

About 300 or 400 members of the audience, however, missed the ending of the play since they left thinking a closed curtain after the sad little hero got together with his friend's wife indicated the end of the third act.

The story was written by Woody Allen, principally as a vehicle for his own particular type of whimsey-riot and was produced two years ago on Broadway. The critics loved him; yet when academy winner Red Buttons tried it this year at the Curran Theater in San Francisco, he couldn't make the central character, Allan Felix, livable or likeable.

Casting for the Marin version was precise. Terry McGovern as Allan was alternately elfin, then almost insane. He looked like a sad child in his Mickey Mouse shirt, but then he cannonballed like Harpo Marx in his gorilla fur coat and pith helmet. Barbara Nelson as the departed wife was always stalking around dressed in purple, with a purple spot shining on her from somewhere in the heavens of the auditorium. Both she and Humphrey Bogart (Tom Barker) were really not there. They were fantasies of Allan's imagination . . . (he had a lot of problems.)

Dan Caldwell was cast as Allan's best friend. He walked, sat and talked as if he had an ironing board strapped to his back. His wife, played by Phyllis Courtney, was warm, sympathetic, and real.

The set designed by producer Robert Boyden was something else again. Built and carted up from Los Angeles, it had to be set up twice; once, in an empty warehouse for rehearsals, and again on Wednesday in the theater, just two days before opening night.

Director A. J. Esta brought each character into focus with balance. It's a frail story with many technical problems. He maintained, however, that this was his first experience in directing where he was not concerned with anything except the characters, the acting and the story.

"PLAY IT AGAIN SAM" — A comedy in three acts by Woody Allen. Presented by the Actors Playhouse of Marin. Robert Boyden, producer; A. J. Esta, director; Bob Finley, lighting; Robert Boyden, set; Manny Miro, stage manager. The cast: Allan Felix, Terry McGovern; Nancy, Barbara Nelson; Bogie, Tom Barker; Dick Christie, Dan Caldwell; Linda Christie, Phyllis Courtney; Gina, Judy Matson; go-go girls, Melodi Brown, Rosemary Tobin; intellectual girl, Robin Buckley; Barbara, Laura Barbarien; Sharon, Sharon Lake, and Vanessa, all by Stephanie Saunders.

Sophomores Recall Tam Class Chief

Paul Cohen, sophomore class president at Tamalpais High School and the third student leader to face a recall vote, has been removed from office by his classmates.

In what was described as a "very close vote" by John R. McSween, dean of student activities, sophomores voted Friday to recall Cohen. Some 279 of the school's 450 sophomores cast ballots.

McSween declined to release the exact vote totals to avoid embarrassing Cohen, who is also chairman of the Marin County Youth Commission.

Two other student leaders, president Nicholas Harris and vice president Matthew White, beat back a recall effort last week. All three removal attempts were spearheaded by sophomore Lars P. Enevoldsen, defeated by Cohen last year for the sophomore class presidency.

Enevoldsen initiated the recall because, he said, the three "don't take their jobs seriously and don't represent most of the students" at the high school.

Neither Cohen nor Enevoldsen was available for comment today on the vote.

McSween said sophomores who wish to run for class president have until Friday to file petitions bearing signatures of 10 classmates. The replacement election has been set tentatively for Jan. 6, after students return from a two-week holiday.

Nothing in the school's constitution prevents Cohen from running to regain his old seat, McSween said.

Enevoldsen earlier declined to say whether he'd run for any of the three positions in the event of a successful recall, but said he thought he could do a better job than any of the three leaders.

Fire Chief Hurt, Corte Madera House Lost in Predawn Blaze

Corte Madera Fire Chief Fank L. Nelson and another fireman were injured yesterday when a chimney collapsed during a fire which destroyed a two-and-a-half story home.

Nelson, 61, was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with fractured ribs, cut scalp and internal injuries. Fireman Lewis Spengler, 24, was treated at the hospital for an injured right leg.

A reddish glow was visible throughout Corte Madera and Greenbrae from the 3:15 a.m. fire at the residence of Clinton D. Hanger at 596 Chapman Drive.

Damage was estimated at $40,000 to $50,000.

Nelson was injured when he ran from a collapsing chimney and fell down an embankment and through a roofless garage, landing on a parked car, according to Asst. Chief Lee J. Larson.

Spengler was hit by a falling brick.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanger fled the burning home safely. Their two children were spending the night with friends.

Larson said the home was totally engulfed in flames when firemen arrived. Cause of the fire had not been determined, he said, but it was believed to have started on the first floor of the residence.

Fourteen of Corte Madera's 24 firemen and three trucks responded to the blaze, Larson said.

The home was the third destroyed by fire in Corte Madera since September.

Two houses were destroyed and a third badly damaged in a fire Sept. 16.

Following that blaze, demands by residents for greater fire protection led to appointment of a citizens committee and hiring of consultants to study the town's fire protection.

Two Areas' Homes Hit By Blackouts

Almost 1,500 homes and businesses in San Rafael and 70 more in Tiburon were without electricity for a short time today as two separate power outages hit Marin.

A Pacific Gas and Electric Co. spokesman said power was knocked out to 1,460 customers in northern San Rafael when a tree limb struck a 12,000-volt power line at 5:20 a.m. Service was restored to most of them at 6:10 a.m., but 300 customers in the area around Coleman, Chula Vista and Prospect drives remained without electricity until 9:36 a.m., the company said.

A 12,000-volt underground line in Tiburon failed at 7:21 a.m., leaving 70 homes on Lyford Drive without power until 8:56 a.m., the company said. Cause of that failure was unknown.

Train Hurts Motorist In San Rafael

A San Rafael woman was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with injuries suffered when her car was struck by a train in San Rafael late Friday.

Nancy L. Ullner of 1135 Fourth Street suffered rib injuries and an injury to her right foot, the hospital reported.

San Rafael police said she apparently did not see a train signal light where Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks cross Mission Avenue near Tamalpais Avenue.

She proceeded across the tracks at about 9:50 p.m. and her car was struck by a southbound train, police said. The car — a 1964 Chevrolet — was a total loss.

Police said she was cited for failing to stop at the warning signal.

Sausalito Board Faces Tax Decision

A resolution setting a tax rate election will be considered by the Sausalito School District board at a meeting at 7:30 p.m. today in the district office, 630 Nevada Street.

The district must hold a tax election before June 30 of next year to ask voters to continue its current $2.40 general purpose tax rate per $100 assessed valuation. If district residents turn down the proposal, the district's general purpose tax rate will drop to 90 cents and its operating income will be cut almost in half to about $600,000 a year.

JUNIOR MISS — Jan Denny, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Foster of 1353 Monte Maria Avenue, Novato, was selected last night from a field of 15 entrants as Novato's Junior Miss, winning a $150 scholarship and advancing to the district finals in Santa Rosa next month.

Kentfield Trustees To Pick Delegate

The Kentfield School District board is scheduled to appoint a representative to the Marin County School Boards Association, clarify the role of its citizen's advisory council and accept the audit of the past school year at its regular meeting today.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. at Wolfe Grade School.

McGovern Flays Vietnam War

By PAT ANGLE

Democratic presidential candidate George S. McGovern made a flying trip to Marin last night and voiced his concerns about the Southeast Asia war, the draft, the India-Pakistan conflict and poverty in America.

The affable South Dakota senator, who appeared relaxed after a day of campaigning which included talks and meetings in San Francisco, Berkeley, Fremont and Walnut Creek, was greeted warmly by the almost 700 persons who jammed the Mill Valley home of Dr. Burton Wise.

McGovern, a long-time and outspoken foe of the conflict in Asia, drew applause from his audience as he chastised the Nixon administration for its failure to end "the most barbaric undertaking of any country in modern times."

"There is no question the war could be ended immediately," the senator said. "The next president of the United States must be a man totally committed to ending the conflict and ending it now."

He blamed the war for many of the country's economic woes, including inflation ("caused by war time spending") and unemployment. "We have wasted $150 billion in Vietnam that could have been invested in job-creating enterprises," he said.

During his brief talk, McGovern introduced Ernest Gruening, 84-year-old former senator from Alaska who is traveling around the country in support of McGovern's candidacy.

Saying the country was "blessed with the worst president in the history of the U.S.," the sprightly Gruening endorsed McGovern as "the very best candidate for the presidency. I know all the other candidates and I respect and like them." Gruening said, "but they are not in the same class with George."

McGovern replied with a grin: "I think the endorsement of Senator Gruening is worth more than the endorsement of the junior senator from California. (He was referring to Sen. John V. Tunney's decision last week to support Sen. Edmund Muskie for president next year.)

The candidate told the Independent-Journal he is convinced he has something to offer to people who are disillusioned with what is happening in America today because "I tell the truth. I say what I think rather than waiting for the popular consensus to form.

"I think people are fed up with politicians' posturing, obsession with the polls and gimmicks," he said. "People don't expect politicians not to make any errors of judgment, but they do expect us to say what we believe rather than try to con them."

McGovern, who arrived in Marin by helicopter, touched on a number of issues during his stay:

THE DRAFT — Called for an end to the draft, "a new invention in American life," and said that "America was settled, to a great extent, by people who came here to get away from compulsory military service."

WOMEN'S RIGHTS — Spoke strongly in favor of the equal rights amendment, now stalled in the Senate, and said he believes it can be passed in 1972. He promised that, if elected, he would do all in his power to give women a role in national policy making and said he would, as president, appoint "several women" to top cabinet posts. "There are no cabinet posts women are not qualified to hold."

DRAFT REFUSAL — Said he would grant amnesty to young men who left the country to avoid being drafted to fight in Vietnam. "There is ample precedent for this; Lincoln did it after the Civil War; Coolidge did it after World War I and so did President Truman after World War II."

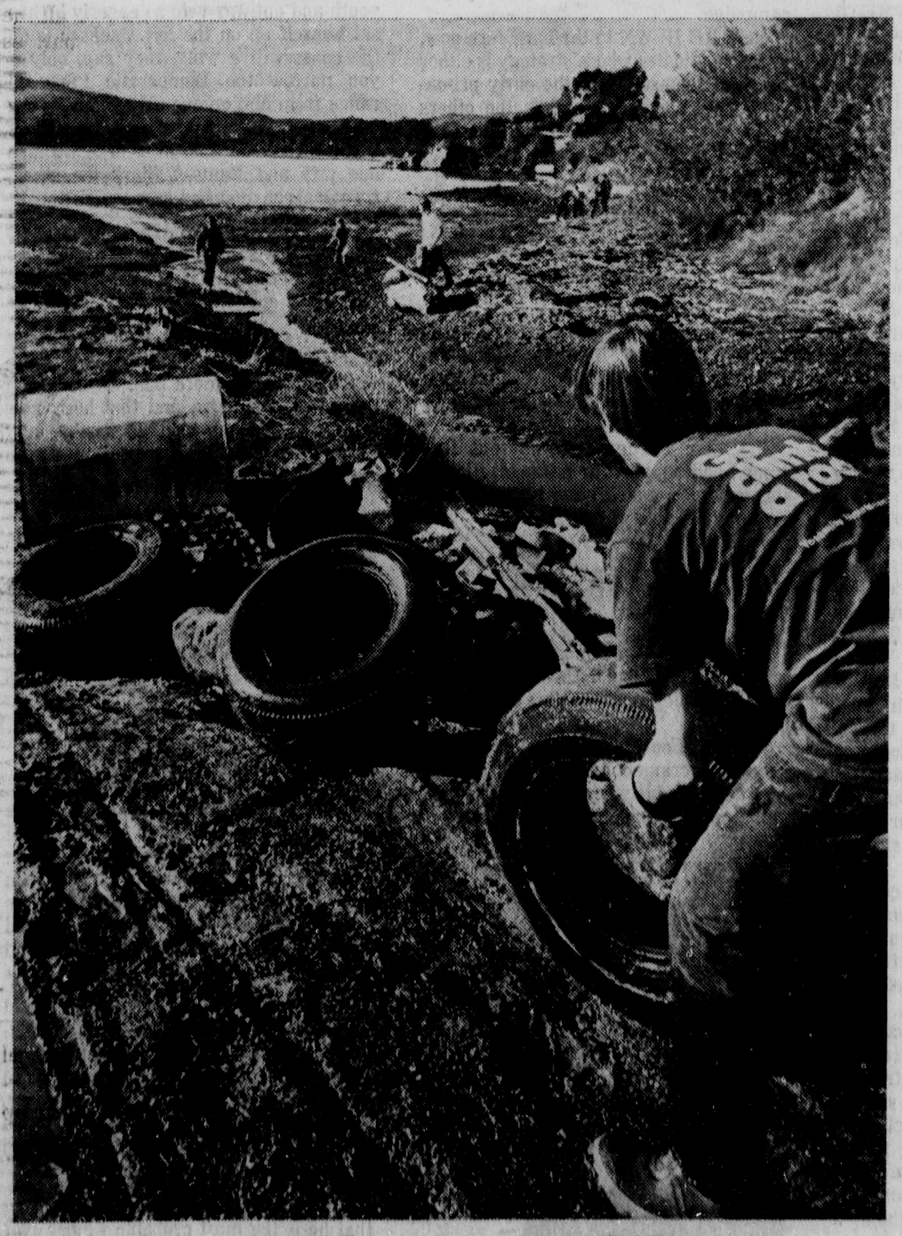
POVERTY — Said Japan's recent offer of food to the poor of Seattle, Wash., was a measure of how blind the administration has been to the needs of its own people." He said poverty is one of the many "almost-overwhelming problems" that have been neglected because of the Southeast Asia war. "There are 12 million hungry people in this country, 12 million people who are suffering from malnutrition," he said.

INDIA-PAKISTAN — Called it "outrageous that the United States has provided the arms which West Pakistan is now using to slaughter its own people. My sympathy is with India, although I am not saying the Indians are above mistakes."

LABOR — "I think some of the labor leadership today has too much power, but you have to balance that off against the even greater dangers of corporate power. If we didn't have powerful labor unions, I would tremble for the future of the United States," McGovern said.

AGRICULTURE — "The basic problem is that we don't have more programs to maintain an adequate income for the family farm. The per capita income of the small farmer is about two-thirds of what it is for the nation as a whole. We need strong supports for farm income."

After answering questions and shaking hands with the many who crowded around him McGovern left to attend a dinner party at the Ross home of June O. Degnan. He was continuing his campaigning in San Francisco today.



MAKING MARIN BEAUTIFUL

John Hess, 13, of Tiburon rolled a tire to a pile of litter while other youngsters also combed the shore of Richardson Bay for other unsightly matter. Hess and his cleanup companions worked four hours Saturday in an initial effort to clean up the beach along the Richardson Bay Pathway in Tiburon. The effort was organized by the Belvedere-Tiburon Committee for the Environment.

Two Hurt In Two-Car Crash

A Kentfield woman and Walnut Creek man were injured in a two-car accident Saturday in Richmond.

Jane Patrick, 43, of 12 Broadway, Kentfield, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut right leg and multiple bruises. Edward Dowd, 46, of Walnut Creek was treated at the same hospital for a cut right leg and forehead.

Richmond police reported that the Dowd car with Jane Patrick a passenger was westbound on Pennsylvania Avenue at 1:55 when it collided with a northbound car on Seventh Street. The driver of the second car, Charles Davis, 46, of Walnut Creek was to see his own doctor for minor pain.

Should Foundations Remain Tax-Exempt?

The Foundation Center in New York recently issued a new directory of philanthropic foundations in the United States. It listed more than 5,000 of them, with assets totaling $25 billion and making grants of $1.5 billion annually.

That gives a picture of the size of the foundation business, which was brought into being by income tax laws —for the foundations enjoy tax-exempt status.

Through foundations, those of great wealth can give away money at no personal cost. Moreover, the bigger foundations are so set up that they earn more than they give away, becoming not only self-perpetuating but also profitable. They have huge investments, on which their earnings are tax-exempt.

SOME OF THEM are very secretive about where the money goes. But the biggest one of all, Ford Foundation, issues regular reports. Its latest, covering the period Oct. 15-Dec. 1, followed by only a couple of weeks the Foundation Center's new directory.

It listed hundreds of grants and described dozens of programs. And the listing for this brief period gave some idea of the variety and wide spread of its philanthropies.

In fact, they spread well beyond the borders of the United States. Listed in its Dec. 1 report were such as these:

Africa Publications, London, $67,000 for support of the Africa Digest; Indian Institute of Public Administration, $145,000 to train government officers; Federal University of Minas Gracias, Brazil, $90,000 for graduate teaching and research; State Technical University, Chile, $105,000 for development of a master's degree program in mathematics, and 15 other international grants.

Incidentally, there were also, in this month-and-a-half period, 120 grants totaling $345,627 to individuals for travel and study.

NO DOUBT ALL or nearly all of the Ford grants listed in the report, totaling many millions of dollars, were for commendable purposes. But a growing number of people are asking the question: Why should all this money be tax-exempt? Why should foundations be permitted to pyramid earnings without paying their share of taxes?

One who has asked the question is Howard Jarvis, retired Southern California aircraft manufacturer, whose organization is trying to get enough signatures by Jan. 3 to qualify the "Jarvis Amendment" for next June's primary ballot.

Jarvis claims that 66,000 tax-exempt foundations and 18,000 charitable trusts own one-third of all tax-free land in California. He wants to end that exemption.

His amendment, however, would go much further. It would place a limit on property taxation, similar to that proposed in the ill-fated "Watson Amendment" of two years ago, which Assessor Philip E. Watson of Los Angeles County has revived and revised and is trying to also get on the June ballot.

Both of these appear to go too far. But Jarvis has a point about the tax-exempt foundations.

Bagley Gathers Credits In Long, Long Session

Marin's veteran assemblyman, William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, comes out of this year's endless legislative session with at least as many credits as scars.

In tough negotiations on both welfare and tax revision, Bagley trod with great success the thin line of mediation between Democrats and Republicans to win legislation both could accept. It took the subtle skill at times of a bulldog, but he also managed to wring out of the process $150 million for education and recreation.

This includes $40 million earmarked exclusively to buy new beach and park lands. Legislative aides took credit for naming the $40 million fund the Bagley Conservation Fund, with the assemblyman discovering the modest designation only after the bill was in print and on its belated way through the Legislature.

He also is credited by insiders with virtually sole responsibility for jacking up taxes for oil companies by 61 per cent — a major defeat of lobbying efforts against the tax increase.

And for senior citizens' property tax relief, Bagley more than quintupled its funding from $10 million to $56 million.

Another gold hash mark earned by Bagley was his increased stature in the governor's office. While he remains highly independent of the office, Bagley no longer can be treated as a pest, and now is a recognized legislative power.

The question is, where does all this take Bagley? He no doubt will run again for the Assembly next year, but what happens in 1974 remains a mystery, as much to Bagley as to anyone else.

The temporary adjournment of the Legislature, incidentally, came not a moment too soon. Said one member: "We're losing a liver a week."

"KEEP MILL VALLEY Green," the 1966 campaign slogan of Dean N. Meyer for the city council, may have inspired the Ford Motor Co. when it dreamed up color names for its 1972 light trucks. One of the colors is "Mill Valley Green."

Measuring wealth is a tricky affair, we found. We recently wrote a story in which we made the bald statement that per capita income was a better measure of average personal wealth than income tax statements. We ended up as a layman hopelessly pinned by the crossfire from statisticians and market experts.

If you take per capita figures, Marin comes out fourth in the Bay Area among the nine counties, ranking the wealthiest first. But if you use income tax statements, Marin was first. The variables proved endless, so take your pick.

COUNTY OFFICIALS report one unexpected result from last month's election form that provided for voluntary birthdates. One honest women's husband, arriving at the poll after she had balloted, read her birthdate with considerable surprise. It was five years earlier than she always had told him.

Apparently with such mishaps in mind, the county will not use the form in future elections.

In 1941 the Japanese demanded the British surrender of Hong Kong. Britain refused and the Japanese began a concentrated air attack on the crown colony.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

'Rent Strike' Needed On Property Taxes?

A form of passive resistance or civil disobedience used to get needed repairs out of a landlord is the rent strike in which rent money is paid into a trust fund to be given to him after the repairs are completed.

Presently a similar method is being used to challenge the constitutionality of the excise tax on telephone service used to help finance the Vietnam war.

By some odd coincidence these thoughts passed through my mind today as I made out my semi-annual check to the county property tax collector. Maybe the fact that our property tax has doubled in six years (on the same house) is involved here too.

Answer Demanded From Musician Union

Firemen's Action Averted Disaster

The community of Stinson Beach wish to commend publicly the Stinson Beach Volunteer Fire Department for their actions during the potentially catastrophic fire of Dec. 3. Their prompt and conscientious assistance, under the direction of Chief George White, kept the blaze of the old Stinson Beach Hotel confined, in spite of an extremely strong wind that was carrying blazing cinders in a wide path across the entire length of the village. The threat of such a community disaster makes us realize that all of us should give time and thought to serving on a community disaster plan.

Cheers For Planners, Caution For Council

Three cheers for the Larkspur Planning Commission at their recent meeting.

They rejected the Larwin Development proposal to crown Bon Air hill with 224 units. They refused to be railroaded by the city staff to approve this family-oriented apartment complex in a single session.

Not all the facts were before the commission. Unanswered were the impact on the Kentfield School District, on the sewer facilities, on city services as a whole, and of about 400 more cars on the surrounding streets.

Next this will be appealed to the Larkspur City Council who will be carefully watched as to its actions.

Owner Indifference Dangerous To Dogs

I was shocked and horrified by the picture of the dog that was bound, gagged, and thrown into a culvert. Then I read your article more closely. This was a howling dog. Someone, perhaps after sleepless nights listening to a howling dog, could have been made desperate enough to do this thing.

Your article also said that some dogs are poisoned, but they are usually well-cared for pets. People are often indifferent to the annoyance or damage caused by their dogs, and the victims may resort to ugly measures to get some relief.

I am now going to pay closer attention to the things my dog does. I may be helping him to live longer.

Judas Hammer In Anti-Liberation

Re: Anti-liberation revolt, in Dec. 7:

In my "V" opinion, the sound of the word — mimis — is the Judas hammer. To make it truly red writely and not not too holy leftly, it should be spelt me-me's!

Snowmobile Has Strong Defender

The opinion column by Ernest B. Furgurson, "The Fat Society Finds Its Emblem: Snowmobile," is the type of report which does great damage to the sport of snowmobiling and is grossly unfair.

When Mr. Furgurson talks about noise in the forest he ignores the research being done by snowmobile manufacturers which, eventually, will make them almost as quiet as operating a sewing machine in the forest. Already Harley-Davidson and Kickhaefer Mercury have lowered the noise level to below 80 decibels on an "A" scale which is approximately the same noise level as a battery of typewriters in your newsroom.

He writes about the snowmobile users abusing "other people's privacy, property and peace of mind, fans to whom the values of the wilderness mean nothing." In California and Nevada nearly all snowmobiling is done on government land which is open to use by everyone — land under control of the National Park Service, U. S. Forest Service or Bureau of Land Management. To us as snowmobilers, the value of the wilderness is very important. . .

Mr. Furgurson then goes on to recite the same old shibboleth that snowmobilers destroy fences, shrubs and winter crops. . . . vandalize cabins. . . "cruelly and illegally chasing deer". . . . and pack down the snow so that the small creatures that live beneath it die.

Snowmobiling in the West is done at such high elevations and at such great snow depth that it is necessary to post signs warning of low hanging power and telephone lines. Rather than be accused of vandalizing cabins, snowmobilers now have found a second use for their cabin in the woods which now is accessible 12 months out of the year. . .

Rather than oppose legislation controlling snowmobiles, this association has taken the lead in proposing workable legislation to govern noise, registration, trail development and a variety of other problems which confront the sport.

Snowmobiles have proved invaluable tools for law enforcement and search and rescue teams to quickly save stranded hunters, lost skiers, air crash victims and pursuit of persons suspected of committing crimes. . . Farmers, ranchers, trappers and cattlemen have found that use of the snowmobile has increased winter production and given them a chance to diversify their operations. . .

As in anything there are those who will abuse their privilege whether it is in the operation of a motor vehicle, production of a motion picture or expression of opinion in a column.

India-Pakistan War Shows U.N. Security Council Dormant

U.N.: CASUALTY OF INDIA-PAKISTAN WAR. The U.N. Security Council may not be dead but it is near to it.

For months, the India-Pakistan crisis throbbed to explosion. But the Security Council could not arouse itself to hold a single meeting to attempt to do anything. It made no effort to prevent the war, to contain it or even to discuss it.

It stood mute.

WHY IS THE U.N. SO HELPLESS? Answer: The Security Council is dominated by its five permanent members who have the power to veto anything. The general assembly is dominated by blocs of small nations which do not have the power to do anything.

The Security Council is hobbled by a double-veto. The big powers can block it from doing anything which affects themselves. And they can use their veto to shield warring friends — as Russia vetoed in behalf of India an 11 to 2 Security Council majority calling for an India-Pakistan cease-fire.

The United Nations can talk and talk. Talk is sometimes useful but it doesn't stop war.

DID YOU SAY 16? Yes, during 1971 the awesome number of 16 candidates have been after the Democratic presidential nomination. Most are well to the left of political center. Nine are U.S. senators. You may not recognize all the names:

Chisholm, Bayh, Harris, Hughes, Humphrey, Hartke, Jackson, Kennedy, Lindsay, McCarthy, McGovern, Mills, Muskie, Yorty —with George Wallace and now Dr. Benjamin Spock lurking in the wings.

AND THEN THERE WERE TWO. Here is the forecast on the shape of the 1972 Democratic ticket one hears frequently in Washington. It is that it will end up being Sens. Edmund Muskie and Henry Jackson.

The early primaries will tell whether Jackson will have a fair chance of overtaking Muskie. If not, he'll accept the second spot.

SOVIETS TIGHTEN IDEOLOGICAL SCREWS ON ROMANIA. There is new evidence that Moscow is very displeased with the independent line Romania is taking in foreign policy, such as going out of its way to develop friendly relations with China and the United States.

The Kremlin is warning President Ceausescu, who helped President Nixon bring off the Peking summit, that he must not continue to pursue a pro-Soviet domestic course and an anti-Soviet foreign policy.

Moscow's pointed warning: "Remember Czechoslovakia."

GOOD NEWS FOR SOME BLACKS. Latest census figures show that young black couples living outside the South (an area of generally low incomes) have an average annual income of $8,028.

There are many disparities adverse to Negroes in the United States, but the fact is that the $8,028 figure for young black couples is 7 per cent higher than that of young white southern couples in comparable circumstances.

Chinese-Americans have the highest economic status of any ethnic group in the United States. Japanese-Americans are second.

IS THIS A POLITICAL OMEN? At a small private dinner in Washington recently members of the Nixon Cabinet freely exchanged light — and some not so light — sallies about the competition between Agnew and Connally to be Nixon's No. 2 in 1972. The secretary of the treasury was present and he seemed to relish it.

Connally is emerging as second only to Kissinger in closeness to the president.

BY NO MEANS NEUTRAL

The Spring Roster Cut — And Jackson Moving Up

By ERNEST B. FURGURSON

WASHINGTON — As spring turned to summer, Democratic presidential candidates were shooting up along with the squash plants and the poison ivy. A full dozen of them were in the conversational running, as sentimental favorites, dark horses, factional champions or such remote long shots that their ambitions clearly were set into motion either by absurd ego or by the hope that they might wind up in the No. 2 spot by pretending to run for No. 1.

Now, as fall mushes into winter, three full months ahead of the earliest primary, realism has set in. That means attrition, which has reduced the field to seven at the outside.

Senators Harold Hughes of Iowa, Birch Bayh of Indiana and Fred Harris of Oklahoma withdrew their names from contention and William Proxmire of Wisconsin took his out before anybody had put it in. Wilbur Mills conceded that he did not think he had a chance at the nomination — a concession that was totally superfluous since it came after he effectively renounced his party birthright by caving in before President Nixon's threat to veto the tax bill rider allowing checkoff contributions to next year's campaign.

WE ARE DOWN to the hard core now, to the candidates whose strategy is either to prove themselves in the early primaries or to stand aside while the others bleed themselves in state after state, then step in and graciously accept the party's draft. And in view of the Democrats' history over the past four years, it is not surprising that the ones among those survivors who are taken most seriously by political Washington this December are those grouped around the center of the party.

That means Edmund Muskie, Hubert Humphrey and Henry Jackson. It intentionally omits Edward Kennedy, whose drawing power comes from both sides of the spectrum despite his own ideological slant, but who apparently is going to sit it out at least until the convention at Miami Beach. And, of course, it omits George McGovern, Eugene McCarthy and John Lindsay because none of them makes any pretense of courting the Democratic middle. Even McGovern, the first to announce his candidacy and the only admitted aspirant to leftward, must base his hopes on the division of the party center among his opponents.

The assignment of Muskie, Humphrey and Jackson to the middle is arbitrary. Muskie's associates prefer to push Jackson off to the right, and Jackson's advocates insist Muskie has sought the youth and antiwar vote so eagerly he has set himself up on the left. Jackson is on the conservative wing, they say, only if you narrow the Democratic Party to range from him on one side to McGovern on the other. But if the party still is broad enough to take in George Wallace one way and Ramsey Clark the other, then Jackson qualified as a centrist.

WHATEVER HIS LABEL, Jackson is the only one among the dark horses who has not merely survived but prospered in the public opinion polls.

The Washington senator's advisers make much of the fact that his recognition factor grew more than anybody's in those seven months, and that he is now ahead of Lindsay and McCarthy, and even with McGovern as a Democratic presidential preference.

It must be said in rejoinder that anybody who is an announced candidate and cannot outpoll McCarthy and Lindsay at this point has no business in politics at any level. Moving up from 2 per cent to 6 per cent may triple Jackson's standing in the preference poll, but it is such a small numerical gain that his detractors can easily scoff it away as a mere polling error.

THE JACKSON PEOPLE'S efforts to cast him as a major candidate along with Humphrey and Muskie make most sense when they compare him to Mr. Nixon rather than to his Democratic colleagues. Who, the Jackson advocates ask, can meet the President most aggressively on his own terms — on the three broad issues of foreign policy, domestic law and order and the economy?

As they foresee it, Mr. Nixon could effectively exploit weaknesses or ambiguities in the recent pronouncements of the other Democrats on the first two of those issues. And on the third, the economy, the President himself is likely to be so weak that anyone from the opposition party can use it against him next year.

Thus Jackson's pitch, in part, will be that he is the most probable winner over Mr. Nixon next year. And if he can make his argument sound convincing as the first really important primary vote approaches in Florida, he may entice his leading Democratic challengers into making the primary season a struggle for the center of their party. In that case, he will have done the party an historic service whether he emerges as winner or not.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

No Drapes In Hall Of Justice, Because Of Quarrel On Quality

The Civic Center Administration Building had its problem — the leaky ceiling. The newer Hall of Justice seems watertight, but it suffers from the sun — no drapes.

You may have noticed how some of the office girls have put up newspapers and cardboard to keep out the afternoon glare.

It was not an oversight. The drapes were ordered at the time the new building was built — some $30,000 worth of drapes. They were ready to install the drapes almost two years ago, but the county found the material inferior and not according to specifications. The supplier just as stubbornly refused to replace them. So the two-year-old impasse will continue into the new year with no relief in sight.

NIGHT WATCHMEN who patrol the Hall of Justic corridors have discovered an eerie phenomenon. The acoustics in the building are such that you can stand quietly near the cafeteria and catch any sound or movement in any room or stairway in the entire quarter-mile long structure.

If one elevator moves, or a person is typing at the far end, or someone tries to tip-toe up a stairway, you can catch those sounds. In the silence of the night, you can just about hear someone breathing two football fields away.

THE OTHER DAY, two young girls walked hand in hand to the county clerk's office and demanded a marriage license. They walked out in a huff when refused. Clerks in the office scarcely raised an eyebrow. "In fact," said one veteran clerk, "we were surprised we haven't had more such requests, what with all the freedom and permissiveness of the times."

A tip to the tippler — If you ever appear before the judge on a drunken driving conviction, never admit to being a plumber. They figure a plumber makes so much money that the maximum fine is called for, whereas a mere merchant or lawyer might get by with a lesser fine.

DO MORE COUPLES seek divorces (now called dissolutions) in the month of December than at any other time of year?

There are two theories on this question:

1. No, couples put up a brave front to maintain peace and goodwill through the holidays, then sprint for the divorce courts in January.

2. Yes, they all rush in for dissolutions so that they won't have to worry about Christmas gifts for their spouses.

Thus far this year, theory No. 2 seems to apply.

Pair Hurt In Crash Released

Two persons who were injured Thursday in a wrong-way collison on Highway 101 have been released from Marin General Hospital after treatment.

The accident occurred when Sondra A. Chenowith, 26, of San Francisco, apparently drove her car onto the freeway at the Spencer Avenue exit in Sausalito and then headed south in the northbound lanes, according to the California Highway Patrol.

The driver of the other car, John A. Carlson, 33, of 258 Balclutha Drive, Corte Madera, told officers he was northbound on the highway south of Spencer Avenue when he collided head-on with the Chenowith car.

Carlson suffered a cut chin and Miss Chenoweth received multiple face cuts and a cut right hand, according to hospital officials.

THE BITTER-ENDER

Redevelopment—Creation Of More Dispossessed

By ED BRANDER

Awhile back I drove to a nearby city to visit a friend who had moved into a "redevelopment" apartment house. It was my first visit to his new home.

The apartment house is one of several that were built by the city housing authority in what used to be a rundown neighborhood of mom-and-pop groceries, second hand stores, cheap saloons and assorted other subsistence-level businesses, with flats and rooms to let upstairs.

The new apartment buildings didn't impress me much. They're strictly modern. And "strictly" is the word — or maybe it should be "starkly." They all look pretty much alike. They have what architects like to call "clean lines," which means they look quite a bit like the houses that kids build out of cardboard boxes, except that they're painted. On the first floor of one building was a row of shops — a chain grocery, a chain women's wear store, a chain restaurant, a chain variety store. No mom-and-pops here.

THE APARTMENTS themselves are very nice, though, I found. My friend and his wife showed me all the new kitchen gadgets, and the sunken bath tub. I dutifully admired the wall-to-wall carpeting and the way ample storage space had been provided in the walls instead of traditional closets.

After a couple of highballs I got up courage to ask my friend how much it was setting him back.

"Two hundred and fifty-five dollars a month," he said.

Two hundred and fifty-five dollars a month! That's probably more than the total income of most of the people who used to live in those upstairs flats and run the little businesses on the ground floors.

OF COURSE, they're not there any more. Their slum has been cleared, and they have been forced to move to a worse slum, where the rents have been jacked up because of the sudden increase in demand.

Bye-and-bye "urban renewal" probably will reach that slum. The property owners will cash in. And the housing authority will build more apartments which it will have to rent for more than any of the people it dispossessed can pay, and will lease the stores only to those who can prove financial stability — which means the chains. Mom and pop will go on welfare (if they're not there already).

I'm afraid that's the story of urban renewal.

THERE WAS A PICTURE in the New York Times a few months back that told it all.

The picture was with a story about urban renewal in Atchison, Kans. The story sounded as though it had all turned out lovely. The old main street had been turned into a pedestrian mall, with parking lots behind the stores (for which, it mentioned, "whole blocks of houses were torn down"). "Children play on the mall while their parents shop," enthused the story, "and it is used as well for square dances, art shows, fairs and other events."

The trouble was, they ran a picture. It gave the whole show away. It was a picture of the mall, with two (2) boys playing — and not another living being in sight. The store fronts were in gloomy shadows behind the covered sidewalks. There wasn't a shopper to be seen. Not even a proprietor standing in the doorway hoping to snag a stray customer.

It reminded me of my friend's apartment, and all those missing moms and pops.

Wintry Storm Continues To Grip Western Areas

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

A wintry storm, packing snow and icy temperatures, continued to grip the West today, where it was blamed for one death.

Mrs. Wilma Ruth Lindsay, 26, Emmett, Idaho, was found Sunday sitting barefoot and frostbitten in the middle of a high mountain road about 64 miles east of Boise, Idaho. The woman, though suffering from exposure, was alive. Authorities found the body of her 8-month-old son, Andrew, under a layer of snow about 200 yards from where she was found. Her other son, Matthew, 3, was found in her stranded Volkswagen about two miles away, cold but otherwise uninjured.

Heavy snow warnings were in effect today for northeastern Nevada and northern Utah and travelers' warnings were in effect for most of the remainder of the Rockies and plateau regions.

Sub-zero temperatures reigned from the northern Rockies to the upper Mississippi Valley and four inches of snow accumulated in Ely, Mont., in six hours Sunday night.

Paradise Valley on Mt. Rainier, Wash., reported 131 inches of snow on the ground. Paradise Valley has gotten 299 inches of snow thus far this season.

Now that the 7% excise tax is repealed, you'll save money on all of our cars. But that's nothing new from us.

For the past 24 years, Volkswagens have had the justified reputation of saving people money.

And now that the 7% federal excise tax has been repealed, you can save even more.

In fact, even if you happened to have bought one of our cars before now but after Aug. 15, the 7% will still be refunded to you at your Volkswagen dealer.

If you bought one before Aug. 15, don't feel deprived.

You're still saving over the average car about $1500 on the car itself, over $100 a year on gas, and $who-knows-how-much on repairs.

Poor Defendants Win Court Records Nod

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Senate and House negotiators refused today to exempt news media from wage-price controls.

A Senate amendment to a controls bill granting the exemption as a means of protecting government encroachment on First Amendment protections was jettisoned as conferees began drafting a compromise measure to send President Nixon.

The legislation would extend his authority to control wages and prices for another year.

Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., who sponsored the news exemption amendment, announced the conferees' decision to reporters.

Cranston said his amendment was dropped after James Smith, a Treasury Department liaison official, indicated to the conferees that the press, radio and television would be exempted administratively.

Cranston, however, said the assurances were "vague." He said Smith told the negotiators that it would be too complicated and costly to supervise wages and prices in the industry, partly because of difficulty in establishing guidelines based on productivity.

Cranston said the Senate provision was dropped in favor of House language barring wage and price review panels from interfering with First Amendment rights which involve freedom of the press and free speech.

News Media Wage Plan Is Rejected

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Supreme Court ruled unanimously today that states must provide a convicted indigent with a free copy of his trial record in nonfelony as well as in felony cases.

justice William J. Brennan Jr. emphasized in an opinion for the Court that the trial transcript need not be made available automatically but only after an individual's claims to it have been properly considered.

The ruling came in the case of Jack L. Mayer who was convicted of violating two Chicago ordinances and fined $250 on each offense. Illinois denied him a free transcript for appeal purposes on the ground that state court rules allow one only in felony cases.

Mayer's claim now goes back to state courts.

Justice Harry A. Blackmun noted in a concurring opinion that Mayer may now have completed his professional training as a physician and may no longer be indigent. At the time of the conviction, Mayer was a third-year student in New York University medical school.

Chief Justice Warren E. Burger in a concurring opinion also cautioned that when costs are paid by the public "counsel are sometimes profligate in their demands."

"When excessive demands are made by an appellant in order to postpone the day when the appeal is finally determined, because, for example, he is at liberty pending appeal, a lawyer who cooperates is guilty of unprofessional conduct," the chief justice said. In a second case from Craven County, N.C., the Court ruled 5 to 2 that Charles W. Britt was properly denied a free copy of the record of his first trial — which ended in a hung jury — for use in his second trial.

Justice Thurgood Marshall, speaking for the majority, said the court reporter was well known to local lawyers and could have read back his notes at the second trial upon request. Justices William O. Douglas and William J. Brennan Jr. dissented.

A Guest Slot

Marin City Land Fuss To Supervisors

The stalemate between Marin City residents and two county agencies over release of choice ridgelands above the Southern Marin community will reach the county board of supervisors tomorrow.

The board, at its weekly session beginning at 9 a.m. in the Civic Center, is expected to be asked by the irate residents to intervene in the dispute.

The Marin County Redevelopment Agency and its sister organization, the county housing authority, have agreed to release 167 acres of ridgeland to California Development Co. in exchange for title to flatland within Marin City itself. That property is now held by California Development, which has failed to meet development commitments.

Residents, fearing loss of the ridgeland would endanger community self-destiny hopes, object to the proposed release.

Tomorrow, the board will also consider again a request for funds from the debt-ridden Legal Aid Society of Marin.

County Administrator John F. Barrows has recommended that the board approve an appropriation of $6,714 to see the agency through March 31, when federal money is expected.

Discussion by the board, meanwhile, of an amendment to the county's new emergency ordinance on grading has been postponed to the Dec. 21 meeting.

The postponement will enable review of additional information from county agencies.

The amendment would require a special committee to review all applications for road work.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors also is expected:

HOSPITAL — To consider an offer from Marin General Hospital that county morgue and laboratory facilities be included in the hospital's master plan study now under way.

FAIRGROUNDS — To consider spending $95,000 on improvements to the new county fairgrounds. The funds are surplus from other projects in the auditorium and fairgrounds budget.

CLAIM — To consider a recommendation that it settle a claim against the county by a former employee of the public defender's office. The former employee, Alfred Haro of San Francisco, has agreed to accept $1,475 in lieu of salary claims.

Fireman Taken To Hospital For Smoke Treatment

A fire which broke out in a small out-building at 125 Montford Avenue in Tamalpais Valley Friday night destroyed the building and sent one fireman to a hospital for treatment for smoke inhalation.

Firemen said the building, estimated to be about 14 feet by 9 feet, was completely engulfed in flames when they arrived. They were called by a neighbor at 7:39 p.m.

They did not know the name of the person living there nor the owner of the property. No estimate of the value of the building had been made.

Firemen Patrick McClure was treated later at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Rafael for smoke inhalation, a hospital spokesman said.

Marin Tars Stomp Napa; Reedley Wins Tourney

By RALPH CHATOIAN
I-J Sports Editor

Mike Bradley and Eddie Swillis of Reedley Junior College showed Marin County fans some great basketball in leading their team to the championship of the College of Marin Invitational Tournament but it was little 5-foot-8 Pierre Jones of Santa Rosa who set the record.

Reedley defeated Santa Rosa J.C., 78-68, in the championship game Saturday night in Kentfield. Bradley, voted most valuable player in the tourney, scored 26 points and teammate Swillis hit 25, but Jones' 23 points gave him a total of 80 for the tourney. Although he missed the tourney record of 81 points, his 34 field goals beat by two a record held by five players.

Marin won third place trophy in the sixth annual tourney by dumping Napa J.C., 86-42, and Ohlone of Newark won the consolation title by edging Solano College of Suisun, 40-39.

Swillis, who scored 66 points in the tourney, Bradley, who hit 70, and Jones were joined on the all-tourney team by Marin guard Joe Smith, Santa Rosa's Dennis Narduzzi and Ohlone's Chuck Pierce.

In the championship game Saturday night, Santa Rosa controlled the boards early in the game and jumped out to a 12-5 lead. The Bear Cubs remained in front throughout the first half and led at the halftime break by nine, 37-28. But the Tigers of Reedley rallied early in the second half and Swillis hit three straight baskets to put them ahead by 47-42. It was a lead the Tigers were never to give up.

Reedley got many of their points off a fast break which was a strong point the night before when the Tigers knocked Marin out of title contention with a close 86-84 decision.

Marin's victory over Napa came with incrediable ease. The Chiefs kept trying long outlet passes on a fast break and Marin kept intercepting and going for the score. Eleven and one half minutes into the game Marin was in front, 25-11. Freshman guard Joe DeMaestri was tenacious on the floor and 6-foot-9 Neil Traub, also a freshman from Novato High, was tough on Marin's offensive board.

Marin coach John Panagakis was shuttling in his guards and all did a good job. Good defense came from Charles Flynn, Ron "Elmo" Small and Pat Purcell. The Tars forced Napa into 25 ball control errors in the first half and romped off the court with a 48-17 lead.

Normally hot-shooting Steve Bakker was completely shut off by the Tars and held to only two free throws until he left the game at his own request. Bearded Roger Miller had to take up the slack, scoring 13 points, the only Chief to hit for double figures. All but one of Marin's 13 players hit the scoreboard, led by Traub with 17 points and Smith with 14.

Halfway through the second half, Napa's players litterally gave up, allowing Marin to race down the court for easy baskets while they just hung back on their end of the court.

"They really came back," declared Panagakis. "They showed they were ready to come back and play basketball," he said about the turn around of form between Friday's loss and Saturday's win.

Marin, now with a 7-1 record gets back to action this week by playing the two teams it whipped in the tourney, both games in Kentfield. Tomorrow it will be the Chiefs of Napa, and Friday it will be the Yuba College 49ers, a team Marin whipped, 94-68, in the tournament opener last Thursday night. Both games are at 8 p.m.

SPORT NOTES

'Do Not Disturb Between 6 And 9'

By RALPH CHATOIAN

My instructions to wife and kids: No talking tonight between the hours of 6 and 9 p.m. I do not want to be disturbed. Give me my blinders, sit me down in my new reclining chair, point me toward the television set, and then let me be.

That television game tonight between the Rams and Redskins has Priority 1 to all 49er fans. A victory by the Redskins over the Rams would put the 49ers in first place in the National Football Conference west with only one game (against the Detroit Lions) to go.

YESTERDAY'S 24-3 victory over the Atlanta Falcons was the 49ers' best game of the year. It was beautiful. Everything went right and nothing seemed to go wrong for the 49ers. Why, even a pass was tipped in the air once and it bounced into the arms of a 49er, Gene Washington. Amazing!

Even 49er coach Dick Nolan said it was the 49ers' best game. Sitting in a chair against the wall in his office, a pack of reporters busily scribbling down his words, Nolan quietly said, "John (Brodie) did a great job. I think he mixed up the plays really good. . . his play selection was very good. Our execution was very good. Yes, it was our best game." He was obviously pleased.

Would he care to comment on the Monday Rams-Redskins game? "The defenses are very similar. Washington has a little more speed than L.A. It will be a control type of game."

MONDAY IS A BUSY time for NFL coaches, and Nolan said he would not be able to see all the game on TV. "But I'll see the last part." I bet he will.

It's always said Nolan is a perfect gentleman, and I'll be the first to agree. After filling up my notebook and leaving the Niners' dressing room I found a long line of cars leaving the press and players' parking section of Candlestick. Who do you think stopped and let me and my little red Volkswagen in line? The smiling Dick Nolan, that's who. And he's telling the truth in that radio ad about a Peninsula Cadillac dealership — he does drive a Caddy.

Specials team player Elmer Collett of Mill Valley who learned the basics at Tamalpais High and College of Marin had a fine game, making two tackles and recovering a fumble. He's always one of the early arrivals on 49er kickoffs and punts, either making the initial hit or forcing the ball carrier to commit himself in either direction.

WHAT ABOUT TV Monday night? "I'm going duck hunting in Colusa Monday but I'll find a television set in time for the game," Collett said.

It will be a busy Monday for 49er fleet running back Vic Washington. His plans call for him to be at Holiday Inn, Terra Linda, at noon today, and in Sacramento this evening, for speaking engagements at both locations. "I don't know if I will be able to see any of the (Rams-'Skins) game on television," said the rookie who might go over the 2,000-yard mark in total offense (rushing, pass receiving and kickoff returns) this year.

Brodie took a good slap at the Candlestick Astroturf after the game. "This is the worst football field I have ever seen when it gets wet. We were falling all over the place." Brodie kept his balance long enough to complete 9 of 18 passed for 126 yards and RUN for 17 yards and a touchdown in two carries. His touchdown run came on a bootleg play in which he fooled everybody on fourth down and one to go from the five. His other run came when all his receivers were covered. He ran out of bounds after gaining 12 yards on that one.

DEFENSIVE BACK Jimmy Johnson intercepted a pass, broken right wrist and all, and explained in the dressing room later, "It was the kind of pass I could catch without using my right hand." He said his injury is healing. "Pain is pain, but let's just say it's healing."

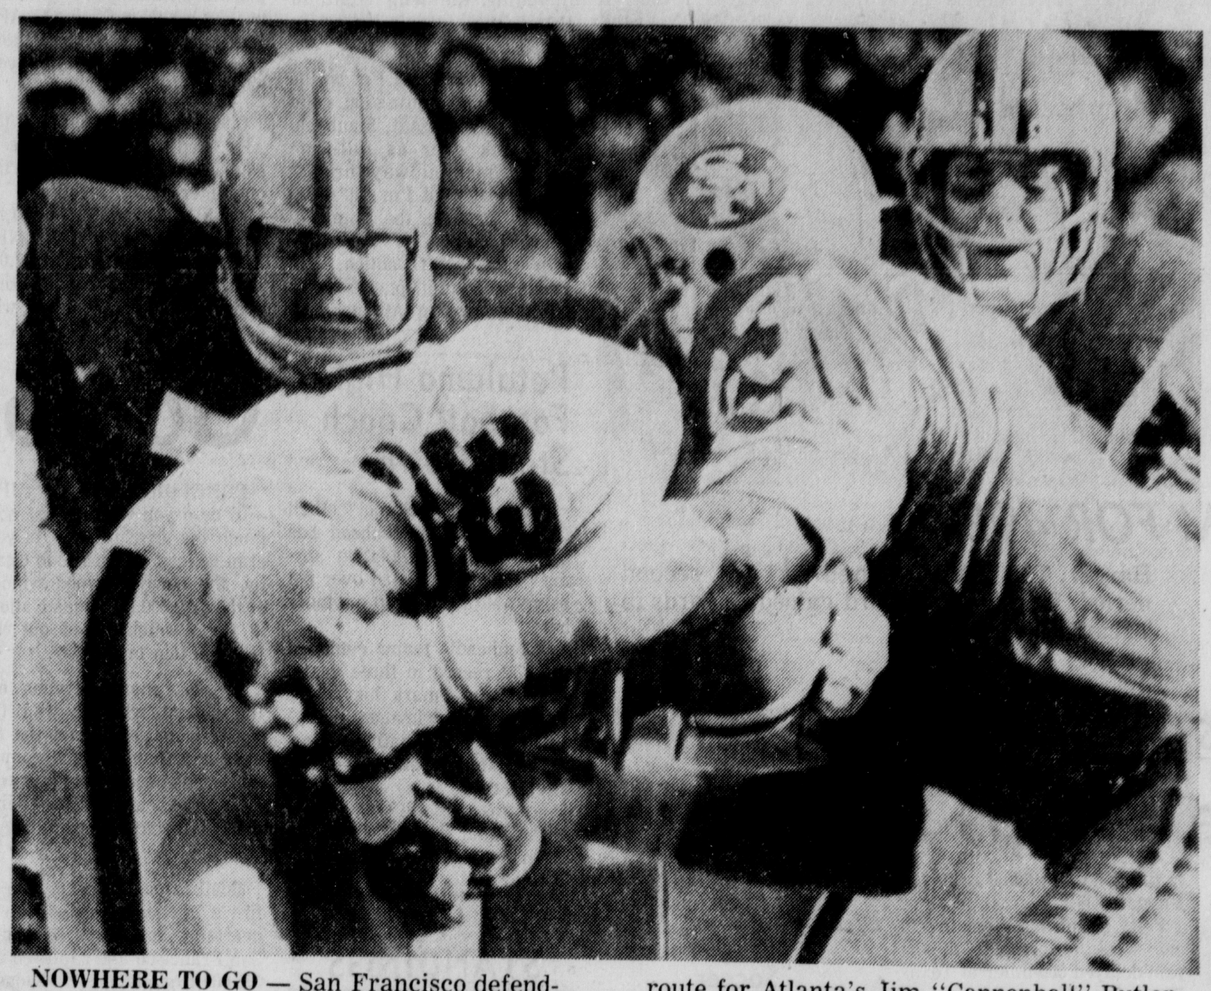
Place kicker Bruce Gossett used his longest kick of the year, a 48-yarder, to set a 49er all-time record of 22 field goals in a season, breaking his own mark of 21 set last year. Gossett, who openly admits a dislike of former boss George Allen, finds himself surprisingly rooting for an Allen coached team tonight.

Twi-Nighters To Highlight Giant Schedule

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —A pair of twi-night doubleheaders, both on Tuesday, is a new wrinkle in the 1972 home schedule of the San Francisco Giants.

The defending Western Division champions will open the season at home April 6 against the San Diego Padres and play 81 games at Candlestick Park. The twi-night affairs will be against Cincinnati May 16 and the Padres Aug. 8.

Six Sunday doubleheaders are scheduled and there are 26 night dates. Opponents in the Sunday doubleheaders will be the Padres, Montreal, Pittsburgh, Houston, Cincinnati and Atlanta.



NOWHERE TO GO — San Francisco defenders Tommy Hart (53), Charlie Krueger (70) and Skip Vanderbundt sealed off the escape route for Atlanta's Jim "Cannonball" Butler and dropped him for no gain. The 49ers won, 24-3.

California Skaters Hot In Berkeley

BERKELEY (UPI) —Southern California skaters dominated the three days of competition in the Pacific Coast Figure Skating championships at Iceland.

Robert Bradshaw of Los Angeles beat out John Baldwin of San Diego and Richard Ewell of Santa Monica to win the men's title. Top three finishers in each event qualified for the nationals to be held in Long Beach Jan. 12-16.

Other Southern California winners were Greg Boyvin and Allison Blake in the novice pairs and James Hulick and Cynthia Van Valkenburg in senior pairs. Both couples represent the Arctic Blades Figure Skating Club of Los Angeles.

Kim McIsaac of Harbor City took the novice ladies and Perry Jewell of Los Angeles won the novice mens.

AWAIT RAM RESULT

49ers Clip Atlanta, 24-3

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—As a head coach, Dick Nolan has to wonder why it can't be that perfect every Sunday.

This past one, his San Francisco 49ers put it all together, as coaches like to say, and it came as no surprise that they beat the Atlanta Falcons, 24-3.

Offensively and defensively the 49ers were nearly letter perfect. They made only one mistake all day—a pass interception—and when the Falcons made two, they converted them into scores.

"Execution-wise," said Nolan, "this was our best game of the year. "we did everything we had to do on defense and when the offense had the ball they moved it. I couldn't ask for a better performance."

The victory came just in time to keep the 49ers in the race for the division title in the NFC West. It was their eighth of the year compared to five losses and put them into a virtual tie for first with Los Angeles.

The Rams, who have a 7-4-1 record, host the Washington Redskins tonight. A victory would put them within reach of the division title because they finish up the season next Sunday against Pittsburgh. A loss would elevate the 49ers into the driver's seat and San Francisco could clinch its second division title in succession by beating Detroit next Sunday.

John Brodie, who couldn't do many things right in a 26-17 loss to the Kansas City Chiefs last Monday, enjoyed one of his best days against the Falcons. Brodie connected on nine of 18 passes for 126 yards and a touchdown and scored on a five-yard run around right end.

His scoring strike was a pass to young Larry Schreiber and it came on a fake end-around. With the Falcon defense chasing Ted Kwalick, Brodie stepped back and threw eight yards to Schreiber, who took the ball on the 15 and ran it home.

Both that score and the one on Brodie's run came as a result of Atlanta mistakes.

On the first, linebacker Skip Vanderbundt intercepted a pass by Bob Berry on the Atlanta 33 and ran it to the 23. On the very first play, Brodie hit Schreiber for the score. That made it 14-0, coming after Ken Willard wrapped up a short drive with a one-yard smash.

On the following kickoff, Willie Belton fumbled the ball after John Isenbarger nailed him, and Elmer Collett picked it up at the Atlanta 33. Brodie needed seven plays to wind up the

Redwood's Press Wins At Riordan

Redwood High School invoked the First Amendment Saturday night to defeat Wilson of San Francisco, 57-36, and win the Crusader Classic basketball tournament at Riordan High.

The First Amendment guarantees freedom of the press, and the Giants used a devastating full-court press to jump out to a 27-8 first-quarter lead. The game was never close after that.

Tamalpais defeated Capuchino of San Bruno, 72-62, to win third place and complete a Marin County sweep of the tournament. Local teams went 4-0 against schools from the Peninsula. Tam's defeat in the semi-finals was administered by Redwood.

"The press kind of surprised Wilson," said Redwood coach Dick Hart. "They use it a lot themselves, but they weren't expecting it from us.

"Winning this tournament was a great shot in the arm for us. The players are developing confidence in themselves. Also, we were able to use our bench quite a bit, which pleased me."

Redwood (6-0) again got outstanding performances from its guards. Mike Connor scored 17 points and Sam Farb added 13.

Marin Prep Cagers Resume Tomorrow

After sharpening their claws on each other for a week, Marin County Athletic League basketball teams again turn their attention to attacking various non-league opponents throughout northern California.

Tomorrow, Drake travels to Santa Rosa to face Montgomery at 4 p.m. Terra Linda visits Santa Rosa at 7 and San Marin journeys to Healdsburg, 7:30. The lone local game is at San Rafael, with Armjo of Fairfield invading at 7.

Terra Linda (3-4), fresh from a fourth-place finish in the Drake Invitational Tournament, takes on a tough foe. Santa Rosa is the defending co-champion of the North Bay League, and features an attack based on quickness and outside shooting. In its only start against a Marin County foe, Santa Rosa forced unbeaten Redwood into the final minutes before falling, 61-55.

Terra Linda will counter with its own quickness, including fast breaks on offense and pressing on defense. The Trojans have dropped two straight, but in their 54-52 loss to Novato Saturday may have found another front-line player. Brian Wall scored 13 points and teams with sparkplug John Buckley to provide an effective guard tandem.

Terra Linda's inside work will come from Mark Lowey, who was an all-tournament selection last weekend. So was Buckley.

Drake (3-4) probably will continue its hero-of-the-day routine against Montgomery. It seems like a different person sparks the Pirates in each game, the latest being Ed Chavez, who hit some key free throws in the tournamentvictory over San Marin. Mark Daubenfeld has hit double figures two games in a row for Drake.

Montgomery has played one Marin County foe, beating Novato, 60-57.

San Marin (1-4) will be trying to break a three-game losing streak against Healdsburg. The lefthanded shots of Hoza Wright and Fred Doar have been the Mustangs' most effective weapons lately, although Ken Siler emerged with a 10-point performance Saturday against Drake.

Healdsburg is vulnerable. The Greyhounds were obliterated earlier in the year by San Rafael, 62-29, and Terra Linda, 72-39.

San Rafael (3-3) gets a chance to take out its Drake Tournament disappointment on Armijo. The third-seeded Bulldogs were eliminated in the first round and then lost the consolation game to Marin Catholic.

One bright spot for San Rafael has been the play of Doni Canfield, an all-tournament selection at Drake.

PETALUMA WINS

Novato Grabs 3rd At Drake

By LEW CODDINGTON

For sheer drama, Saturday night's conclusion of the Drake Invitational basketball tournament couldn't have been better. In fact, the 6:30 p.m. show was such a hit that they showed it again at 8.

In the early-evening third-place game, Novato High School edged Terra Linda, 54-52. In the nightcap for the championship, Petaluma upset Napa by the identical score. In each case, the star of the game was a guard for the winning team.

Joe Robinson hit four consecutive free throws in the last minute to save Novato. Kevin Gillmore hit a jump shot with 1:58 left to give Petaluma its triumph. Gillmore scored 14 points, played an outstanding floor game and was named the four-day tournament's most valuable player.

Marin Catholic defeated San Rafael for fifth place, 46-40. Host Drake edged San Marin for seventh, 53-48.

Tiny Petaluma (6-1) won the tournament for the second straight year. Napa (5-1) went into the title game unbeaten with a 6-foot-11 center, Stu Walkenhorst, and dominated the first quarter on the strength of his inside game.

Petaluma was down 19-9 when its quickness and full-court press began to tell. The Trojans went ahead 25-24 and were never headed again, although the score was tied four times along the way.

Walkenhorst scored 22 points but was not intimidating after the first quarter. Al Highstreet scored 11, John Zakariassen, 10, and Jim Thomas, nine for Petaluma. The Trojans enhanced their quickness by playing three guards most of the second half — Gillmore, Zakariassen and Jim Sampietro.

The Novat-Terra Linda game saw the two teams alternate hot streaks throughout. Novato (3-4) led 10-6 early, but the Trojans (3-4) surged to go ahead 23-16 and led at the half, 25-20. Novato quickly tied things at 27-all, but Terra Linda went ahead 38-34, only to fall behind 47-41. Two baskets by John Buckley and one by Mike Bodeen tied the count again at 47 apiece with 2:14 remaining.

At this point, Novato's Marty Moroski returned after a brief rest on the bench. Hampered by a cold and tight defensive work by Andy Mora and Todd Young, he had scored only two points in the first half, but now he was hitting.

Moroski sank a jumper off an out-of-bounds play to put Novato back ahead, 49-47. Terra Linda later got a free throw, but still trailing by one, had to press, and fouled Robinson.

The lefthander made two shots for breathing room at 51-48, but Buckley hit two free throws to cut the gap back to one. With 20 seconds left, Robinson was fouled again and hit both shots of a one-on-one, so two later free throws by Terra Linda's Mark Lowey went for naught. The game's final point came after a foul at the buzzer.

"We made some mistakes, but we came back in the second half," said Novato coach Jim Caranica. "Marty (Moroski) didn't have a big scoring night but he steadied the team. Robinson won the game for us."

Robinson scored 18 points, Willie Barnes 13 and Moroski 12. Buckley finished with 11 and Brian Wall, subbing for injured

NFL ROUNDUP

Dallas Gets Title—Again

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Dallas crushed the New York Giants 42-14 to gain the title. Roger Staubach threw three TD passes, including two of 46 and 85 yards to Bob Hayes, to highlight the rout. Calvin Hill and Duane Thomas also chipped in with two touchdowns each for the Cowboys.

Staubach completed 10-of-14 passes in his three quarters, including the long bomb to Hayes, the season's longest in the NFL.

"I personally feel I'm on the verge of becoming a good quarterback," said Staubach, who took over as full-time quarterback midway through the season. "But I'm still striving to become the complete quarterback."

In other NFC action, San Francisco kept its playoff hopes alive by ripping Atlanta 24-3, Green Bay stomped Chicago 3110 and Philadelphia whipped St. Louis 19-7. Minnesota clinched the Central title Saturday with a 29-10 victory over Detroit.

In the AFC, Houston edged Buffalo 20-14, San Diego clobbered Denver 45-17, the New York Jets beat New England 13-6 and Pittsburgh rallied to defeat Cincinnati 21-13. Baltimore beat Miami 14-3 Saturday to take a half-game in the AFC East but the Chiefs' victory assured both teams of playoff berths.

Cleveland, which clinched the AFC Central title last week, edged New Orleans 21-17 in the only inter-conference game.

John Brockington became only the fourth rookie in NFL history to gain more than 1,000 yards as he led the Packers over Chicago. Brockington, who scored one TD, gained 62 yards to push his season's total to 1,032.

Tom Dempsey kicked four field goals and Pete Liske threw a 69-yard TD pass to Harold Jackson as the resurgent Eagles beat the crumbling Cardinals. Dempsey, dropped by New Orleans earlier this year, hit on field goals of 27, 22, 24 and a club record 54 yards.

Robert Holmes' two-yard TD run with 24 seconds left gave Houston its victory over Buffalo and assured the Bills of the No. 1 pick in the February pro football draft. The Bills ars1-12.

John Hadl's four TD passes, including a 77-yarder to Gary Garrison, sparked San Diego over Denver. The four TD passes put Hadl into the league lead in that department with 21 for the season.

Phil Wise's fumble recovery on the New England one and Steve Tannen's deflected punt set up a pair of scores as the Jets stopped the Patriots for the sixth straight time at home. Wise recovered Carl Garrett's fumble to set up John Riggins' TD plunge and Tannen's blocked punt set the stage for Bobby Howfield's 42-yard field goal.

Terry Bradshaw, benched until late in the third quarter, threw TD passes to John Fuqua and Ron Shanklin to rally Pittsburgh past Cincinnati. Bradshaw threw a 40-yard scoring pass to Fuqua and hit Shanklin with a five-yarder after Ralph Anderson's interception.

Bo Scott and Leroy Kelly plunged for short-yardage TDs and defensive tackle Walter Johnson recovered a fumble in the end zone for another score to spark Cleveland over the Saints.

Petaluma High Football Coach Steps Down

Petaluma High School football coach Howard Cadenhead has announced his resignation, saying "I'm disappointed over not being able to develop a winner here."

Cadenhead's teams compiled a 7-27-2 record in three years, including a 3-6 mark this fall, 2-4 in the North Bay League.

The 32-year old native of Marysville came to Petaluma in 1968 after serving as an assistant at Santa Rosa High. He will remain at Petaluma, teaching and working in the athletic department.

Goalby Tips Archer

FREEPORT, Bahamas (UPI) —In case you wonder just how much the pressure gets to veteran golfers, just ask Bob Goalby, the newly-crowned winner of the $130,000 Bahamas National Open which closed out the 1971 golf tour on Sunday.

"I was more nervous out there than when I won the Masters in 1968," said the 42-year-old former paratrooper and college football player who joined tha tour in 1957. "For a while I thought I was going to choke."

Goalby fought his nerves to fire a 70 which enabled him to overtake Big George Archer of San Francisco and captured the $26,000 first-place prize money, more than the $23,203 he had won in 39 previous tournaments this year. His four-round total was 69-70-66-70--275. Archer was 66-67-71-72--276.

"All I could think about was having to qualify on Mondays if I didn't win this one," he said. His victory moved him into the top 60 money winners thereby insuring that he won't have to qualify.

Goalby, who sank a magnificent 30 foot blast from a sandtrap on the seventhole to move ahead of Archer, also had to sink two critical putts on the 17th and 18th holes, both about seven feet.

"those were two of the greatest putts I have ever made," said Goalby, who had earlier this week been considering taking a job as a club professional in Detroit. He had decided not take the job, a decision he said he made before today.

Archer, the third-round leader, hit the ball poorly Sunday, finishing with a one over par 72. His prize money of $14,800 for second place increased his earnings to $139,158.48, behind only Jack Nicklaus, Lee Trevino and Arnold Palmer on the official earnings list.

A drive into the woods on the 12th hole cost Archer his third tournament victory of the season as he took a double bogie. Archer, who complained he was not hitting the ball well, took three bogies during his round, twice when errant drives caught the rough and once when he hit into the sand. He birdied the 15th and 16th holes to keep the pressure on Goalby but the latter refused to wilt.

The pressure was also apparent on young Grier Jones, who went into the final round tied with Goalby a shot behind Archer. Jones, obviously nervous, hit into sandtraps on the first two holes, saving his par on the first but missing a three-foot putt for a bogie on the second.

Ron Cerrudo finished with a 286, 11 strokes off the winning pace.

Nastase Whips Smith

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

PARIS — Ilie Nastase headed back to his native Romania today with $15,000 in his pocket, the fruit of his 5-7, 7-6, 6-3 victory yesterday over Stan Smith of the United States in the Pepsi Masters Tennis Tournament.

The tournament, which offered $50,000 in total prize money, was the last in a season that has been marked by the breakup of relations between the Amateur International Lawn Tennis Federation (ILTF) and the World Championship Tennis (WCT).

The dark-haired Nastase won first-place in the week-long round-robin competition without losing a single one of his six matches.

Seals Shock Boston 4-2 In Oakland

OAKLAND (UPI) — There was a distinct eastern Massachusetts flavor in the coliseum-arena but it didn't help the Boston Bruins.

Ex-Bruins Ivan Boldirev and Wayne Carleton, along with former Weymouth (Mass.) High School product Bobby Sheehan, scored goals Sunday night to carry the California Golden Seals to a 4-2 win over Boston.

The Seals grabbed third place all by themselves in the NHL West while ending the Bruins 12-game unbeaten string.

It was probably the most stirring game the Seals have played since rookie goalie Gilles Meloche shut out the Bruins 2-0 at Boston Garden Oct. 28.

Raider Title Hope Dashed

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Every one of the 51,215 spectators knew that if the Kansas City Chiefs were going to do it, it would be Otis Taylor that got it done.

The 6-foot-3, 215-pound wide receiver had carried the Chiefs all season with his spectacular catches. And he came through with a 16-yarder Sunday that was as responsible as anything for handing the Chiefs the Western Division Championship in the American Football Conference.

Behind 14-13, the Chiefs got the ball on their own seven with 5:35 to play. Quarterback Len Dawson twice threw incomplete. But on third down, he threaded the football to Taylor between two defenders and the Chiefs were on their way with a first down at the 23.

"The team depends on me to make the big catch," the 29-year-old Prairie View product said. "I know I've got to be the one that pulls 'em out of the hole—and that gives me confidence."

The Chiefs sprang 90 yards to Oakland's three before Jan Stenerud lofted a 10-yard field goal with 1:34 to play, giving the Chiefs a 16-14 victory and ending Oakland's four-year reign as Western Division champs.

Four times during the drive Taylor caught Dawson passes, the last one for four yards to the Oakland 41. From there, Taylor ran a deep route and Dawson tried to find him again.

Cornerback Jimmy Warren, subbing for Nemiah Wilson, who had been shaken up on another Taylor catch several plays earlier, tripped Taylor at the 12 as the ball sailed harmlessly over both.

An official quickly tossed a flag for pass interference, the Chiefs ran three running plays and Stenerud kicked the winning field goal.

"I like to think I had him beat pretty good," Taylor said of the play that resulted in the pass interference call. "Whether he tripped me intentionally, I don't know, but it was a clear penalty."

In the Oakland dressing room, Raider Coach John Madden said, "the third-down pass to Taylor was the big play, of course. I felt we had them. We had the opportunities to score. Now the season is over for us as far as any championships are concerned. When we blocked the punt, things seemed to be swinging our way."

Second-year pro Gerald Irons blocked Jerrel Wilson's punt late in the third quarter and Oakland scored the go-ahead touchdown after a 26-yard drive 41 seconds into the last period. Marv Hubbard scored from the one, his second touchdown of the game.

The Chiefs (9-3-1) close out the regular season next Sunday against Buffalo here, then host the first playoff game Dec. 25 or 26 against the Eastern Division champion, possibly Baltimore.

Kansas City Coach Hank Stram called the contest "one of the greatest games we've ever had. The catches by Otis were just splendid. You have to use many more adjectives than I can use. Our cry all year has been, 'We've got to get it to Otis.' This game is typical of what happens when we get it to him."

Both Oakland touchdowns came after 44-year-old George Blanda replaced Daryle Lamonica at quarterback in the second quarter.

Blanda, who twice had worked his miracles to tie the Chiefs in the last two years, was smashed while trying to pass early in the third quarter by the Chiefs' 270-pound tackle, Buck Buchanan.

Blanda had to be helped from the field, but returned minutes later without missing an offensive down.

"The thing that amazed me about him," said Buchanan, "was that he got up and came back and moved the team. I've got nothing but respect for a great veteran like him."

Added Stram, "Blanda is an artist. That's all there is to it. They believe in him so strongly."

The division championship was the Chiefs' first since 1966. They won the Super Bowl after the 1969 season when they qualified for the playoffs as the best second-place team.

Kansas City's victory also was only its fourth in the last 14 games with Oakland.

Terra Linda guard Eric Borcherding (ankle) got 13.

Marin Catholic (3-3), playing "a little better defense than we had been doing," beat out San Rafael (3-3) for third place. It was the second straight victory for the Wildcats under coach Dave Gonsalves, who just returned from the teachers' strike.

Gonsalves credited pivotman Steve Vanni for a large share of the victory. Vanni scored 12 points —10 from the free-throw line — and gathered 14 rebounds. "Mickey Hurley looked great on defense," the coach continued. "He held (San Rafael's) Doni Canfield to two points in the first half." Canfield finished with 14, high for either team.

Ed Chavez of Drake (3-4) had four waning-minute free throws among his 12 points as the Pirates staved off San Marin (1-4). Mark Daubenfeld and Dave Wilkinson added 10 each, while Hoza Wright led San Marin with 14. Fred Doar chipped in 13 and Ken Siler 10.

The ten-man all-tournament team consisted of Moroski and Robinson from Novato; Buckley and Lowey from Terra Linda; Canfield from San Rafael; Barry Nelson, Tom Warrington and Walkenhorst from Napa; and Zakariassen and Thomas from Petaluma. MVP Gillmore was the lone repeater from last year's team. Petaluma was adjudged to have the best rooting section.

Moreover, the Giants committed only eight turnovers.

Redwood shot well from the floor, hitting 22 of 47 shots for 47 per cent. Tim Hennessy also was in double figures, scoring 14. Steve McGee notched only four, but "did an outstanding job on defense against Wilson's big man," according to Hart.

McGee, Hennessy and Connor made the all-tournament team, as did Will Garner and Jared McFerrin of Tamalpais.

Tam's Indians (4-2) also jumped on top in the first quarter and remained ahead throughout. Capuchino closed within four points with about four minutes left but could not get nearer.

Garner scored 26 points and snatched 18 rebounds. As a team, Tam sank 29 of 61 for 47 per cent. McFerrin also was in double figures with 15.

"Most everybody played for us," said Tam coach Bernie Schneider. "This tournament was quite a feather in the cap for Marin County teams."

drive, keeping the ball on a rollout, for a 21-0 lead.

All this transpired by 4:31 of the second quarter and the game was over, for all practical purposes, at that point. Nolan was lavish in his praise of Brodie.

"He called a great game," said Nolan. "He was simply beautiful."

A 48-yard field goal by Bruce Gossett, his 22nd of the year for a club record, accounted for the other San Francisco points. Dick Shiner booted an 18-yard field goal in the 10th minute of the second quarter for the only Atlanta points.

The loss was the sixth compared to six victories and a tie and dropped the Falcons out of the race for a playoff spot in the NFC West. They needed a victory against San Francisco to stay alive.

Norm Van Brocklin, the Atlanta coach, was disappointed by his team's performance and magnanimous in his praise of the 49ers.

"We got whipped every way you can in a game," said Van Brocklin. "The 49ers played a fine game. They didn't make a mistake and we made a few. I'd guess you'd have to say that made the difference."

The San Francisco defense, the club's long suit all season, played an outstanding game. The defenders held the Falcons to 61 yards rushing and 69 passing. Berry, who didn't have more than a half dozen good chance to throw, hit on only nine of 23 attempts.

"The rush kept him in hot water," said Nolan of Berry. "We didn't give him time to throw and the few times he had a chance his men were covered. Our linebackers seemed to be in the right places all the time and that has to discourage a quarterback."

Willard ran for 62 yards in 22 carries and young Schrieber picked up 54 in six tries. Vic Washington had 33 in 13.

As Nolan pointed out, it was a perfect game for the 49ers. Now, they have to do it all over again Sunday against the Lions and hope Washington or Pittsburgh knocks off the Rams.

Quarterback Coy Hall, made three touchdown passes of 70 and 29 yards, with the longer one going to back Doug Jena. Jena also scored on a one-yard plunge and gained 126 yards in 13 carries.

Santa Rosa (10-2) scored on a one-yard plunge by Joe Stender and a 52-yard interception of an El Camino pitchout.

Lakers Take 21st In Row

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Bill Sharman reaped many honors during the Boston Celtics' glory years but he says it was nothing compared to this.

"This is my biggest thrill as either a coach or a player," said Sharman, after his Los Angeles Lakers set a National Basketball Association record of 21 consecutive victories Sunday night as they beat the Atlanta Hawks 104-95. "In the 26 years of the NBA, there have been 25 champions but none has ever won 21 in a row. Now we'll do our best to bring the championship to Los Angeles."

The Lakers had to struggle to break the record, set by the Milwaukee Bucks last season and equalled by the Lakers Friday night against Phoenix. Wilt Chamberlain, who had 24 rebounds, stuffed a basket with 39 seconds left to give Los Angeles a 98-95 lead and break the back of the Hawks' rally. Gail Goodrich scored 32 points, 22 in the first half, to lead the LA attack and Jerry West added 26.

"This was not one of our better games," said Sharman, in his first year as coach of the Lakers. "Our shooting was tight and we didn't get our running game going until the second half. But the players really wanted it."

And one of the players who wanted it most was Jerry West, one of the most competitive players in the league who has been denied a title despite more than a decade of brilliant performance.

"They called us old before the season started and they said Seattle had our division all wrapped up," said West. "But I guess this proves them different. It seems incredible to win this many games in a row. It's been so long I don't think we know how to lose."

Richie Guerin, the Atlanta coach, didn't think the Lakers deserved to win. "They may have deserved to win their last 20 but not this one," said Guerin. "The difference was Wilt's work on the boards."

The victory boosted the Lakers' record to 27-3. They have not lost since the end of October when West was out with an injury.

In other NBA action, the Houston Rockets edged the Seattle SuperSonics 100-98, the New York Knicks tripped the Cleveland Cavaliers 103-92 and the Boston Celtics beat the Cincinnati Royals 96-83.

Elvin Hayes hit a 10-foot jump shot at the buzzer to give Houston its victory over the Sonics. Hayes scored 16 of his game high 34 points in the final quarter to rally the Rockets from a three-point deficit and give them their third consecutive victory, their longest streak of the season.

Walt Frazier scored 30 points and Jerry Lucas hit 14 to go over the 12,000-point career mark as the Knicks downed Cleveland.

Floridians Fall To Pittsburgh In ABA Play

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Mark Binstein, the businessmanp-turned-basketball coach, was elated after the Pittsburgh Condors won their fourth straight game Sunday night, a 98-95 thriller over the Floridians.

"We're looking for the open man now on offense," Binstein said. "Hopefully, this is the last time we'll have to look behind to see who's catching up. Now, we can look ahead to see who we can catch."

The win, in the only American Basketball Association game of the night, gave Pittsburgh a secure hold on third place in the ABA East.

Balcony's Babe Wins Bay Meadows Race

SAN MATEO (UPI) — Balcony's Babe ($15.20) took the $20,000 Tropicana Handicap at Bay Meadows Saturday, half a length ahead of Irreproachable and Very Decidedly who finished in a dead heat for second.

SKIING

Swiss Shine; French Falter

VAL D'ISERE, France (UPI) —Certain trends are becoming clear after the first two ski meets of this new World Cup and Olympic season.

The first is that the Austrian and Swiss men racers are just about equal in the downhill and giant slalom events while the French are surprisingly weak.

Secondly, the French girls have showed they are still the best around—with the exception of Anne Marie Proell of Austria who is the women's world downhill champion.

Switzerland could do much better if it had a stronger girls team. The Swiss have scored only 14 World Cup points up to now compared to 90 by the French girls and 61 by the Austrians.

The Austrian men, meanwhile, have so far collected 96 points and the Swiss men, 95. France's male racers are way behind with 41 points.

But the St. Moritz and Val D'Isere competitions have not included any special slaloms—in which such Frenchmen as the two Augert brothers and Patrick Russel are among the world's best.

There was one women's special slalom here but it did not count for World Cup points.

The scene could very well look different following the next round of races in Sestriere, Italy, starting Thursday and which includes special slaloms and downhills for both the men and girls.

The national standings now are: 1. Austria 157 points, 2. France 131, 3. Switzerland 109.

Other countries are far behind, fourth place Norway for example having earned just 31 points so far.

There will always be the odd and pleasant surprise, however, with new names among the winners. Erik Haker of Norway, for one, took the giant slalom here while Rosi Mittermaier of Germany won the unofficial girls' slalom.

In Sunday's final race here, Veteran Karl Schranz of Austria won the downhill while the best American showing was the sixth place finish of Mike Lafferty of Eugene, Ore.

Quarterback Guthrie Leads Boise's Bowl Win

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) —Midway through the Camellia Bowl, Boise State's Eric Guthrie dejectedly concluded that he had "botched" his chances for a shot at professional football.

But a few hours later —with darkness settling over the empty stadium — the Scottish-born senior quarterback pushed long blond hair out of his eyes and managed an easy smile.

His change of mood reflected the dramatic turnabout that saw Boise erupt after a dismal first three quarters for 25 points in the closing period and a 32-28 bowl victory Saturday over Chico State.

With a huge helping hand from a bad case of "the fumbles" by Chico State, Guthrie directed three touchdown drives and lofted a 42-yard fieldgoal in the closing 13 minutes to quickly erase that first-half gloom.

Although he managed only 19 completions in 41 attempts, Guthrie hit 8 of 11 in the crucial closing minutes of the marathon struggle witnessed by 16,313.

OFF AND RUNNING — College and high school students (left) settled into unprecedented comfort today as the Golden Gate Bridge District began half-hourly local bus operations. These riders boarded in North Marin as the first coach worked its way south toward Mill Valley. The picture was not so bright, however, as the bus ran into freeway traffic (right) at San Rafael — making the students late for class at the College of Marin. Commuter service starting in three weeks will use buses with high-back reclining seats, and buses like this one with lower seats will be used on local operations.

MARIN BUS DEBUT

Riders Happy, A Bit Late

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

Posh buses, still smelling new, won immediate favor today with riders as the Golden Gate Bridge District kicked off its local bus service throughout Marin.

But the opening day was a qualified success, with the very first run, the 6:37 a.m. south from San Marin, 15 minutes behind schedule when it got to the College of Marin — with some two dozen students late for classes.

The bus was less than five minutes behind schedule when it went through San Rafael, but to the chagrin of the students, it then went back onto the freeway instead of following the former route over Wolfe Grade.

Heavy commuter traffic cost 10 minutes, but district officials differed over whether switching back to the Wolfe Grade route formerly served by Marin Transit Systems Inc. would save time.

. Most of the 23 buses in service today, however, were running no more than five minutes behind schedule, "which we don't even consider late for a first day," according to Jerome Kuykendall, the district's transportation developer.

Drivers had been instructed to err slightly on the late side rather than be early and bypass potential riders, he said.

The first quarter to clunk in the fare box was dropped by Laurie L. Peterson, 21, of 42 Laurie Court, Novato. She boarded with a wide-eyed "oh no" as three district officials and an Independent-Journal photographer's flash greeted her.

Miss Peterson, who boarded on Novato Boulevard at Novak Square, was confused momentarily by the "Mill Valley" destination sign on the bus, a confusion shared by many of the other riders.

A total of 29 persons had climbed on the bus before it got to the Kentfield campus, all but a few going to the college. Some got off to San Rafael and Marin Catholic high schools.

No one at all got on at the first stop at San Marin Drive and Sereno Way, although there was a flurry of expectation among the waiting district officials as three persons appeared out of the cold darkness. It turned out they were commuters catching a charter bus to San Francisco.

But one of them, Hermann E. Schnabel of 68 Sotelo Way, said he will switch to the bridge district's system because it will provide frequent service, giving him far greater flexibility than the once-a-day charter.

He also noted that the charter costs $38 a month, about $8 more than the district buses will cost.

The bridge district's commuter service to San Francisco will start Jan. 3, replacing Greyhound Lines with a vastly expanded network of service into populated areas of the county and north to Santa Rosa.

The two services, both local and commuter, will link at numerous points to provide transfers.

The first bus out of San Marin today, for example, has 90 stops before it turns around at Mill Valley.

Local service is limited to weekdays under the district's contract with the county, which is subsidizing the cost — estimated anywhere between $300,000 and $700,000 a year.

The commuter system will operate around the clock seven days a week.

Local service also includes routes between Sausalito and Novato, Sausalito and Belvedere, East Corte Madera and Sleepy Hollow, Peacock Gap and Fairfax, Santa Venetia and Terra Linda, and the Marin County Civic Center and Novato.

Schedules are available at city and county offices, banks, chambers of commerce and at the bridge district's bus base, 517 Jacoby Street, San Rafael.

One Novato rider to the College of Marin, Jan L. Pool, 19, of 67 Leland Drive, commented that the schedule "looks like a

President Thwarts Skyjack

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (UPI) — A submachine gun-toting President Jose Figueres led more than 200 National Guardsmen Sunday in surrounding a hijacked Nicaraguan jetliner, shooting its engines and tires, then killing two of the aerial pirates.

One passenger was wounded earlier when he tried to resist the hijackers.

The Lanica airlines pilot, Capt. Miguel Murciano, said he had just taken off from San Salvador, El Salvador on a flight from Miami to Managua, Nicaragua when three men pulled guns and said they were taking over.

Murciano said they demanded to be flown to Cuba but agreed to a landing in San Jose when they were told the plane would have to refuel.

Stewardesses Barbara Stein, Tonia Vigil and Cristian Lambote said that Alfonso Lobo, 29, son of the Nicaraguan agriculture minister, tried to resist the gunmen while the plane was in the air. He was shot in the leg, the hand and the stomach. Lobo was hospitalized in San Jose.

The hijackers let the passengers disembark in exchange for fuel. But Figueres sped to the airport and ordered police to prevent the takeoff. He took up a submachine gun and led police and guardsmen, who filled the plane with teargas, shot up the engines and flattened the tires.

The engines burst into flames and police fired into the plane through smashed windows.

Officials said Raul Ignacio Arana and Alfonso Acuna were killed and Guastavo Villanuevo escaped injury inside the plane but was roughed up by a crowd that gathered after the gunfire.

"Once the plane was surrouned, I saw that inside the plane one of them (hijackers) was pointing a gun at a stewardess," said President Figueres. "At that very moment, I ordered tear gas to fill the plane."

Figueres said the aerial pirates were members of a "subversive Nicaraguan group" of Communists.

Several hours after the incident, Figueres made an unusual telephone call from Costa Rica to a UPI reporter in Wash-

Indian Forces Draw Loop Around Dacca

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Indian paratroopers advanced to within six miles of the center of Dacca today, bringing the Pakistani defenders within range of their artillery, an Indian spokesman reported in New Delhi. He said the Indians would be in a position to capture Dacca within 24 to 28 hours.

Gen. S.H.F.J. Manekshaw, chief of staff of the Indian army, broadcast an appeal to Pakistani commanders in Dacca to surrender. But a pooled dispatch by American correspondents in Dacca said Gen. A.A.K. Niazi, the Pakistani commander there, vowed to fight to the last.

A military spokesman in Calcutta said the Indian paratroopers, dropped Saturday and later reinforced, had overcome heavy resistance to advance to the Lakhya River ferry crossing six miles northeast of the heart of the city. Other Indian columns advanced with tanks and armored personnel carriers to within 12 miles of Dacca.

UPI Correspondent Joseph Galloway in Dacca said the city was quiet Sunday night with no bombing and very little small arms fire. Galloway said the curfew was lifted early today to allow residents to make last-minute shopping trips before the expected attack on the city of 750,000 persons.

Neutral planes flew 435 foreign nationals out of Dacca Sunday and only a small group of American and foreign newsmen and diplomatic officials was left. Dacca dispatches said many of the people had fled into the countryside to avoid being caught in the battle for the city. Indian Defense Secretary K. D. Lall told newsmen in New Delhi "within the next 23 to 28 hours we will be in a very strong position around Dacca... Lall said the situation along the West Pakistan border had not changed significantly and he appeared to be at pains to stress there were no Indian designs on West Pakistani territory, UPI correspondent Robert Kaylor reported from New Delhi.

Lall said Pakistan started the war Dec. 3 with preemptive air attacks in the west and "since then we have reamained on the defensive—all operations we have taken since then... are to endeavor to see that the fighting in on the enemy's territory."

Prime Minister Indira Gandhi met for the second time today with the Soviet first deputy foreign minister, Vassily Kusnetzov, and a spokesman said they were exchanging views on how to coordinate efforts to restore peace.

In Calcutta a group of 30 Communist youths marched to the Soviet consulate in a show of support then attacked the downtown ticket office of Pan American World Airways with gasoline bombs and rocks in the first anti-American outbreak in Calcutta in two years. No injuries were reported but damage was heavy.

Rail Lands Bill Signed By Reagan

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Legislation empowering the Golden Gate Bridge District to buy abandoned railroad rights-of-way for transit use has been signed into law by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The bill, AB 919 by Assemblyman John F. Foran, D-San Francisco, authorizes the district to buy the rights-of-way from the Northwestern Pacific Railway.

The district plans to use the narrow easement abandoned south of Corte Madera as an exclusive route for buses — with possible future conversion to rails from Novato to downtown San Francisco via a transit deck on the bridge.

The bill also gives the district another two years to complete a long-range transit plan. The one submitted to the legislature this year failed to look far enough into the future and to make decisions on the shape of future transit, according to legislative critics of the plan.

Arrested Lay Teachers Now Facing Suspension

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Lay teachers — including two from Marin Catholic High School in Kentfield —have been threatened with suspensions because they were arrested in connection with demonstrations on school property in the recent Catholic schools strike.

The threat by Catholic officials came amid teachers charges that school administrators have been "harassing" them since they returned to work Thursday.

James Gallagher, an official of the American Federation of Teachers, said the contemplated suspensions are another instance of harassment and vowed to fight them in court.

Rev. Bernard Cummins, superintendent of parochial schools in the Bay Area, said yesterday the Archdiocese of San Francisco plans to suspend 15 teachers for 90 days for sitting in at three Catholic high schools Nov. 30.

Eighteen teachers arrested for invading the chancery office here Dec. 3 face 30-day suspensions, Father Cummins said.

Two teachers at Marin Catholic, Jack Breen and John Bechtold, could receive 30-day suspensions, according to Rev. Francis A. Lacey, principal of the Kentfield school.

A third teacher, Michael Peterson, may receive a letter of reprimand for allegedly invading the office where the archdiocese's department of education is housed, Lacey said. He said Peterson will not be suspended because he left when police ordered the demonstrators out and was not arrested.

Father Cummins said no action will be taken until the teachers are given a chance to "give their side of it."

Father Lacey said all 14 teachers who went on strike Nov. 15 have been treated the same as those who stayed since the strike ended Thursday. He said all have been returned to their former positions.

Father Cummins said this is true at all seven of the high schools hit by the strike, but teachers' representatives disputed his claim.

Gallagher said Friday that the teachers' union is gathering evidence to seek a restraining order barring retaliation by the Roman Catholic Archdiocese.

He charged, among other things, that the teachers are being denied normal teaching duties, are being reduced from tenured to probationary status and are being "berated and belittled" before their students.

Father Cummins denied the allegations.

Car Poolers Are Climbing

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Bay Bridge officials reported today that Monday traffic included 1,919 car pools using a special free lane for cars with at least three occupants.

The number was up from 1,602 last Thursday. A bridge spokesman said the idea seems to be "picking up" and there were few bridge delays today.

The free lanes were instituted last week as an attempt to encourage car pooling.

Nixon, French Leader Begin Talk In Azores

ANGRA DO HEROISMO, Azores (UPI)—President Nixon opened a round of private summit talks on this mid-Atlantic island today with President Georges Pompidou of France. They were discussing the international money crisis and other world problems in advance of Nixon's historic trips to Peking and Moscow.

The two presidents arrived at almost exactly 10 a.m. (6 a.m. EST) at the 18th century General Assembly Building in the center of Angra.

Nixon and Pompidou began their talks seated in highbacked chairs in the salon of the Junta Geral, a building once used by Portuguese kings. The two presidents met and posed for photographers in a palm-lined court outside of the building, then moved in for their discussions.

Tough bargaining over the international money crisis was high on the agenda.

Nixon, standing up in his bubble-top limousine, waved at several thousand townspeople who lined his motorcade route through the twisting cobblestone streets.

The onlookers waved U.S., French and Portuguese flags.

"Congratulations on the Concorde," Nixon told Pompidou in reference to the British-French supersonic jetliner Pompidou used for his trip to this picturesque island in the Atlantic.

Nixon was blocked by Congress in his effort to build a

Rites Tomorrow

PALM SPRINGS (UPI) — Services will be held tomorrow for Maurice James McDonald, who with his brother Richard built a hamburger stand in San Bernardino into the multi-million dollar McDonald's hamburger chain, with more than 1,500 locations.

McDonald, 69, died Saturday night.

McDonald was an electrician at Paramount movie studios before he opened the original hamburger stand in 1943. He and his brother, who survives him, hit on the idea of eliminating menus and carhops by preparing 15-cent hamburgers in advance, ready for sale to customers when they walked in. Their stands were characterized by a tall golden arch.

A Tradition

BROADSTAIRS, England (UPI) — Prime Minister Edward Heath kept up a 35-year tradition yesterday by conducting the annual Christmas carol concert in his home town.

Heath, who first directed the 80-member choir and orchestra in 1936 as an Oxford University undergraduate, came this year with new aplomb — gained two weeks ago when he served as a guest conductor with the London Philharmonic Orchestra.

Dies On Slopes

SOFIA (UPI) — Bulgarian Foreign Minister Ivan Bashev was killed yesterday in a skiing accident on Mount Vitosha near Sofia, the government announced today. He was 55 years old.

The announcement said the body of Bashev, the foreign minister for nine years, was found by searchers at 5 a.m. today.

The foreign Ministry said he fell while skiing, was seriously injured and died before he could be found.

New Bishop

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — An activist churchman exiled in 1967 from South Africa for his opposition to apartheid was installed yesterday as assistant bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of San Francisco.

About 600 persons witnessed the installation of Right Rev. C. Edward Crowther, 42, by Bishop C. Kilmer Myers.

Bishop Crowther, arrested in 1969 during an anti-war demonstration in Washington, D.C., has no specific duties in his new post.

"The church doesn't seem to know what to do with deported bishops," said the clergyman who considered his post an honorary one.

Fund Raised

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — About 600 persons paid $100 a plate Saturday night to attend the first fund raising dinner in the South for the Black Congressional Caucus.

The affair, which included on the program comedian Bill Cosby and Rep. Louis Stokes, D-Ohio, was termed a success by black leaders.

Democratic State Sen. Avon Williams called the dinner a "defeat for whites who are trying to divide blacks and liberal whites in uniting for a common cause."

Hits Israel

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Al Rai, the semiofficial newspaper in Amman, said today Arab war talk which was designed primarily for domestic consumption will be used by the Israelis as an excuse to start another war in the Middle East.

"Under the present circumstances, talk of war will only help the Israelis and will give them a pretext to attack," the newspaper said.

David Sarnoff Succumbs At 80

NEW YORK (UPI)—David Sarnoff, a Russian immigrant paperboy who became one of the giants of the communications industry, died yesterday of complications from an ear infection. He was 80.

Sarnoff's communications career was launched April 14, 1912, when he was the first American to hear word of the sinking of the Titanic. He went on to pioneer both radio and television and rose to chairman of RCA Corp.

He retired from RCA in 1970 but retained the title of honorary chairman until his death. He had suffered from the ear infection for several years and underwent a seris of operations to try to correct it.

The body will repose at the Frank E. Campbell Funeral Home today and tomorrow. Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday in Temple Emanuel.

"General Sarnoff had the qualities of spirit that embody the highest tradition of our nation — imagination, daring, patriotism and generosity," President Nixon said yesterday. "Mrs. Nixon and I join his family and the nation at large in mourning the passing of this gifted American."

Neither an inventor nor an originator of the electronic means which brought the radio-television boom, Sarnoff was a man who saw clearly the potential of these new inventions and gambled on their success even in the darkest of times.

In 1916, he asked the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Co. for money to develop a "radio music box" and the company grudgingly gave him $2,000. After the radio had become a booming success, Sarnoff in 1923 proposed to the Radio Corporation of America, which took over Marconi, a plan to develop television.

Even in the Depression, when as president of RCA he was fighting to keep the company out of financial trouble, Sarnoff spent money to develop the new media.

His work culminated with the first public television broadcast in 1939 in which he appeared at the New York World's Fair and told the television audience, "Now we add radio sight to sound." After World War II, he was a leader in pushing the development of compatible television—sets which would produce both color and black-and-white.

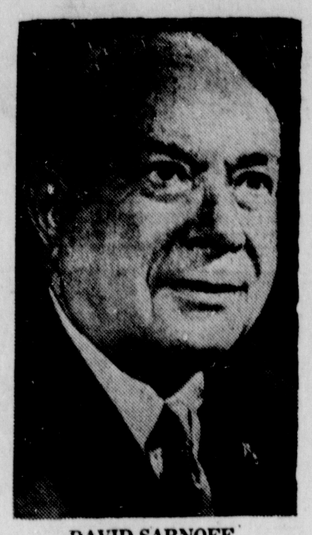
Born Feb. 27, 1891 in the small Russian village of Uzlian, near Minsk, Sarnoff came to the United States in 1900 with his parents. After his father's death he sold newspapers on the streets of New York and later went to work as a copy boy for Marconi Wireless.

As an operator for Marconi, Sarnoff had the tedious job the night of April 14, 1912, of monitoring broadcasts at an experimental wireless station atop a Wanamaker department store along Broadway.

It was there that he heard the first faint SOS that would shock the world: "S.S. Titanic ran into iceberg, sinking fast."

For 72 hours, Sarnoff sat by the wireless set relaying to the world the news of the sinking of the "unsinkable" ship and copy- ing down the names of the survivors.

President William Howard Taft ordered all other stations in the country to shut down to minimize interference with the signals coming from the doomed ship.



DAVID SARNOFF
Communications giant

Sarnoff's actions in those days earned him a succession of rapid advancements at Marconi. In 1916, he sent his famous message saying, "I have in mind a plan of development which would make radio a household utility in the same sense as a piano or phonograph. The idea is to bring music into the home by wireless."

He predicted sales of radios would reach $75 million, but in the first three years of production alone sales reached $83 million.

Another of his hopes, a central broadcasting organization, was realized in 1926 when RCA formed a subsidiary which was to become the National Broadcasting Co.

Although best known for his work in communications, Sarnoff was the major influence in building RCA into a multifaceted corporation that at the time of his death was grossing more than $3 billion annually.

During World War II, Sarnoff served as special consultant on communications in Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's staff.

Newton Jury Deadlocks; New Trial?

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)— District Attorney Lowell Jensen meets with his staff today to decide whether Black Panther leader Huey P. Newton should be tried for manslaughter a fourth time in the slaying of an Oakland policeman.

A panel of eight women and four men declared thesmelves hopelessly deadlocked 6-6 late Saturday after deliberating three days. Newton was charged with killing policeman John Frey in an early morning shootout in 1967.

Jensen returned to Oakland Sunday from a Palm Springs meeting for a conference on the case with prosecutor Donald Whyte, who said "hell, yes" when asked whether Newton should be retried a fourth time.

Defense attorney Charles R. Garry told newsmen after the deadlock announcement that another trial would "amount to harassment and would be cruel and unusual punishment." He said he would go to an appellate court if necessary to block such a move.

Newton, 29, spent 10 months in pre-trial confinement and later 22 months in prison following a manslaughter conviction in 1968 which was overturned by an appellate court on a judicial error. A second trial earlier this year also ended in a hung jury.

The Black Panther Party's Central Committee issued a statement after the jury action saying, "The inability of the jury to reach a decision once again has revealed an outstanding point—the gross corruption of the California state judicial system."

The jury included 10 caucasians, one Chinese-American and one Spanish -American.

Newton has been free on $40,000 bail and must return to court Wednesday for the setting of a new trial date if the district attorney decides to prosecute again.

Irish Underground Kills Senator, Blows Up His Corpse And House

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—The official wing of the outlawed Irish Republican Army (IRA) said today it was responsible for killing a Protestant legislator Sunday and blowing up his home.

In a statement issued in Dublin, the IRA said the death of Northern Ireland Sen. John Barnhill, 65, was a mistake. It said he had been asked to evacuate his home, but was shot when he attacked members of the raiding party.

British troops dug Barnhill's smashed body from the ruins of his bombed home early this morning.

"The purpose of the raid was to destroy the house in reprisal of the destruction by British forces of working class homes throughout the province," the IRA statement said.

"On entering the house, the officer in charge informed Sen. Barnhill that his house was to be destroyed and he was asked to evacuate it along with his family.

"He then attacked the raiding party and in the ensuing struggle received wounds from which he died."

Barnhill's home was selected for the raid "because Sen. Barnhill represents a leading position in the Unionist Party and has been identified as a supporter of (Prime Minister Brian) Faulkner's policy of repression and terrorism against the working class people of the north," it said.

Faulkner earlier accused the Irish Republic of harboring the gunmen who he said probably killed Barnhill in the first political assassination in three years of escalating violence.

Double Pickets Over Abortions

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Rival women pickets met headon during a weekend demonstration on abortion outside the Cathedral Hall Medical Center.

About 30 women showed up at the clinic with anti-abortion signs reading "unborn children have rights too" and that women having abortions were "murderers."

While the pickets marched, 30 women had operations to terminate pregnancy inside the facility.

The women's abortion coalition sent counterpickets to the scene who called the pro-life group "vicious" and "stupid."

Saigon Troops Hunt Foes; More GI's Head For Home

SAIGON (UPI) —South Vietnam with U.S. air support sent 6,000 troops deeper into Cambodia today in a search for a large North Vietnamese force believed using the big Chup rubber plantation as a sanctuary. Military sources predicted major fighting.

In Saigon, the U.S. command announced the pullout of 6,600 American servicemen from Vietnam last week, the largest weekly troop withdrawal in more than six months.

A command communique said U.S. troop strength fell to 171,000 on Dec. 9, the lowest since November, 1965, but still short of the 159,000 figure ordered by President Nixon for Christmas.

The only action reported in South Vietnam was skirmishing between irregular guerrillas and militiamen, but a spokesman said two Americans were killed and eight wounded Sunday in a Viet Cong attack against a U.S. outpost near the coastal city of Qui Nhon.

UPI correspondent Kate Webb reported from Phnom Penh that Cambodia government troops reoccupied the small village of Thmat Pong, 18 miles west of Phnom Penh, without a fight.

New fighting was reported in Laos. Government spokesmen in Vientiane said Laotian troops with U.S. air support repelled a North Vietnamese attack against the strategic crossroads town of Tha Teng on the Bolovens Plateau.

Meet Barbara. She's this year's airplane.

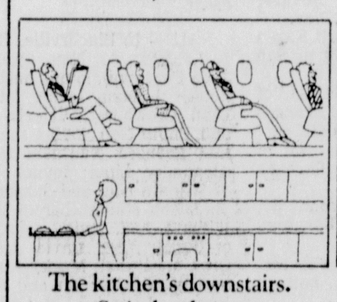
National introduces the first, the only DC-10 between San Francisco and Florida.

Fly Barbara. She's the first of our new fleet of DC-10's between San Francisco and Florida. She's big and beautiful. And luxuriously comfortable. And she's got a lot more going for her.

DC-10 engines are more powerful, but quieter. And virtually smokeless.

Picture windows. DC-10 windows are one-third larger (11 x 16 inches).

Two's company, three's a crowd. Our DC-10's have only two-abreast seating.



The kitchen's downstairs. So is the clatter and clutter.

Twin aisles. And ten channels of stereo. On every flight.

You'll recognize our first DC-10 by her distinctive nose. Her name is Barbara.

Living Room Comfort

You get the kind of living room comfort you've always looked for on an airplane. You get armchair space. And you're never more than one seat from the aisle. In coach. You also get ten channels of stereo. On every flight.

Only National.

Only National has DC-10* service from San Francisco to Florida. Barbara flies daily nonstop to Tampa/St. Pete and direct to Miami and Fort Lauderdale. Every evening at 10:45. And it's a Night Coach, too. You'll save 20% over day coach fare. Our new DC-10 service is in addition to our five other daily flights from San Francisco to Miami.

What Are You Waiting For?

What are you waiting for? This winter, fly this year's airplane. Fly Barbara and her friends. For reservations, call your travel agent now. Or National Airlines. Ask operator for Enterprise 1-3070.

Hitches, Happy Rides In Marin Bus Debut

computer program" as she struggled with it.

But she clearly liked the bus. "It's nice and new and doesn't creak, and it's got really great shocks."

Like the other students aboard, she formerly rode the Marin Transit System bus, now replaced by the district. The private company's operations will shift to other demonstration projects under a county subsidy. These will include transporting senior citizens, disabled persons and recreational traffic within Point Reyes National Seashore.

Miss Pool said that several regular riders on the former bus were missed today because of changes in the route.

Especially happy today was the driver, Charles R. Cook of Larkspur. A former Greyhound driver, he said he looked forward to smiling at passengers and having them smile back. "No matter how nice you are on Greyhound, you couldn't change the public's opinion of Greyhound," he said.

"There's no comparison" in driving a new district bus and a Greyhound bus, he said. The new buses are "a lot safer" because the automatic transmission allows both hands to remain on the steering wheel, he said.

The automatic also means "passengers don't get their necks out of joint every time you shift," he said.

The brakes are "100 per cent better," Cook added.

Summing up his satisfaction with the buses and district bosses, Cook said he planned to stay with the system "until I retire." He is 25.

On board for the inaugural run were two bridge district directors, Marin County Supervisor Michael Wornum and Dean N. Meyer of Mill Valley. Wornum observed that always "meant to visit Novato."

San Rafael Mayor C. Paul Bettini had expected to join the entourage, but did not.

District officials closely shepherded the first run, and even dispatched a trailing car to pick up a Los Ranchitos girl who let the bus pass because she did not recognize it as the new one to the college.

The general manager of the bridge district, Dale W. Luehring, hopped off the bus after she was missed and escorted the rescue mission car piloted by the district's bus transit manager, H. Donald White.

The red-faced damsel they rescued from being even later for class was Renee Losk, 18, of 20 Circle Road. She was welcomed aboard by cheers from the other students.

Fares on the local bus runs are 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children through age 12, students through age 16 and senior citizens. Riders must pay with exact change since drivers carry none.

Ericka Huggins At Quentin Six Hearing

Ericka Huggins, who along with Bobby Seale was freed of charges growing out of a Connecticut Black Panther slaying earlier this year, was among spectators today during a hearing for six San Quentin convicts in Marin Superior Court.

She and about 25 other visitors sat quietly in Judge E. Warren McGuire's court as five of the convicts tried unsuccessfully to fire their attorneys. Only one inmate was satisified with his lawyers.

Hugo A. Pinell, hired private counsel, Ralph Bencangey of Beverly Hills.

The other five had charged repeatedly that court-appointed attorneys are agents working against their interests. The six are accused of murder, conspiracy and assault stemming from the Aug. 21 prison uprising. Missing attorney Stephen M. Bingham is also charged.

Motions by the five attorneys to be relieved of the case were either denied or put over until Dec. 27 for argument.

The judge said he will hear arguments by attorney Louis F. Hawkins to be replaced by G. Douglas Vaughn as attorney for Louis N. Talamantez.

Also on Dec. 27, the judge will hear attorney Steven Koolpe's motion to continue the sealing of the grand jury transcript of testimony which led to the indictment against the six.

Koolpe's client, John Larry Spain, asked that Charles R. Garry of San Francisco be substituted for Koolpe. When this was denied, Spain asked that he be removed from the courtroom, and he was led into an adjoining holding cell.

Other attorneys who want out are public defender Frank Cox, representing David Johnson; Richard H. Breiner, representing Fleeta Drumgo, and Howard A. Morehouse, named for Willie Tate.

The judge refused their requests, explaining that until each one comes up with his attorney of choice who is willing to take the case, the court-appointed lawyers will be attorneys of record.

ington to explain why he had personally stoped the hijackers.

"We are prepared to deal vigorously with this sort of Communist threat," he said. "And this was the only way to do it."

Figueres said he called Nicaraguan's President Anastacio Somoza, as soon as the incident was over and dispatched the lone surving hijacker to Nicaragua. But Figueres said "I don't think he'll survive" the gun wounds.

Figueres has encountered some domestic problems over his government's establishment of trade relations with the Soviet Union. In the telephone call to UPI he stressed that the agreement with the Russians did not mean his government would not "act with strength" against Communist subversion.

Women's Group Condemns Book

The Marin Women's Legislative Council has voted opposition to use of the book, "The Movement Toward a New America," in San Rafael High School classes.

Mrs. Paul A. Hammer of San Anselmo, president of the council, which is an affiliate of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, announced today the action was taken at the council's November meeting.

She said the book was presented to the members, and their reaction was that "a shocking situation exists in our schools today, the poisoning of the minds of our youths."

She said the action of the council has been reported to Gov. Ronald Reagan and to Wilson C. Riles, state superintendent of public instruction.

Span Leap Seen, No Body Found

An unidentified youth wearing a motorcycle jacket and boots leaped from the east railing of the Golden Gate Bridge Saturday.

The Coast Guard reported searching for two hours without finding the body.

California Highway Patrol officers said two motorists saw the young man scramble over the east railing of the bridge's center span.

A fishing boat crew reported seeing a body fall from the span.

prisoners with Peking leaders during his two trips to China.)

Two of the Americans freed, Richard Fecteau and Miss Mary A. Harbert, crossed the border into Hong Kong shortly before the Chinese announcement on their release was broadcast by the New China News Agency (NCNA).

The third American, John Downey, 41, New Britain, Conn., had his life sentence commuted to five years in prison starting from the day of the commutation, according to NCNA.

Fecteau, 43, of Lynn, Mass., and Miss Harbert were flown from the border by British helicopter directly to the Hong Kong internatioal airport where they boarded a U.S. military plane for the flight to the United States. A spokesman at the U.S. consulate here refused to give their specific destination or other details.

Downey and Fecteau were captured in November, 1952, while trying to set up guerrilla espionage bases in North China, according to the Chinese. They were civilian employes of the U.S. Army at the time—during the Korean War and crashed on a flight over China.

The Chinese charged that they were employes of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) and tried them before a military tribunal.

They were found guilty and sentenced in 1954. Downey was given a life sentence. Fecteau, 44, Lynn, Mass. was sentenced to 20 years in prison.

Miss Harbert was aboard a yacht captured by the Chinese in April, 1968, in the Pearl River estuary, near Hong Kong and Japan.

In announcing her release, the Chinese said that "another American, Gerald Ross McLaughlin, male, who illegally introduced into China's territorial waters on the same yacht with M. A. Harbert, was also detained. During detention, the culprit behaved badly, resisted investigation and, taking the warders unawares, committed suicide on March 7, 1969."

The Chinese never reported the capture of the two Americans and did not give any information on their home addresses when the release of Miss Harbert was announced.

Police Auction Brings In $885 To City Coffers

A San Rafael Police Department auction Saturday collected $885 for the city's general fund.

San Rafael City Mgr. James H. McCown said about 225 persons attended the auction at Albert Park.

Auctioned were unclaimed goods confiscated by police from suspects or turned into police.

A watch which was sold for $48 brought the highest priced item, McCown said.

Progress Report On Teaching Due

A progress report on changes in the teaching program for the fourth, fifth and sixth grades will be presented to the Lagunitas School District Board when it meets at 7:30 p.m. today at San Geronimo Valley Elementary School.

The board will also open bids for a new school bus at the meeting.

Protest Of Bus Service On Agenda

The Fairfax City Council will be asked tonight to protest the Fairfax service of the Golden Gate transit system which began its intra-county bus service today.

City Adm. Robert E. Crowe said the service ends at Broadway and Bolinas Road, but that city officials had been told previously by the bridge district representatives that the bus routes would terminate at Olema Road and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard — about two miles farther west.

Crowe said he would ask the council to go on record against the bus route and to insist that the transit system comply with its original outline of the route to Olema Road.

At its 8 p.m. meeting at the Fairfax Women's Club, the council will also consider a request from the city of San Anselmo that Fairfax join it in seeking to have the next phase of the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control project put in an underground conduit.

Petaluma Man Pleads Guilty In Knife Case

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Mark D. Souza, 32, of Petaluma, has pleaded guilty in Sonoma County Superior court to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Souza changed his previous innocent plea after the charge was reduced from assault with intent to commit murder.

Judge Joseph P. Murphy Jr. set sentencing for Dec. 20 and indicated he might send Souza to the California Medical Facility at Vacaville for a three-month psychiatric evaluation before sentencing.

Souza was arrested Oct. 11 after stabbing his estranged wife, Carolyn, 21, with a knife during an argument at her home in Petaluma.

Traffic Chase Brings Charges

A near accident Saturday night started a chase of one car by another around San Rafael streets, ending with one man arrested on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon and hit-and-run driving.

Christopher Jay Wooton, 18, no known address, was held in Marin County Jail in lieu of $1,000 bail to appear this afternoon in Marin Municipal Court.

Police reported that shortly after 9 p.m., Robert Edmonds O'Rielly of 2 Bungalow Avenue, Mill Valley, was stopped northbound on Irwin Street at Second Street. Police were uncertain what started the trouble, but Wooton chased O'Rielly around the city's streets, bumping his car twice, trying to force it off the street. O'Rielly escaped the other car, according to police.

Wooton was arrested later in front of 120 Trellis Drive.

Food Sought For Baskets

The Novato Christmas Giving Committee is seeking food to fill baskets for 150 needy families in the city, according to Rev. Eugene Quinones, committee chairman.

Father Quinones said nonperishable foods are being accepted at Our Lady of Loretto Church, 1806 Novato Boulevard, from 1 to 4 p.m. Mondays through Fridays and 10 a.m. to noon Saturdays. Donors may also contribute funds to purchase food.

Anyone who wishes to contribute toys or clothing may do so at the Economic Opportunity Council office at 875 Grant Avenue, he said.

NIXON

U.S. government-subsidized SST.

Nixon traveled by helicopter from Lajes Air Force Base, where he spent the night, to Angra, the island capital. The flight took about twice as long as necessary to permit him to take a close look at the cliff-lined coastline.

The President was accompanied by Secretary of State William P. Rogers, Treasury Secretary John B. Connally and Ambassador-at-Large David Kennedy, a key negotiator.

It appeared economic relations would produce the toughest talk in the two meetings scheduled today and the third on Tuesday. But Nixon also was reported particularly anxious to discuss with Pompidou the latest developments in the Indian-Pakistan war with special concern for what role the Soviet Union might take.

Nixon had stressed the important matters would probably not be seen by the public.

Board To Face Book Decision

The San Rafael Board of Education is slated to act on the controversial book, "The Movement Toward A New America," at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the city schools' office, Third and E streets.

Complaints were lodged against the book, used by Virginia Franklin in an American Government class at San Rafael High School, in a heated board session in October.

Supt. John F. Plank and a staff committee are scheduled to report on the matter before the board acts.

Critics have described the book as a "revolutionary kit," and Mrs. Franklin has replied she intended to use only portions of it to teach senior students propaganda techniques.

Young Pot Suspects Arrested In Larkspur

Three 17-year-old San Bruno youths were arrested yesterday on suspicion of possessing marijuana and equipment for smoking it, according to Larkspur police.

The three were arrested about 9:50 a.m. in a panel truck at 17 Upper Ardmore Road after a resident of the neighborhood reported a suspicious vehicle had been parked there all night, police said.

Small Earthquakes Shake Up East Bay

BERKELEY (UPI) — A pair of small earthquakes shook San Francisco's East Bay Saturday, rattling windows but doing little damage.

Tito Fighting For Life Of Yugoslavia

VIENNA (UPI) — President Tito, in what may be his last hurrah, is fighting for the life of Yugoslavia.

The enemy, as Tito himself has said, is the old Balkan bugaboo — nationalism. The threat is so great that Yugoslavia — a unified nation for only 53 years — may not survive.

Yugoslavia is a federation of six republics or provinces—the prosperous Croatia and Slovenia in the northwest, the powerful Serbia in the center and, to the south and southeast, the rugged and relatively backward Macedonia, Montenegro and Bosnia-Herce-Govina.

The six have little in common. Croatia and Slovenia, with their capitals of Zagreb and Ljubljana, once belonged to the Austrian Empire and are western in atmosphere. They are Roman Catholic and feel themselves superior to other Yugoslavs.

Serbia (Belgrade) and the other provinces labored under the Turks for centuries. Orthodoxy or Islam predominate and the atmosphere is more Byzantine than Western.

Each republic has its own history, customs and national pride. None like the others very much. But the greatest enmity has always been between the proud and western Croats and Zagreb and the powerful and eastern Serbs of Belgrade.

There have been recent Serbian-Croatian street brawls. Croatian professors have been expelled from the party for preaching nationalism. One angry Croatian scholar raged recently:

"Since the war we have been robbed by Belgrade. I'm a Croat first, a Yugoslav later. I hope Yugoslavia survives, but my loyalties are to Croatia."

This, to a great degree, is what the current crisis is all about.

After World War II, when Communist Yugoslavia was born, Serbia and its police ran all Yugoslavia — including Croatia — with an iron hand. That ended in 1966 and, since then, Croatia and the other republics have won a degree of autonomy from the central government unknown in other Communist countries.

Constitutional amendments enacted in September gave the republics an extreme form of "state's rights" and left Belgrade with little to control beyond the army, foreign policy and exchange rates.

Tito, who is 79 now, also set up a 22-man "collective presidency" with representatives from each republic, to run Yugoslavia when he is gone. The idea behind this, and the other reforms, was to give each republic a vital stake in the preservation of Yugoslavia as a whole.

Croats were happy with the reforms and praised their local Croat Communist Party — itself largely independent from Belgrade — for leading the way. But things quickly soured.

Negotiations began on how much precious foreign currency which Croatia earns from its industries and resorts must be shared with Belgrade. Students in Zagreb went on strike to push for a bigger share for Croatia. The Communist party of Croatia praised the strike with faint condemnations.

Tito, infuriated, accused the Croat Communists of "rotten liberalism" and called for purges. His intervention has ended similar crises of nationalism in the past, but passions run high in Croatia and no one knew what would happen now — or later, when Tito steps down.

"Croat nationalism is terribly romantic," a diplomat noted.

The board also will elect a chairman and vice chairman.

A Study Shows Smoking Worse Than Some Smog

BOCHUM, Germany (UPI)—Heavy smoking appears to cause more coughing, sputum and difficulty in breathing than the industrial smog of this coal-mining and steel-making region, according to a study by the Silicosis Institute.

Professors Wolfgang T. Ulmer and Gerhard Reichel based their analysis on a six-year survey of more than 8,100 persons. The results of their study have been sent to the World Health Organization.

Attacks of coughing, sputum and difficulty in breathing appeared twc or three times as often among heavy smokers of advanced age as among nonsmokers, Ulmer and Reichel reported.

But they produced no evidence to indicate pollution of the air in the industrialized area caused any increase in general respiratory ailments.

Air pollution could reach a specific limit beyond which bronchial infections would increase, the two men said. But they insisted that point has not yet been reached in Germany's industrial regions.

Indians Receive Christmas Bounty

ST. MICHAEL'S, Ariz. (UPI) —The annual Christmas drive for the sprawling Navajo Indian reservations was "successful beyond all expectations," according to a project spokesman.

An estimated 20 tons of food, clothing, toys and medical supplies arrived Saturday.

Library Stands Ready With Valuable Medical Facts

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—A library crew at the University of Utah claims it "covers the nation" on behalf of medical men scattered over a sparsely populated 300,000 square miles in the West.

A professional staff, working in a building dedicated in October, does for physicians what librarians do best.

"We collect information," according to the medical librarian, "from books, treatises or magazines in the library or through a nationwide computer system.

"We pull it together for medical men who want to know the latest developments on a problem with which they or their patients are faced."

The library's function is to get those in the health professions "in the know" in the shortest time. The Spencer Eccles Library relies on its own collection and an affiliation with a national system of medical libraries.

"Our job is service," according to Mrs. Priscilla Mayden, who acts as a chief helper for medical men in Utah and parts of five surrounding states.

It's part of one of the least-told stories about the nation's medical centers, according to Mrs. Mayden, the University of Utah's medical librarian.

The library serves halfforgotten gambling towns of Nevada, Indian villages in Utah and sugar beet and cattle country in parts of Idaho, Wyoming, Montana and Colorado as well as the metropolitan Salt Lake area.

"It is our business to get the tremendous flow of today's medical information to doctors, nurses, hospitals and pharmacists when they request it," Mrs. Mayden said.

Their questions can range from the psychiatric aspects of home kidney dialysis to bladder disorders, pregnancy complications or statistics on diseases that strike Americans every year.

Golden Gate Span Due Brighter Lights

The Golden Gate Bridge will get new lights for its roadway, and a new generator to keep them lighted in emergencies.

Bridge district directors voted Friday to call bids for about $36,000 worth of new, high-intensity light fixtures to replace obselete lights now serving the roadway. The new fixtures will be installed by bridge crews.

The directors also asked bids for a new generator to replace the 30-year-old standby unit for the bridge lights. Estimated cost is $177,000, including design work.

Golden Gate Bridge District directors also:

BUSES — Paid current bills totaling $6,052,839, the largest sum paid since completion of the bridge in 1937. One bill was for $5,815,275 from General Motors Corp. for the 132 new buses.

PARKING — Approved enlarging the toll plaza parking area, but rejected a staff proposal to fence the maintenance area and employees parking lot at a cost of $12,000.

SAUSALITO — Endorsed design of a canopy over the loading area for the Sausalito ferry terminal large enough to protect about 250 people, and asked the City of Sausalito for a longer-term use permit than the present renewable 90-day lease.

NOISE — Authorized measurement of sound levels at toll booths, in the shop and at sandblasting operations to forestall impairment of hearing to employees, and asked for a cost estimate on studying fumes in the toll booths.

SANTA ROSA — Allocated $5,000 for architectural design of the Santa Rosa bus terminal by the firm of Sverdrup and Parcel.

STATE — Approved a lease with the state to park commuter buses midday in San Francisco at $1,000 a month for five years.

TRAFFIC — Received a report that average daily traffic in November was 89,486 vehicles, up 4.64 per cent over November last year.

FERRY — Received report that 68,824 passengers rode the Sausalito ferry last month, up 40.7 per cent over the patronage in November last year.

GREYHOUND — Leased 20 buses for Greyhound Lines at a cost of $146 each for the next six months, and $300 the following six months, and authorized the staff to amend an application for a $6.1 million federal grant to cover as well two-thirds of the cost of 20 more new buses at a cost of about $45,000 each.

NOVATO — Leased temporary parking and office space for the Novato satellite bus facility at the Sportsman Lodge for $500 a month pending purchase of a permanent site for about 25 buses.

INSURANCE — Derailed a committee recommendation challenging the district's insurance broker, Marsh and McLennan Inc., and giving another firm a chance at the business, with more than $500,000 a year in premiums at stake. Director Dean N. Meyer of Mill Valley, long a proponent of such a change, said the last-minute switch back to Marsh and McLennan "smells." The recommended change was derailed by an almost-solid vote by San Francisco directors, led by Supervisor Ronald Pelosi.

RAILROAD — Appealed to Southern Pacific Railroad Co. to postpone until Jan. 15 further sale of its surplus right-of-way south of Corte Madera. The district plans to buy the right-of-way for transit use.

BICYCLES — Approved paving about 300 feet of path from the end of the bicycle bridge connecting the span with Fort Baker, but refused a staff recommendation that Conzelman Road also be paved for safety reasons. The Army should pay for paving its own road, directors said, but the staff said the Army already had indicated disinterest in paving the road.

SIGNS — Rejected a single bid by Air Cooled Engine Exchange of San Rafael to supply 1,000 bus stop signs and poles for $28,900, way over the staff estimate of $15,000. The sign will be redesigned and readvertised for new bids, and temporary signs used in the meantime.

PROGRAMMER — Approved hiring a computer programmer-analyst at a maximum salary of $1,200 a month.

MEETING — Rescheduled the second monthly meeting from Dec. 31 to Dec. 22 in toll plaza offices at 10 a.m.

Pot Penalty May Lower

On a 22-12 vote, the Senate agreed to go along with a House-Senate compromise on a bill reworking the state's drug laws.

The bill would change the penalty for possession of marijuana from a 10-year felony to a misdemeanor punishable by one-year in jail and $1,000 fine.

More Fuel For Market's Big Rally

NEW YORK (UPI)—Wall Street's year-end rally, which has been high stepping since Thanksgiving, got a little more fuel today.

Much of the new demand for stocks stemmed from reductions in key bank lending rates.

Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. sliced the prime interest rate—the rate it charges most creditworthy customers — to 5 1-4 per cent from 5 1-2 per cent. This came on the heels of Friday's reduction in the Federal Reserve's discount rate to 4 1-2 per cent from 4 3-4 per cent. The discount rate is the interest the Fed charges its member commercial banks for short-term loans.

Newton Zinder, senior analyst for E. F. Hutton & Co., called the market advance "a reflection of the cut in key interest rates and a better feeling about the corporate profit taking for 1972."

A Wall Street Journal story suggested that investor concern that Phase Two of President Nixon's economic program will hamper corporate profits next year may be wholly unwarranted.

Prices also moved higher in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Toy Product Line Is Sold

Actual sales price will be determined upon completion of the year-end audit, Eldon spokesmen said.

Consummation of the transaction is expected to take place before the end of the year.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER J. WIKEL

Decision-Making Time On Taking All Income Or Wait Until 1972

Now is the time to take a good hard look at your 1971 income and make a decision. Should you take all of the income you can get into 1971, or should you postpone all of the income possible until 1972.

The same is true of your deductions. Should you pay all of your expenses now in 1971 in order to claim the deduction against 1971 income, or should you save them and use them in 1972 against 1972 income.

For the cash basis taxpayer, and that is most of us, some of these things can be controlled.

Let's look at our tax picture and at our crystal ball and see what we can determine.

If your income is going to be substantially the same in 1971 and 1972 without fooling with it, then possibly the best thing to do is nothing.

PUT TAX OFF

If your income is going to be very large in 1971, and not so large in 1972, then the best thing to do is put off until 1972 any income you can and to accelerate into 1971 any expenses that you can.

But, be sure to check your posible tax results with income averaging under the new rules. If you have had a low income in your base period, a large income in 1971 might be taxed less than if you deferred part of it to 1972.

Conversely, if 1972 will produce a large income and 1971 is small, perhaps you should defer deductions until 1972 and get all the income in 1971 you can.

TRY AND BALANCE

In other words, the idea is to try and balance them so that you will have an equal amount of taxable income each year.

Let's look at the current tax situation.

The following tax cuts will go into effect next year:

Personal exemption up from $675 to $700.

Standard deduction up from 13 per cent of income with a $1,500 limit to 14 per cent with a $2,000 limit.

Maximum tax rate on earned income decreases from 60 to 50 per cent.

Actually, we don't know what is going to happen for 1972 taxes, but I go along with Will Rogers. Over thrity years ago he made a statement that is still true today, "the only sure thing is death and taxes . . . and death don't get worse every time Congress meets."

Sears Point Strip May Reopen By Next Spring

A strong possibility that the Sears Point International Raceway in Sonoma County will be conducting motor races again by spring is being held forth by W. Craig Murray, who headed the operation before it was closed down about 18 months ago.

So confident is Murray in completion of his plan announced last April to raise $1.5 million and purchase the speedway from the parent company, Filmways, Inc., of Beverly Hills, that he has scheduled a drag race for March 18 and 19.

Murray now heads a group which is purchasing the raceway and related improvements (approximately 288 acres) for $939,000. The remaining property of approximately 400 acres at the junction of Highways 37 and 121 will be retained by Filmways. It is zoned light industrial and was originally intended for other use.

According to the group's registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission and preliminary prospectus of Oct. 1, there will be two companies — Sears Point Properties, Ltd., which will own all the real estate and improvements, and SPIR, Inc., which will lease the entire facilities from Sears Point Properties and operate them.

If approved by the commission, a public offering would be made of combination units consisting of one limited partnership interest in Sears Point Properties and 50 shares of common stock in SPIR, Inc. Murray reports that it would be the first combination offering of this kind ever made. The limited partnership and common stock would be separated at the completion of the underwriting. Murray hopes to have commission approval to "go public" by the first of the year.

Underwriting the offer will be Waldron and Co., of which Murray is presently director of finance. He plans to resign from the company if the registration statement is approved.

Murray is president and director of SPIR, Inc. Neil E. Shooter is vice-president and director; John C. Brawner is secretary, treasurer and director. Other directors are Darrel O. Holleyman, Paul Mendelsohn, George Follner, Dan Gurney and Peter Revson.

Murray's father, William S. Murray, an officer of Simons Machinery Co., San Francisco, is the general partner in Sears Point Properties.

Syntex Deal Consummated

PALO ALTO (BW) — The acquisition by Syntex Laboratories Inc. of Diamond Laboratories Inc. has been consummated, spokesmen for the two companies have announced.

Under terms of the agreement, acquisition has been made through Diamond Laboratories Inc., a newly formed wholly owned subsidiary of Syntex Laboratories, in exchange for 297,500 shares of Syntex Corp. common stock and the assumption by Syntex Laboratories of the book liabilities of the acquired company.

Business and operations of Diamond will be continued under the same management.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. General Host's 7's of 1994 have been recommended to me for purchase. I am retired and have $10,000 available for investment. The liberal income afforded on this bond would be very helpful. The company has had difficulties in the past but I understand that income from the Cudahy investment alone is sufficient to pay interest on this bond. Would you comment on this bond? — E.M.

A. General Host acquired 85.6 per cent control of Cudahy which in fiscal 1971 earned $3.2 million. Interest expenses on General's $190 million in long term debt runs $14 million annually. Company recently reported earnings for the first nine months through Oct. 31, 1971, including Cudahy from July 15. Earnings of $5.92 million for the period included $5.36 million realized from the sale of assets. Earned income from operations therefore amounted to only $564,000. In fiscal 1969 and 1970 deficits of $3.52 and $2.09 a share were reported.

The debt issue you are interested in is rated CCC, a grade which is reserved for outright speculations. A direct unsecured debt of the company, the issue is subordinated to senior debt. The current yield of over 12 per cent and yield to maturity of 10.5 per cent indicative of the high risk inherent in this obligation. Unless you can afford to assume that degree of risk I would certainly advise settling for a lower but more secure income.

Q. On what date in August did the American Express $2.30 convertible preferred go ex-dividend? If a sale occurs on or after the ex-date who is entitled to the dividend? What is the last date this stock can be converted to common? — H.G.

A. The conversion privilege on these shares is discretionary. However, in the event of redemption of this issue by the company, conversion would have to be completed no later than the fifth day preceding redemption.

The ex-dividend date was Aug. 30. Shares sold on or after that are sold "ex" or without the dividend. Therefore, the seller and not the buyer is entitled to the dividend.

Plans For Tennis Club Gets Boost

Plans for the $3 million Olive Ridge Tennis Club, near Blackpoint, havereceived favorable reaction from members of the Black Point Improvement Club, according to vice president Peter P. Yarish.

Plans for the development, which would include 21 club courts and 12 public courts, were presented to members Friday night by Attila Quartaroli, San Francisco contractor, project developer.

"The reaction was good," Yarish reported. Members felt the courts would be better than other possible uses of the site at Olive Avenue and Deer Island Lane, he said.

After the meeting, members held a birthday party for Mignon McDonald, who celebrated her 90th birthday anniversary Thursday. The club meets in the rumpus room of the McDonald home at 81 Manzanita Avenue.

Marriage Solves Video Problem

MARTINEZ (UPI) — Virgil Ramsey, 76, married Eileen Renia, 60, at a convalescent hospital Sunday and put an end to their television blues.

The elderly patients had been banned from late night television viewing by a state law prohibiting single couples in a convalescent hospital from watching the late show together.

A nurse said about 50 persons attended the ceremony with "champagne, punch and cake afterwards" and added there shouldn't be any quarrels over what television program they'll watch.

"He said he'll watch anything that happens to be on," the nurse said.

Volcano Poses Slide Dangers?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mt. Rainier, the 14,410-foot dormant volcano that dominate's western Washington's skyline, would be more likely to fill surrounding valleys with rock and mud than with hot lava and ash should it erupt again, according to a new report.

Dr. Dwight R. Crandell, a U.S. Geological Survey geologist, said an earthquake or volcanic explosion could send huge masses of rock and mud thundering down Rainier's slopes at some future time.

Crandell in a weekend report said "lahars" —an Indonesian word used to describe rock slides on the slopes of volcanoes — appear now to be the greatest hazard in any future eruption.

GIVE YOUR CHILD THIS TEST

Have him read List I and then List II.
Note the number of words misread in each list.

LIST I		LIST II

baby	grandmother	giraffe	broken
ten	seven	match	doctor

A third grade child who can read most of the words in List I but few in List II has learned to read words one at a time by memorizing them as wholes (the look-say approach).

A child who has truly learned to read can read correctly almost all the words in both lists.

How well is your third-grader learning to read? A child cannot keep up in school by memorizing words.

Come to the Sullivan Reading Center to see how we teach reading skills. It's a good system. We'll even unconditionally guarantee your child's progress in our program, or return your money.

Give the test. Maybe the Sullivan Reading Centers should be helping your child to READ.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

The Foolish Player Is Wrong When He Believes In 'Luck'

Is contract bridge a game of luck or a game of skill? If you listened attentively to the surface complaints of the 40 million bridge players in North America you might think that luck played an important role in the game, but readers of this column can dig below the surface. They don't have to dig very far with today's hand.

RETURNS SPADE

East took the ace of spades and returned a spade for his partner to ruff. West then led the king of clubs to dummy's ace.

South led out the ace and king of hearts, discovering that he would have to lose a trump trick. He started on the diamonds at once, hoping to discard his losing club, but East ruffed the third diamond. South had to ruff the spade return and surrender the setting trick to the queen of clubs.

South moaned piteously about his bad luck. He would have made the game if there hadn't been a spade ruff, or if West had held three trumps instead of only two, if West hadn't returned a club, or if East had held three or more diamonds.

NO SYMPATHY

Readers of this column are the tenderest hearted creatures in the world, but they have no sympathy for South. He dug his own grave.

West's spade ruff proved that East had started with seven spades. West's discard on the second trump showed that East had started with three trumps. East could have only three other cards, and he had already played one club. Therefore East couldn't possibly have as many as three diamonds.

ONLY CHANCE

South's only chance was to lead a third trump before running the diamonds. East would be unable to lead a club, and South would then be able to run the diamonds safely to discard his losing club.

What if South's bad luck is that he can't think clearly when he plays the cards? Then he should double three spades and collect a modest profit instead of demonstrating his infirmity as a declarer. There are no unlucky bridge players, there are only bad players afflicted with self-pity.

♦ - 8 5 2
♣ - K Q 9 8 7 4 2.
What do you say.

ANSWER: Pass if vulnerable. Bid three clubs if non-vulnerable, particularly if the opponents are vulnerable. You would prefer to have the jack of clubs as well as the king and queen, but the actual suit is good enough for the shutout bid.

Saturday's Answer

Chief's Outbursts Are Described

A Fairfax police officer has testified that he saw ousted Police Chief James R. Orr lose his temper "more than four or five times" in the police station after the chief had been drinking.

Patrolman Alan R. Wernstrum so testified when called to the stand Saturday before the Fairfax Board of Review, which is hearing Orr's appeal against his firing in September by City Mgr. Robert E. Crowe. The firing later was upheld by a 3-2 vote of the city council.

Under direct questioning by City Atty. Wallace S. Myers, Wernstrum repeated many of the complaints about Orr's regime made by earlier witnesses and contained in the list of charges on which Crowe based the firing. Wernstrum is to be cross-examined tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in the Fairfax Women's Club.

Morale in the department was "on a rather low note" because of lack of a chain of command, orders being issued directly by police clerk Marsha S. Kittelman, lack of equipment "to do a good job," lack of training, and lack of direction in the use and care of guns and other equipment, Wernstrum told the review board in direct examination.

Wernstrum testified that one occasion when Orr showed anger was a night when the patrolman had locked the rear door to the station, although Orr had instructed it be kept unlocked.

"I preferred the door be locked" when alone in the office, Wernstrum testified. He said the chief "practically beat the door down" and "stormed by me" after admission. "I wouldn't say he was intoxicated, but he had been drinking," Wernstrum said on the stand.

After sparring between Myers and Orr's attorney, Leonard Shaw, over how frequently Wernstrum had seen Orr lose his temper and show signs of drinking, the patrolman testified "more than four or five times," but did not specify the occasions.

Wernstrum said that he had difficulty learning when police training courses were available, but "I requested to take many courses. I eventually was asked by Mister Orr if I wanted to be a policeman or wanted to go to school."

Wernstrum added that the chief was hostile to the officers' daily activity logs inaugurated afterinsistence by the Fairfax Police Officers Association. "He called it a 'lie sheet' and wasn't for it," Wernstrum testified.

Wernstrum complained that patrolmen "received orders from all over," many of them from Mrs. Kittelman. "I received orders from Mrs. Kittelman that didn't appear to come from the chief," he testified.

Mrs. Kittelman figured prominently in the charges by Crowe, who accused the chief of favoring her over men in the department, improperly appointing her as a policewoman, and having improper social relationships with her.

Earlier Saturday, former Fairfax police cadet Lynn S. Welter, now a Sausalito patrolman, was cross-examined by Shaw.

Welter testified that he "complained continually to Mrs. Kittelman, the chief and the sergeants" that the woman was passing her regular duties on to the cadets.

Welter singled out one order last Dec. 14 signed by Orr, instructing him to do monthly reports that Mrs. Kittelman had always done. Welter admitted he composed a written reply that brought a reprimand from Orr, Shaw brought out.

Welter admitted adding a note below Orr's orders, that read: "Dearest Marsha: This is obviously another trick of yours . . ." to load the cadet with more work by getting the chief to sign an order.

Orr followed that up with a note to Welter instructing him "not to leave memos about implying someone 'forced'" the chief to sign anything, Welter testified.

Welter told the review board he resigned the following New Year's Eve because "the work and the situation became unbearable. There wasn't any future in the department . . . morale was extremely low."

Saturday's session was attended by about 20 persons, including City Councilman Robert R. Souza.

Gate Span Collision Kills 1, Injures 3

A Guerneville woman was killed and three other persons injured yesterday when a speeding car crossed the center divider on the Golden Gate Bridge and slammed into three northbound cars.

Julia May Languille, 52, a retired secretary for a San Francisco mortuary, was dead on arrival at Marin General Hospital following the 12:15 a.m. accident, the Marin County Coroner's office reported.

She was a passenger in a car driven by Thomas P. Scott, 52, of 386 Elm Avenue, Larkspur.

Reported in satisfactory condition today at the hospital were Scott, his wife, Lorraine, and Carlos John Flores, 35, of San Francisco, driver of the wrong-way vehicle.

Hospital officials said Scott had a broken leg and arm bone while his wife received cuts and a broken right arm. Flores suffered multiple face and leg cuts.

According to the California Highway Patrol, Flores's car, southbound on the bridge near the north tower, crossed the center line and collided head-on with Scott's car.

Officers said the Flores vehicle then sideswiped two other northbound cars, driven by George V. D. Newhart, 28, of 160 East Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley, and John E. Anderson, 28, of 1539 Lincoln Avenue, Apt. 7, San Rafael. Neither was injured.

The patrol said a witness told them the Flores car was weaving and alternately accelerating and slowing as it drove along the Sausalito lateral. As it reached the bridge, the patrol quoted the witness as saying, the car accelerated rapidly, crossed the cone divider and collided with the other three cars.

Mrs. Languilla worked for 15 years as a secretary for the McAvoy O'Hara Co., a San Francisco mortuary. Before that she was a secretary at the California State Automobile Association, San Francisco. She retired three years ago.

She is survived by a brother, Morris Cooney, of San Francisco, and a sister, Elizabeth Buckley, of Daly City.

Mass of the Resurrection will be celebrated at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday at St. Thomas More's Church, San Francisco. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the McAvoy O'Hara Co. Burial will be at Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

Mrs. Languille was Marin's 32nd traffic fatality this year, compared to 38 at this time last year.

School Board To Receive Guides

The Novato Unified School District board is scheduled to receive guidelines on food sales at elementary schools at a meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Novato High School lecture hall.

Trustees agreed last month to lift the ban on food sales subject to approval of the guidelines to be submitted by the food sales committee of the North Marin Council of the Parent-Teacher Association.

Elks Favor Ousters In Berkeley

Legal action to remove from office members of the Berkeley City Council who voted to give sanctuary to war dissenters and armed forces deserters has been urged by San Rafael Lodge 1108, B.P.O. Elks.

In a letter to Atty. Gen. John Mitchell, Gov. Ronald Reagan, California Atty. Gen. Evelle J. Younger, and U.S. Dist. Atty. James Browning Jr., the lodge's Americanism committee declared:

"This action (of the Berkeley councilmen) is in open defiance of our form of government and laws and is overtly giving aid to and abetting the enemies of this United States of America by encouraging desertion among members of our armed forces, providing aid and comfort to draft resisters and offering asylum to both of these groups.

"The people perpetuating this unthinkable act should not be allowed to flaunt the laws which they swore to 'obey and uphold' when taking office."

The letter was signed by Walter S. Filler, Americanism committee chairman.

Woman Hurt In Auto Crash

A Fairfax woman was injured yesterday when her car skidded and hit two parked cars early, Fairfax police reported.

Leah D. Danley, 51, of 49 Hillside Drive was treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut lip and bump on her arm.

She lost control of her car at 6:20 a.m. in the heavy rain and skidded into two cars on the 200 block of Bolinas Road, police reported. The cars were owned by Arthur Atwood of 88 Hazel Avenue, Larkspur and Hertz Rent-A-Car.

Mysterious Tunnel Blast Fatal To 22

PORT HURON, Mich. (UPI) —A mishap-plagued water tunnel project where 22 construction workers were killed in a gas explosion must be completed if the water needs of southeast Michigan are to be met this century, a water services official said Sunday.

"We have to complete it," said Gerald Remus, general manager for the Detroit Metropolitan Water Services. "There is no question about that."

The bodies of the victims of Saturday's explosion were removed from the 250-foot deep pit Sunday but only 18 could be positively identified. Eight workers remained hospitalized, six in serious condition. Fourteen workers escaped injury.

The workers were pouring a concrete liner for the tunnel about a mile from its start when methane gas ignited and sent an explosive force ripping through the tunnel.

"People and bodies just went flying everywhere, just like a bomb," said Richard Green," 27, one of the eight men seriously injured in the blast.

Volunteer fireman Bob Messe was one of the first to crawl to the explosion site.

"It was unbelievable," he said. "My eyes couldn't believe it. What it did to the steel alone in that tunnel was unbelievable, let alone what it did to the bodies."

Meese said it looked "like a bomb went off in there."

Project officials would not speculate on the cause until state safety inspectors complete their investigations.

The $120 million project which began in the spring of 1968 has been plagued by a series of mishaps —collapses and weather damage. Until Saturday there had been only one fatality.

Remus said plans were underway to resume construction. The six-mile tunnel was designed to help carry clean Lake Huron water to Detroit and 85 other southeast Michigan communities.

State Labor Director Barry Brown said the force of Saturday's blast —which dismembered many of the victims — indicates a vein of methane (swamp gas) was unexpectedly tapped and ignited. He said investigators would look for a "breakthrough" in the shale lake bottom that could have yielded methane.

Only months after the project started in 1968 one of the cofferdams collapsed and a construction company which was later released from its contract charged in a court suit that the lake base was unstable.

In December, 1970, five of the seven cofferdams —used to create a dry hole five miles out in Lake Huron —collapsed in a violent storm, causing $5.5 million in damage.

Last month, another storm damaged the cofferdam cells again, causing another delay.

Health Planners Due Proposals

Two proposals by Regional Medical Programs, a Bay Area group concerned with medical education, will be presented to the Comprehensive Health Planning Council of Marin at 7:30 a.m. Wednesday at Marin General Hospital.

The group will present proposals on education in community hospitals and a regional cancer program, according to Michael Ingerman, health planning coordinator.

Council members also will receive a request from Marin Home Care to act as its advisory board.

Record-Breaking Cyclist Injured

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Motorcyclist Joe Einhorn was "in good spirits and talkative" today despite a broken nose and concussion.

The daredevil stuntman leaped 14 parked cars at an exhibition Saturday and claimed a new indoor cycle jump record. However, he was injured when he slammed into a bale of hay while attempting to match the record leap a second time.

His jump carried him 118 feet —and one car more than cyclist Evel Kneivel cleared recently in Portland, Ore.

Einhor, 23, Richmond, Calif., broke his back attempting a similar leap several months ago.

Session Off

The regular meeting of the Marin County Housing Authority, scheduled for Wednesday, will not be held because the authority and redevelopment agency has held several meetings in the past two weeks, according to Wallace K. Shepherd, executive director for both groups.

Crash Victim Satisfactory

A San Rafael man was reported in satisfactory condition today in the intensive care unit at Marin General Hospital where he was being treated for injuries received Thursday when his motorcycle collided with a car.

Allen R. Gotch, 25, of 254 Alpine Street, suffered a broken left arm, multiple facial fractures and head injuries, according to a hospital spokesman.

Police said he was driving his motorcycle east on Mission Avenue about 3:30 p.m. when he collided with a car driven by Leon M. Urban, 40, of 134 Morningside Drive, San Anselmo. The accident occurred at the intersection of E Street.

Sewage Plan Will Be Distributed

Directors of the Stinson Beach County Water District, after listening to a proposal for a sewerage system for the community, has authorized the printing of copies of the plan for distribution throughout the community, director John L. Jones reported.

Jones said the board hopes to give residents a chance to study the new plan and discuss it. The board will hold several meetings on the proposal in the next few weeks, she said.

The plan, prepared by consultants Frank M. Stead and George Tchobanoglous, calls for use of sewers only in areas where septic tanks are failing or impractical because of lot size and terrain.

It also proposes a treatment plant and a percolation gallery in the sand dune area of Stinson Beach where treated wastes could be disposed of by draining into the ground.

It also suggests recycling of liquid and solid wastes on hillside and in the Stinson Beach State Park and Point Reyes National Sashore.

Success Of Education Bills In Legislature

(Editors note: The California legislature met for a record 11 months this year. What were its accomplishments and failings? This is the first of a series seeking to answer that question. This article concerns education.)

By P. ALFIERI JONES

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — When the legislature considered education this year, the two issues which captured the most interest were sex and money. Both drew vetoes from Gov. Ronald Reagan.

In August, the State Supreme Court ruled California's system of financing schools through local property taxes was unconstitutional because the quality of education was forced to depend largely upon local wealth.

Although the egurt's decision apparently made a major overhaul of school finance inevitable, the legislature put the problem off until the 1972 session.

The most ambitious attempt to meet the court's ruling this year—one the author admitted was doomed from the start—was a $6 billion package by Democrat Leroy Greene of Sacramento, chairman of the Assembly Education Committee.

The plan, which included a statewide property tax to raise funds, died Nov. 9 in the Assembly Ways and Means Committee.

Other major finance measures, including a $256 million proposal by Greene, a $300 million package by Sen. Albert Robda, D-Sacramento, and a plan by Assemblyman John L. E. Collier, R-Los Angeles, to finance schools through a 1½ cent sales tax increase, also were killed in the legislature.

One of the more emtional issues in the legislature was venereal disease education.

A bill by Assemblyman March K. Fong, D-Oakland, would have allowed classroom VD instruction without prior parental consent.

The bill narrowly passed both houses, but was vetoed by Gov. Reagan who said there was already "too much government interference in the family relationship."

Although Reagan said the VD bill was "unnecessary" because the instruction could be given without the measure, Mrs. Fong launched a statewide campaign to muster support for an override of the governor's veto. The Assembly upheld the veto.

Higher education generated its share of controversy, most of it over teachers' salaries.

Reagan vetoed a 10 per cent faculty pay raise from the budget in July. In November, he vetoed another bill appropriating $15.8 million to give the faculty a 7.5 per cent pay increase.

In his veto message, Reagan said the bill would force "the already overburdened wage earners of California to dig yet deeper into their pockets ... "

Angry faculty members charged Reagan's vetoes would lead professors to "leave state service for better-paying jobs elsewhere."

University of California and state college faculty have not had a cost-of-living increase for 2½ years.

One issue which split higher education was the proposal to rename some of the state colleges "state universities." Long sought by the state college system, the change was strongly opposed by the University of California.

But after several unsuccessful attempts in past years, the bill cleared the legislature this session and was signed into law by Reagan.

There is now a controversy over which, if any, of the state colleges deserve to be renamed universities.

In July, Reagan cut from the budget all construction funds for higher education.

But the withholding tax bill he signed provides $80 million in construction money for the university and state colleges. In addition, it furnishes $30 million to bring elementary and high school classrooms up to earthquake safety standards.

The Legislature also placed on the November 1972 general election ballot a proposed $160 million bond issue by Sen. Albert S. Rodda, D-Sacramento, to finance community college construction.

Education bills signed into law this year include:

EARTHQUAKE—A bill by Assemblyman Leroy Greene, D-Sacramento, establishing a state loan fund for school districts so they can bring their classrooms up to earthquake safety standards. The districts can levy a tax of up to 10 cents per $100 assessed valuation without voter approval to pay back the loan.

YEAR-AROUND—Also by Greene, a bill authorizing school districts operating a year-around program to apply for a cut in their payments to the state building aid program. Another bill by Fong, authorizes school districts to conduct experimental year-around classroom programs with the permission of the state superintendent of public instruction.

TENURE—A bill by Assemblyman John Stull, R-Leucadia, revising the procedure for firing a tenured teacher. The measure moves the appeals procedure in firings from the superior courts to three-member panel with representatives of the teacher, the school board and the state Office of Administrative Procedure.

Bills which were unsuccessful included:

VOUCHER—A Bill by Assemblyman Leo Ryan, D-Burlingame, authorizing pilot programs to test the voucher system of school finance. The bill was killed in committee.

BILINGUAL—A Bill by Assemblyman Wadie P. Deddeh establishing statewide programs for students who are not fluent in English. It was vetoed by Reagan.

COUNCIL—A bill by Sen. Alfred Alquist, D-San Jose, expanding the membership of the Coordinating Council for Higher Education. The bill was vetoed by Reagan who said no changes should be made until the council has completed its study of the Master Plan for Higher Education.

SWINDLE— A bill by Rodda establishing a state commission to study the regulation of unaccredited colleges and universities. Supporters contended it would protect students from swindlers, but Reagan vetoed the bill saying he was not convinced it was necessary.

SOME SIMPLE, FUN PROJECTS

By PAT BALMES

Baking ornaments for the Christmas tree will keep children busy during Christmas vacation.

Other simple projects for young craftsmen are ice candles, organic necklaces, leather bookmarks, pull-tab ornaments, bug catchers and papier mache snack trays, bracelets and pencil holders.

These inexpensive gifts will be on sale, to children only, at Bel-Aire School Parent-Teacher Club Holiday Boutique Wednesday.

Mrs. James Martin, whose Tiburon home is decorated with her own oil paintings, crewel needlework and papier mache decorator assessories, worked with her 9-year-old daughter, Laura, on some of these items and shares her instructions with I-J readers, whose children may enjoy making things during the holidays.

BAKER'S DOUGH ORNAMENTS

3 cups flour (add ½ cup more in kneading)
1 cup salt
1½ cups water

Dissolve salt in water. Add flour and mix well. Knead for five to 15 minutes, adding flour. Roll out dough about one-quarter inch thick. Use cookie cutters or cut your own design with a knife. Be sure to make a hole at the top before baking ornament. Dough will puff slightly. A garlic press makes hair. Bake at 350 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes or until cookie feels firm.

After ornaments cool an hour, paint them with poster or acrylic paints, then shellac.

ICE CANDLES

½ gallon milk carton
Old crayons (3)
Old candle
Chunks of white wax, about two or three pounds
Ice cubes crushed into three pieces per ice cube.

Smaller containers like school milk cartons or dixie cups may be used. Melt wax in 2-pound coffee can in pan of hot water, add crayons for color.

Meanwhile, cut top off milk carton. Put old candle in center of carton. Arrange crushed ice with smaller pieces at bottom and larger ones at top, packing it tightly around candle. Pour in hot wax. Allow to cool thoroughly overnight.

Tear off carton. If it does not release easily, refrigerate five to 15 minutes. (Carton should be greased with salad oil before wax and ice are put in.) Makes a lacy candle. Center candle may be replaced when burned down.

ORGANIC NECKLACES

By using natural materials such as sunflower seeds, dried corn, dried berries, acorn heads and macaroni alternating with glass beads, make necklaces. Macaroni may be quickly dunked in vegetable food dye. Use thick needle and heavy thread.

LEATHER BOOKMARKS

With scraps of leather cut into assorted long shapes, bookmarks can be made. Add to it by cutting a fringe at bottom and weaving or gluing different colored leather down the front.

PULL-TAB ORNAMENTS

Soft drink or beer can pull tabs
Glue
Spray paint
Bits of felt and old jewelry
Glue tabs, overlapping, in a sunburst design. Spray paint. Glue on bits of jewelry and felt. Hang with colored yarn.

BUG CATCHERS

Wire screen 10 x 15 inches
Two cat food or tuna cans
Spray cans and screen one color. Decorate cans as desired. Roll screen, place one can on each end. Attach string on top for handle.

PAPIER MACHE SNACK TRAY

3 tablespoons flour
1½ tablespoons white glue
2 cups water

Mix and bring to boil, keep stirring to prevent lumps. Pour into flat container to cool. It lasts four days.

To make snack tray, tear newspaper into about 1½ inch squares. Cover thinly with paste and apply to paper plate, overlapping edges. Let dry overnight. Paint white with water base paint (poster paint). When dry, paint Christmas design on and shellac.

To make bracelet cut a strip of shirt cardboard and staple it to fit wrist. Apply bits of newspaper as above. Paint, design and shellac.

To make pencil holder use a baby food jar with its top glued to the bottom for a pedestal. Cover with gluey papier mache and wrap a string around neck and base. Dry overnight.

Paint with waterbase paint the next day; it will dry in an hour. Shellac, wait an hour and shellac again.

Cover with black India ink, then rub off with rag dampened with water for antique effect.

4 Symphony Previews Announced

The first preview is set for Jan. 6 at 11 a.m. and will feature Charles Boone discussing a new work and the American premiere of "Connexities for Piano and Orchestra" by the Greek composer, Iannis Xanakis. Boone is a composer and a lecturer on the new music in the U.S. and Europe.

Other previews are set for Feb. 17, with Marin Symphony conductor Sandor Salgo as speaker; April 6, Maestro Niklaus Wyss, associate conductor of the San Francisco Symphony, and May 11, Julian White, professor of music at California State College at Hayward.

All previews will be held at 11 a.m. at the San Francisco Museum Art rotunda, according to Mrs. Lee M. Gammill Jr. of Mill Valley.

Treating Excess Hair Problems

When excess hair is purely a cosmetic problem, there are a number of methods of treatment open to choice by the individual. All must be performed with care, according to the Medical and Pharmaceutical Information Bureau.

An article in a recent issue of Patient Care magazine describes shaving as the best and least-time consuming method for removing arm and leg hair. However, it must be repeated every day or so to prevent stubble. Shaving does not coarsen or darken hair.

For beard and mustache, plucking is the choice. Waxing takes care of an entire mustache neatly, but painfully. Electrolysis permanently removes both, but must be performed by a skilled operator. Bleaching conceals hair and should be preceded by a patch test for sensitivity.

Chemical depiliation is described as fine for women who can't shave and won't pluck. It also requires a patch test and should not be used facially unless advertised for this purpose.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Unmarried Couple May Cause Holiday Hosts Some Discomfort

DEAR HELEN:

We have good friends who aren't married but live together. They recently moved to another state, where we visited them last summer. They're completely open about their relationship, stating that for them marriage is unnecessary.

The rest of our friends aren't that liberal. Here's our problem: this couple will visit us over the holidays. We have only one extra bedroom which they expect to share. Do I imply to our other friends that "Jim" is sleeping on the couch; or do I insist that he sleep on the couch for appearance sake; or do I just bull it through and shrug my shoulders? — MODERN HOSTESS

DEAR MOD HOSTESS:

To put on an act for the benefit of people who already know the facts is embarrassing, silly — and futile. Let your friends sleep wherever they wish. It's their decision, not yours. (Nor is it any of those other friends' business.) — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Many young people voted in the last election and probably did their best to bone up on the issues before going into the booths.

This is directed to those who were like the young lady ahead of me. When the election clerk started to tell her how the machine worked, she said, "Oh yes, I know about the lever."

Then she went into the booth, pulled the handle and immediately pulled it back again, opening the curtains. The clerk questioned her about such speed.

"I was just practicing," she replied. "I'll go back and vote now."

"I'm afraid you've lost your vote," said the clerk.

"You're depriving me of my rights, blah—blah—blah—" On she went. "I'll stay here till the place closes," she wailed.

This girl held up the line, caused unnecessary commotion, and finally an officer had to escort her from the building. All because of her ignorance.

MY POINT IS: young voters should not only read up on issues and personalities before going to the polls, but also study carefully the mockup of the voting machine outside the booth, and follow instructions. And if they aren't sure — they'd better ask!

Voting isn't a lark. It's serious business. — E.B.

DEAR E.:

Right!

While we're on the subject, have you heard of Frontlash, an organization devoted primarily to registering the non-student segment of the 11.5 million newly enfranchised 18-to 21-year-olds in the United States?

The big registration push in colleges and universities has made most students poll-conscious. But the "invisible majority" — young marrieds, blue collar workers, high school or community college drop-outs — are hard to reach, and often not particularly interested in politics unless they're given the right impetus. Frontlash workers fan out into the communities, especially in low-income and minority areas, and show people there how important their vote is.

Almost two-thirds of the 18-to 21-year-olds in this country do not attend college. Many of these will not register to vote unless someone inspires them. If youth wants a good showing at the polls next November, then the politically active should get off campus and start campaigns where "the awakening" hasn't yet hit. — H.

Book Project For Inmates Really Booming

NORFOLK, Va. — Thanks to the efforts of two city librarians, inmates at the city jail are getting twice-a-week library service.

The project started in early June and by fall had grown from 182 to 530 books and magazines. The two librarians, Mrs. Jane B. Lego and Mrs. Fern Campbell, bring the requested books with them in addition to magazines contributed by local citizens.

Reading tastes of inmates range from black studies, nonviolent revolutions and westerns to Will and Arial Durant's 10-volume "The Story of Civilization." One man is actually reading all 10 volumes, said Mrs. Campbell. (Los Angeles Times, Syndicate)

Women Should Realize Making Will Important

(I-J Special Report)

NEW YORK — Ever since she was a young bride, Eleanor Ryerson had a precious Limoges China service.

Mrs. Ryerson, a widow with two grown sons in Australia, had always meant to leave the Limoges China to a niece who used to help her out with shopping and entertaining whenever the Ryersons had guests. Mrs. Ryerson died recently and because she made no will, her niece never received the China service.

The case of Eleanor Ryerson — not her real name — is typical of many women, widowed, married and single, who failed to make a will and so deprived themselves of an opportunity to dispose of their property as they might have wished to.

Why do so many married women neglect to make wills? Much of the problem, it would seem, stems from a mistaken belief that one will — the husband's — is sufficient per family.

Also, some feel that their property is "just not worth"

Firms Upgrading Breakfast Cereals

By ARTHUR E. ROWSE

WASHINGTON — A little criticism on nationwide television can accomplish more than milk in adding nutrition to dry breakfast cereals.

When Robert B. Choate shocked many companies and parents in 1970 with his analysis of breakfast cereals, industry spokesmen admitted that in many cases, the milk that was added provided more vitamins and minerals than the cereal itself.

Choate called most of the products over-advertised and under-nutritious. Since then, however, 26 out of 40 cereals mentioned by Choate have been "dramatically reformulated" to boost their nutritional values.

"THIS OVERDUE reaction," says Choate now, "refutes the arguments advanced by company-paid nutritionists who tried to belittle our remarks on the nutritional deficiencies of products advertised to children."

In terms of nutrition content, he said, Kellogg's Froot Loops, Apple Jacks, Cocoa Krispies, Sugar Pops, Puffa Puffa Rice and Sugar Frosted Flakes "finally can be considered reasonable breakfast cereals."

But he still is not impressed with the snap, crackle and pop of Kellogg's Rice Krispies and Corn Flakes, two of the most advertised products. He continues to place them in the bottom 10 per cent in nutiritional value.

According to his latest assessment, General Mills has improved the nutritional content of all its cereals, including Cheerios, Wheaties, Lucky Charms and the new Count Chocula Frankenberry to "respectable" levels.

General Foods also scores high marks with Choate, having improved the nutrient quality of its Grape Nuts, Alpha Bits, Crispy Critters, Krinkles, Post Toasties and Honeycomb.

OTHER CEREALS showing marked improvement, according to Choate, include Quaker's Cap'n Crunch and Crunchberries, Nabisco's Wheat Honeys and Rice Honeys. He also likes the quality of several products introduced since his first analysis, such as King Vitamin, Quangaroo and Pebbles.

He says Ralston Purina's Sugar Frosted Chex will be upgraded in the "near future," but he still puts the firm's Rice Chex and Corn Chex in the bottom 10 per cent of the nutrilional scale.

His analysis shows seven cereals so full of vitamins and minerals that he calls them "calorie-connected vitamin pills." They are Kellogg's Product 19; General Mills' Kaboom, Total, Corn Total and Buc Wheats; Quaker's King Vitaman; and Nabisco's 100% Bran.

Each provides 100 per cent of the Minimum Daily Requirements of at least four nutrients.

But Choate deplores the continuing heavy emphasis on sugar. He lists seven cereals which list sugar as the primary ingredient. They are Kellogg's Sugar Smacks, Froot Loops and Apple Jacks; General Mills' Kaboom, Frosty-o's, Count Chocula and Frankenberry; and General Foods' Super Sugar Crisp.

HE ALSO is critical of what he calls "grossly misleading" advertising for dry cereals. He says that children particularly have difficulty sorting out claims for protein, energy and nutrition.

In recent testimony before the Federal Trade Commission, Choate called for federal guidelines to govern advertising foods on nutritional bases, particularly when aimed at children.

For a copy of Choate's scorecard comparing nutritional qualities of 64 dry cereals, send a stamped and return-addressed envelope to Dept. K, Consumer News, Inc., 813 National Press Building, Washington, D.C., 20004.

Touch Of Sweetness Good For Entrees

A touch of sweetness goes well with many entrees, particularly cuts of pork, ham or poultry. Adding walnuts to the dish make it even more palatable.

Try this combination. Spread half of 1-pound can of yams in orange-pineapple sauce in buttered bake dish. Cover with a sliced banana; sprinkle with quarter cup each chopped walnuts and brown sugar. Repeat; dot with butter. Bake until bubbling.

drawing up a will. This despite the fact that many a woman's estate — real and personal property — may include valuable jewelry, furs, paintings and heirlooms, as well as life insurance policies, stocks, bonds and real estate.

WHAT SOME married women fail to realize is that in the event of the husband's death, their own passing away without a will could thwart any joint plans the couple might have had for the distribution of their property.

It also means leaving property for disposal by a court-appointed administrator, according to state law. In the circumstances, the property might not be distributed according to the owner's wishes, but on top of that, there are usually probate and administrative expenses, leaving a reduced estate.

A particular advantage of a wife making a will while her husband is still alive, advises the institute of Life Insurance, is that she can benefit by their discussing the subject jointly as well as participate in joint planning for children and grandchildren. A woman who waits to make a will until she becomes widowed may find that decision-making comes harder.

The absence of a will can cause unavoidable hardships. What if a husband were to die leaving a will in which the wife receives everything and then she dies shortly afterward? If there are young children, the consequences might be extremely serious unless their mother left a will naming a person specifically responsible for their care. The children's guardianship might be left for strangers to decide.

IN THE case of an unmarried woman with no dependents, a will assures that her estate will go to where she feels it will do the most good. This can mean named relatives, friends, schools, a religious group or charities. Otherwise her property would revert automatically to relations, however distant and perhaps totally unknown.

Should there be considerable assets, additional professional help may be needed when making a will. Depending on the kinds of assets involved — a trust officer, accountant and a life insurance agent along with the lawyer may make up an estate planning team.

Life insurance policies where the beneficiary is named are not included in wills. This facilitates payment of benefits which are usually needed by the survivors for immediate income.

You'll have a party pie in no time when you add one-half cup chopped walnuts and two teaspoons pure vanilla extract to a 28-ounce jar of mincemeat. Idea Behind A Designer's Knit Collection

"I went back to my childhood and took my inspiration from the striped sweaters the boys wore in 'Our Gang' TV comedy," explains designer Betsey Johnson about her new knit collection for spring.

"I knitted my 'Our Gang' group in preshrunk cotton and funky, old-fashioned colors like aqua, maroon brown, soft orange and salmon. All of them look a bit faded," she told Women's Wear Daily.

The designer says she works only in natural fibers, and "won't let the polyester salesman in the door" of her Alley Cat sportswear house. "Natural fibers look better, feel better and get old beautifully."

What do sheets and the story of Cinderella have in common? They both imply magical powers—the ability to turn one thing into another. For example, a vivid patterned sheet makes a bright, budget-minded bedcover or matching or coordinating curtains and pillow shams.

Brass Is Golden For College Band

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Golden brass sound and technical virtuosity were the outstanding features of Saturday night's winter concert of the College of Marin Community band of some 75 players conducted by John H. Myers in the college's Fine Arts Theater.

As in most of Myers's concerts, programming was fresh and challenging. With players capable of realizing mellow cornet tone, clear, true trumpet brilliance and stentorian trombone power, it was no wonder Myers focused program attention on the brass choirs. This was most evident in the seven movements from the contemporary English composer Gordon Jacob's "Music for a Festival," in which the brass played every other movement, joining the full band in the finale.

In this work the virtuoso capacity of the band was also notable. One of the most difficult forms to perform successfully in any instrumentation, the fugue is a Mount Everest to conquer for a large aggregation. The band most nearly achieved complete success in the fugue contained in the finale of this festival music.

Another fugue, in the polka and fugue from the contemporary Czech composer Jaromir Weinberger's opera "Schwanda, the Bagpiper," in a band arrangement by Glenn Cliff Bainum, did not quite achieve the split-second timing necessary in a fugue.

The work was otherwise remarkable for the extraordinary use in band of an organ, brilliantly played by Geoffrey Meyer. He was also at the piano keyboard in the equally unusual employment of that instrument with band, in the danza final from Argentine contemporary composer Alberto Ginastera's "Estancia." Meyer and Terry Bozzio, who also performed notably in this percussive work, have long been the backbone of the band's excellent percussion section.

Deserving a full share of credit were the band's nimble woodwinds, all of them, to mention just one place, in the scherzo of the festival music and the clarinets especially in the overture to Wagner's opera "Rienzi" in a band arrangement by M. C. Meyrelles.

In great contrast to the exuberance of the rest of the program was "Song of the Threnos" by the English contemporary composer Alfred Reed. It was conducted by David Murray, first trombone, in accordance with Myers's commendable policy of offering every possible opportunity for students' individual development. Murray's relaxed, graceful conducting produced the necessary long sustained and smooth flowing phrasing in this lyrical elegy.

Noteworthy for tightly controlled building of excitement was the performance of the berceuse and finale from Stravinsky's ballet, "The Firebird."

No band program would be complete without marches. The three performed with dynamic rhythm were the opening "Fairest of the Fair" by Sousa, one of the 32 different marches by this composer Meyers has programmed in a special project over 12 years; R. Vaughan Williams's march on sea songs based on tunes of "Princess Royal," "Admiral Benbow" and "Portsmouth;" and the encore, "Americans, We" by Henry Fillmore.

The last brought the program to a close with whistling acclaim from a near-capacity audience that appeared to be composed more of older adults and children than college students.

KING HEROD — Sonoma State College music professor E. Gardner Rust will sing the role of Herod in the performance of "A Christmas Story" tomorrow at 8 p.m. at St. Raphael's Church, San Rafael. The college chorus, philharmonic and children's chorus will take part in the production.

MUSIC REVIEW

A New Series Is Off To Good Start

Another Marin Concert series was launched successfully with the first program in the new family vespers series yesterday afternoon at St. Stephen's Church in Belvedere.

The opening was auspicious, for the concert performed by the Orchestra Piccola under the direction of Hugo Rinaldi was delightful, and a large audience almost filled the church, which has a 300-seat capacity.

For those who have attended the concerts of the Marin Youth Orchestra during the past 15 years, the mature level of the performance by these young people was no surprise because the Marin Youth Orchestra is one of the top ones in the state. The Orchestra Piccola is composed of 35 of the youth orchestra's best players, many with soloist potentialities.

It was also no surprise that St. Stephen's makes an excellent concert hall, except for visual problems caused by the flat floor. Its brilliant acoustics have been demonstrated in previous concerts, though not recently.

All resources of the young orchestra were heard in the rich, full bodied sonority achieved in the program's finale, the first movement of Bizet's Symphony in C.

Almost as impressive was Mozart's Sinfonia Concertante with solos by Jenny Sperry, oboe; Steve Gordon, clarinet, Kathe Kaeppel, bassoon, and Brian McCarty, French horn. The dexterity of the clarinet and oboe were especially remarkable. Either the difficulties of playing the horn, a very tricky instrument to control perfectly, or the technical intricacies in horn solo passages in this work resulted in a number of rough spots.

Two Vivaldi concertos — the Concerto in C Major for Violin, Two String Orchestras and Harpsichord and the Concerto in D Major for Guitar and String Orchestra — were excellent showcases for the talents of violinist Dan Smiley in the first and of guitarist Paul Bertolli in the second.

Smiley played with a light, sweet tone and fluid technique that became more assured and precise as the work progressed, and Bertolli's performance was marked by sure, crisp attack and sensitive phrasing.

Enhancing the total effect in both concertos was the velvety smoothness of the strings, one of the outstanding characteristics of this little orchestra.

A unique feature of the programs in the four-concert series starting at 5 p.m. is the light complimentary supper served after the performances in the parish hall of the church.

Slate Chosen For Railroad Hobbyist Group

A single slate of nominees for officers of the North Coast Model Railroad Society was named at a charter membership and nomination meeting Friday night at the Northwestern Pacific Railroad Depot in San Rafael.

Nominated for president was Jode Anderson, 16, who, with Jim Marklinger, also 16, organized the club. Young Anderson has been acting president during the formation period.

Edmund P. Webber of San Rafael was nominated for vice president; William L. Woodward of Corte Madera, for secretary, and Jack N. Carroll of San Rafael, for treasurer.

Thirty-three charter members were present at the meeting.

Election will be held at a meeting at the same place Friday at 8 p.m., moved up a week from the regular meeting date because of Christmas.

Recycling Units Shut For Winter

Recycling centers in Petaluma, Rohnert Park and two other Sonoma County cities have been closed for the winter by the Sonoma County Environmental Center.

Earl E. Piercy, center executive director, said lack of volunteers forced the closings. The main center at 2360 Mendocino Avenue, Santa Rosa, will remain open.

Although the Rohnert Park Center is closed, residents may use the new recycling center on the Sonoma State College campus. It is open from 8 a.m. to noon on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Larkspur Dock Plans Revised

The Larkspur Planning Commission will review revised plans by the Silver Pavilion Associated for a dock in Corte Madera Creek at 8 p.m. tomorrow at city hall.

The association has applied to the Army Corps of Engineers to construct a dock 60 feet long with fingers, rather than a dock 121 feet long.

Commissioners also will review plans by Millbrae Highlands Co. for a pier and float to serve apartments on two lots along the creek.

DRAMA REVIEW

'Play It Again Sam' Fools The Audience

By KAY KSANDA

"Don't you ever cook anything except TV dinners?"

"Who cooks them," answers the batching hero, "I just suck them frozen."

Last night Terry McGovern played the role of a typical, sympathetic, unfortunate, short, homely, manic depressive; and McGovern was marvelous.

The production of "Play It Again Sam" by the Actors Playhouse of Marin Friday, Saturday, and last night was an outstanding success in innovative venture. It was the first live comedy in the new Marin Veterans Memorial Building; and probably the first time that many in the audience realized that with the new auditorium, we can at last have "big-city" theater in Marin County.

About 300 or 400 members of the audience, however, missed the ending of the play since they left thinking a closed curtain after the sad little hero got together with his friend's wife indicated the end of the third act.

The story was written by Woody Allen, principally as a vehicle for his own particular type of whimsey-riot and was produced two years ago on Broadway. The critics loved him; yet when academy winner Red Buttons tried it this year at the Curran Theater in San Francisco, he couldn't make the central character, Allan Felix, livable or likeable.

Casting for the Marin version was precise. Terry McGovern as Allan was alternately elfin, then almost insane. He looked like a sad child in his Mickey Mouse shirt, but then he cannonballed like Harpo Marx in his gorilla fur coat and pith helmet. Barbara Nelson as the departed wife was always stalking around dressed in purple, with a purple spot shining on her from somewhere in the heavens of the auditorium. Both she and Humphrey Bogart (Tom Barker) were really not there. They were fantasies of Allan's imagination . . . (he had a lot of problems.)

Dan Caldwell was cast as Allan's best friend. He walked, sat and talked as if he had an ironing board strapped to his back. His wife, played by Phyllis Courtney, was warm, sympathetic, and real.

The set designed by producer Robert Boyden was something else again. Built and carted up from Los Angeles, it had to be set up twice; once, in an empty warehouse for rehearsals, and again on Wednesday in the theater, just two days before opening night.

Director A. J. Esta brought each character into focus with balance. It's a frail story with many technical problems. He maintained, however, that this was his first experience in directing where he was not concerned with anything except the characters, the acting and the story.

"PLAY IT AGAIN SAM" — A comedy in three acts by Woody Allen. Presented by the Actors Playhouse of Marin. Robert Boyden, producer; A. J. Esta, director; Bob Finley, lighting; Robert Boyden, set; Manny Miro, stage manager. The cast: Allan Felix, Terry McGovern; Nancy, Barbara Nelson; Bogie, Tom Barker; Dick Christie, Dan Caldwell; Linda Christie, Phyllis Courtney; Gina, Judy Matson; go-go girls, Melodi Brown, Rosemary Tobin; intellectual girl, Robin Buckley; Barbara, Laura Barbarien; Sharon, Sharon Lake, and Vanessa, all by Stephanie Saunders.

McGovern Flays Vietnam War

By PAT ANGLE

Democratic presidential candidate George S. McGovern made a flying trip to Marin last night and voiced his concerns about the Southeast Asia war, the draft, the India-Pakistan conflict and poverty in America.

The affable South Dakota senator, who appeared relaxed after a day of campaigning which included talks and meetings in San Francisco, Berkeley, Fremont and Walnut Creek, was greeted warmly by the almost 700 persons who jammed the Mill Valley home of Dr. Burton Wise.

McGovern, a long-time and outspoken foe of the conflict in Asia, drew applause from his audience as he chastised the Nixon administration for its failure to end "the most barbaric undertaking of any country in modern times."

"There is no question the war could be ended immediately," the senator said. "The next president of the United States must be a man totally committed to ending the conflict and ending it now."

He blamed the war for many of the country's economic woes, including inflation ("caused by war time spending") and unemployment. "We have wasted $150 billion in Vietnam that could have been invested in job-creating enterprises," he said.

During his brief talk, McGovern introduced Ernest Gruening, 84-year-old former senator from Alaska who is traveling around the country in support of McGovern's candidacy.

Saying the country was "blessed with the worst president in the history of the U.S.," the sprightly Gruening endorsed McGovern as "the very best candidate for the presidency. I know all the other candidates and I respect and like them." Gruening said, "but they are not in the same class with George."

McGovern replied with a grin: "I think the endorsement of Senator Gruening is worth more than the endorsement of the junior senator from California. (He was referring to Sen. John V. Tunney's decision last week to support Sen. Edmund Muskie for president next year.)

The candidate told the Independent-Journal he is convinced he has something to offer to people who are disillusioned with what is happening in America today because "I tell the truth. I say what I think rather than waiting for the popular consensus to form.

"I think people are fed up with politicians' posturing, obsession with the polls and gimmicks," he said. "People don't expect politicians not to make any errors of judgment, but they do expect us to say what we believe rather than try to con them."

McGovern, who arrived in Marin by helicopter, touched on a number of issues during his stay:

THE DRAFT — Called for an end to the draft, "a new invention in American life," and said that "America was settled, to a great extent, by people who came here to get away from compulsory military service."

WOMEN'S RIGHTS — Spoke strongly in favor of the equal rights amendment, now stalled in the Senate, and said he believes it can be passed in 1972. He promised that, if elected, he would do all in his power to give women a role in national policy making and said he would, as president, appoint "several women" to top cabinet posts. "There are no cabinet posts women are not qualified to hold."

DRAFT REFUSAL — Said he would grant amnesty to young men who left the country to avoid being drafted to fight in Vietnam. "There is ample precedent for this; Lincoln did it after the Civil War; Coolidge did it after World War I and so did President Truman after World War II."

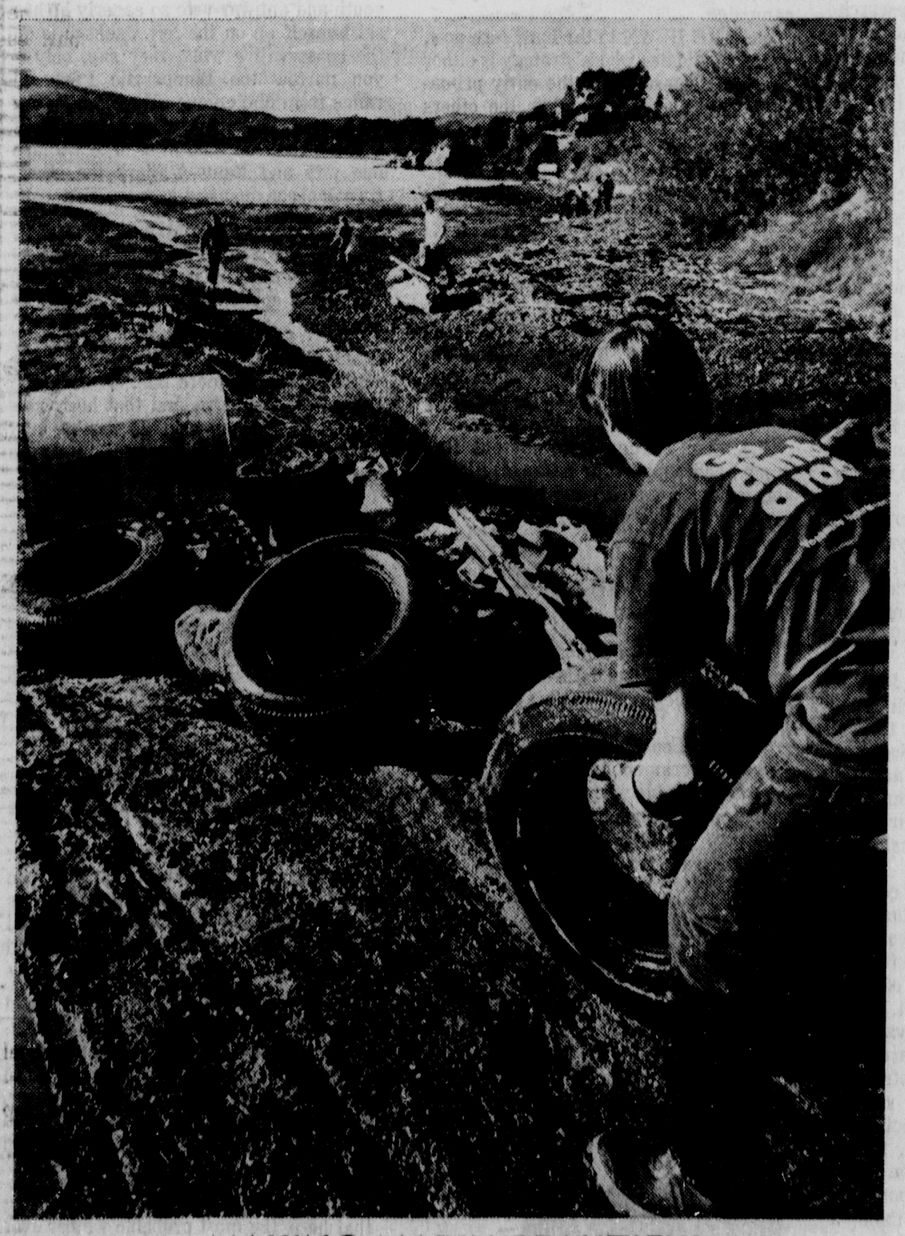
POVERTY — Said Japan's recent offer of food to the poor of Seattle, Wash., was a measure of how blind the administration has been to the needs of its own people." He said poverty is one of the many "almost-overwhelming problems" that have been neglected because of the Southeast Asia war. "There are 12 million hungry people in this country, 12 million people who are suffering from malnutrition," he said.

INDIA-PAKISTAN — Called it "outrageous that the United States has provided the arms which West Pakistan is now using to slaughter its own people. My sympathy is with India, although I am not saying the Indians are above mistakes."

LABOR — "I think some of the labor leadership today has too much power, but you have to balance that off against the even greater dangers of corporate power. If we didn't have powerful labor unions, I would tremble for the future of the United States," McGovern said.

AGRICULTURE — "The basic problem is that we don't have more programs to maintain an adequate income for the family farm. The per capita income of the small farmer is about two-thirds of what it is for the nation as a whole. We need strong supports for farm income."

After answering questions and shaking hands with the many who crowded around him McGovern left to attend a dinner party at the Ross home of June O. Degnan. He was continuing his campaigning in San Francisco today.



MAKING MARIN BEAUTIFUL

John Hess, 13, of Tiburon rolled a tire to a pile of litter while other youngsters also combed the shore of Richardson Bay for other unsightly matter. Hess and his cleanup companions worked four hours Saturday in an initial effort to clean up the beach along the Richardson Bay Pathway in Tiburon. The effort was organized by the Belvedere-Tiburon Committee for the Environment.

Two Hurt In Two-Car Crash

A Kentfield woman and Walnut Creek man were injured in a two-car accident Saturday in Richmond.

Jane Patrick, 43, of 12 Broadway, Kentfield, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut right leg and multiple bruises. Edward Dowd, 46, of Walnut Creek was treated at the same hospital for a cut right leg and forehead.

Richmond police reported that the Dowd car with Jane Patrick a passenger was westbound on Pennsylvania Avenue at 1:55 when it collided with a northbound car on Seventh Street. The driver of the second car, Charles Davis, 46, of Walnut Creek was to see his own doctor for minor pain.

Sophomores Recall Tam Class Chief

Paul Cohen, sophomore class president at Tamalpais High School and the third student leader to face a recall vote, has been removed from office by his classmates.

In what was described as a "very close vote" by John R. McSween, dean of student activities, sophomores voted Friday to recall Cohen. Some 27% of the school's 450 sophomores cast ballots.

McSween declined to release the exact vote totals to avoid embarrassing Cohen, who is also chairman of the Marin County Youth Commission.

Two other student leaders, president Nicholas Harris and vice president Matthew White, beat back a recall effort last week. All three removal attempts were spearheaded by sophomore Lars P. Enevoldsen, defeated by Cohen last year for the sophomore class presidency.

Enevoldsen initiated the recall because, he said, the three "don't take their jobs seriously and don't represent most of the students" at the high school.

Neither Cohen nor Enevoldsen was available for comment today on the vote.

McSween said sophomores who wish to run for class president have until Friday to file petitions bearing signatures of 10 classmates. The replacement election has been set tentatively for Jan. 6, after students return from a two-week holiday.

Nothing in the school's constitution prevents Cohen from running to regain his old seat, McSween said.

Enevoldsen earlier declined to say whether he'd run for any of the three positions in the event of a successful recall, but said he thought he could do a better job than any of the three leaders.

Fire Chief Hurt, Corte Madera House Lost in Predawn Blaze

Corte Madera Fire Chief Fank L. Nelson and another fireman were injured yesterday when a chimney collapsed during a fire which destroyed a two-and-a-half story home.

Nelson, 61, was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with fractured ribs, cut scalp and internal injuries. Fireman Lewis Spengler, 24, was treated at the hospital for an injured right leg.

A reddish glow was visible throughout Corte Madera and Greenbrae from the 3:15 a.m. fire at the residence of Clinton D. Hanger at 596 Chapman Drive.

Damage was estimated at $40,000 to $50,000.

Nelson was injured when he ran from a collapsing chimney and fell down an embankment and through a roofless garage, landing on a parked car, according to Asst. Chief Lee J. Larson.

Spengler was hit by a falling brick.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanger fled the burning home safely. Their two children were spending the night with friends.

Larson said the home was totally engulfed in flames when firemen arrived. Cause of the fire had not been determined, he said, but it was believed to have started on the first floor of the residence.

Fourteen of Corte Madera's 24 firemen and three trucks responded to the blaze, Larson said.

The home was the third destroyed by fire in Corte Madera since September.

Two houses were destroyed and a third badly damaged in a fire Sept. 16.

Following that blaze, demands by residents for greater fire protection led to appointment of a citizens committee and hiring of consultants to study the town's fire protection.

Two Areas' Homes Hit By Blackouts

Almost 1,500 homes and businesses in San Rafael and 70 more in Tiburon were without electricity for a short time today as two separate power outages hit Marin.

A Pacific Gas and Electric Co. spokesman said power was knocked out to 1,460 customers in northern San Rafael when a tree limb struck a 12,000-volt power line at 5:20 a.m. Service was restored to most of them at 6:10 a.m., but 300 customers in the area around Coleman, Chula Vista and Prospect drives remained without electricity until 9:36 a.m., the company said.

A 12,000-volt underground line in Tiburon failed at 7:21 a.m., leaving 70 homes on Lyford Drive without power until 8:56 a.m., the company said. Cause of that failure was unknown.

Sausalito Board Faces Tax Decision

A resolution setting a tax rate election will be considered by the Sausalito School District board at a meeting at 7:30 p.m. today in the district office, 630 Nevada Street.

The district must hold a tax election before June 30 of next year to ask voters to continue its current $2.40 general purpose tax rate per $100 assessed valuation. If district residents turn down the proposal, the district's general purpose tax rate will drop to 90 cents and its operating income will be cut almost in half to about $600,000 a year.

JUNIOR MISS — Jan Denny, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Foster of 1353 Monte Maria Avenue, Novato, was selected last night from a field of 15 entrants as Novato's Junior Miss, winning a $150 scholarship and advancing to the district finals in Santa Rosa next month.

Train Hurts Motorist In San Rafael

A San Rafael woman was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with injuries suffered when her car was struck by a train in San Rafael late Friday.

Nancy L. Ullner of 1135 Fourth Street suffered rib injuries and an injury to her right foot, the hospital reported.

San Rafael police said she apparently did not see a train signal light where Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks cross Mission Avenue near Tamalpais Avenue.

She proceeded across the tracks at about 9:50 p.m. and her car was struck by a southbound train, police said. The car — a 1964 Chevrolet — was a total loss.

Police said she was cited for failing to stop at the warning signal.

Kentfield Trustees To Pick Delegate

The Kentfield School District board is scheduled to appoint a representative to the Marin County School Boards Association, clarify the role of its citizen's advisory council and accept the audit of the past school year at its regular meeting today.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. at Wolfe Grade School.

Should Foundations Remain Tax-Exempt?

The Foundation Center in New York recently issued a new directory of philanthropic foundations in the United States. It listed more than 5,000 of them, with assets totaling $25 billion and making grants of $1.5 billion annually.

That gives a picture of the size of the foundation business, which was brought into being by income tax laws —for the foundations enjoy tax-exempt status.

Through foundations, those of great wealth can give away money at no personal cost. Moreover, the bigger foundations are so set up that they earn more than they give away, becoming not only self-perpetuating but also profitable. They have huge investments, on which their earnings are tax-exempt.

SOME OF THEM are very secretive about where the money goes. But the biggest one of all, Ford Foundation, issues regular reports. Its latest, covering the period Oct. 15-Dec. 1, followed by only a couple of weeks the Foundation Center's new directory.

It listed hundreds of grants and described dozens of programs. And the listing for this brief period gave some idea of the variety and wide spread of its philanthropies.

In fact, they spread well beyond the borders of the United States. Listed in its Dec. 1 report were such as these:

Africa Publications, London, $67,000 for support of the Africa Digest; Indian Institute of Public Administration, $145,000 to train government officers; Federal University of Minas Gracias, Brazil, $90,000 for graduate teaching and research; State Technical University, Chile, $105,000 for development of a master's degree program in mathematics, and 15 other international grants.

Incidentally, there were also, in this month-and-a-half period, 120 grants totaling $345,627 to individuals for travel and study.

NO DOUBT ALL or nearly all of the Ford grants listed in the report, totaling many millions of dollars, were for commendable purposes. But a growing number of people are asking the question: Why should all this money be tax-exempt? Why should foundations be permitted to pyramid earnings without paying their share of taxes?

One who has asked the question is Howard Jarvis, retired Southern California aircraft manufacturer, whose organization is trying to get enough signatures by Jan. 3 to qualify the "Jarvis Amendment" for next June's primary ballot.

Jarvis claims that 66,000 tax-exempt foundations and 18,000 charitable trusts own one-third of all tax-free land in California. He wants to end that exemption.

His amendment, however, would go much further. It would place a limit on property taxation, similar to that proposed in the ill-fated "Watson Amendment" of two years ago, which Assessor Philip E. Watson of Los Angeles County has revived and revised and is trying to also get on the June ballot.

Both of these appear to go too far. But Jarvis has a point about the tax-exempt foundations.

Bagley Gathers Credits In Long, Long Session

Marin's veteran assemblyman, William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, comes out of this year's endless legislative session with at least as many credits as scars.

In tough negotiations on both welfare and tax revision, Bagley trod with great success the thin line of mediation between Democrats and Republicans to win legislation both could accept. It took the subtle skill at times of a bulldog, but he also managed to wring out of the process $150 million for education and recreation.

This includes $40 million earmarked exclusively to buy new beach and park lands. Legislative aides took credit for naming the $40 million fund the Bagley Conservation Fund, with the assemblyman discovering the modest designation only after the bill was in print and on its belated way through the Legislature.

He also is credited by insiders with virtually sole responsibility for jacking up taxes for oil companies by 61 per cent — a major defeat of lobbying efforts against the tax increase.

And for senior citizens' property tax relief, Bagley more than quintupled its funding from $10 million to $56 million.

Another gold hash mark earned by Bagley was his increased stature in the governor's office. While he remains highly independent of the office, Bagley no longer can be treated as a pest, and now is a recognized legislative power.

The question is, where does all this take Bagley? He no doubt will run again for the Assembly next year, but what happens in 1974 remains a mystery, as much to Bagley as to anyone else.

The temporary adjournment of the Legislature, incidentally, came not a moment too soon. Said one member: "We're losing a liver a week."

"KEEP MILL VALLEY Green," the 1966 campaign slogan of Dean N. Meyer for the city council, may have inspired the Ford Motor Co. when it dreamed up color names for its 1972 light trucks. One of the colors is "Mill Valley Green."

Measuring wealth is a tricky affair, we found. We recently wrote a story in which we made the bald statement that per capita income was a better measure of average personal wealth than income tax statements. We ended up as a layman hopelessly pinned by the crossfire from statisticians and market experts.

If you take per capita figures, Marin comes out fourth in the Bay Area among the nine counties, ranking the wealthiest first. But if you use income tax statements, Marin was first. The variables proved endless, so take your pick.

COUNTY OFFICIALS report one unexpected result from last month's election form that provided for voluntary birthdates. One honest women's husband, arriving at the poll after she had balloted, read her birthdate with considerable surprise. It was five years earlier than she always had told him.

Apparently with such mishaps in mind, the county will not use the form in future elections.

Today is Monday, Dec. 13, the 347th day of 1971.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase.

The morning stars are Mercury and Jupiter.

The evening stars are Venus, Mars and Saturn.

Those born on this day are under the sign of Sagittarius.

American dramatist Marc Connelly was born Dec. 13, 1890.

On this day in history:

In 1642 New Zealand was discovered and named by Dutch navigator Abel Tasman.

In 1918 American soldiers attached to the U.S. Third Army crossed the Rhine at Coblenz, Germany.

In 1941 the Japanese demanded the British surrender of Hong Kong. Britain refused and the Japanese began a concentrated air attack on the crown colony.

In 1948 James Petrillo's 11½ — month ban on phonograph records by members of his American Federation of Musicians ended.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

'Rent Strike' Needed On Property Taxes?

A form of passive resistance or civil disobedience used to get needed repairs out of a landlord is the rent strike in which rent money is paid into a trust fund to be given to him after the repairs are completed.

Presently a similar method is being used to challenge the constitutionality of the excise tax on telephone service used to help finance the Vietnam war.

By some odd coincidence these thoughts passed through my mind today as I made out my semi-annual check to the county property tax collector. Maybe the fact that our property tax has doubled in six years (on the same house) is involved here too.

Firemen's Action Averted Disaster

Cheers For Planners, Caution For Council

Three cheers for the Larkspur Planning Commission at their recent meeting.

They rejected the Larwin Development proposal to crown Bon Air hill with 224 units. They refused to be railroaded by the city staff to approve this family-oriented apartment complex in a single session.

Not all the facts were before the commission. Unanswered were the impact on the Kentfield School District, on the sewer facilities, on city services as a whole, and of about 400 more cars on the surrounding streets.

Next this will be appealed to the Larkspur City Council who will be carefully watched as to its actions.

Owner Indifference Dangerous To Dogs

I was shocked and horrified by the picture of the dog that was bound, gagged, and thrown into a culvert. Then I read your article more closely. This was a howling dog. Someone, perhaps after sleepless nights listening to a howling dog, could have been made desperate enough to do this thing.

Your article also said that some dogs are poisoned, but they are usually well-cared for pets. People are often indifferent to the annoyance or damage caused by their dogs, and the victims may resort to ugly measures to get some relief.

I am now going to pay closer attention to the things my dog does. I may be helping him to live longer.

Judas Hammer In Anti-Liberation

Re: Anti-liberation revolt, in Dec. 7:

J. J. hit the nail on the head, and sh probably didn't even realize that she had a Judas hammer in her words when she said, "The 10 commandments, which follow, will no doubt give feminists the 'screaming mimis'."

In my "V" opinion, the sound of the word — mimis — is the Judas hammer. To make it truly red writely and not not too holy leftly, it should be spelt me-me's!

Snowmobile Has Strong Defender

The opinion column by Ernest B. Furgurson, "The Fat Society Finds Its Emblem: Snowmobile," is the type of report which does great damage to the sport of snowmobiling and is grossly unfair.

When Mr. Furgurson talks about noise in the forest he ignores the research being done by snowmobile manufacturers which, eventually, will make them almost as quiet as operating a sewing machine in the forest. Already Harley-Davidson and Kickhaefer Mercury have lowered the noise level to below 80 decibels on an "A" scale which is approximately the same noise level as a battery of typewriters in your newsroom.

He writes about the snowmobile users abusing "other people's privacy, property and peace of mind, fans to whom the values of the wilderness mean nothing." In California and Nevada nearly all snowmobiling is done on government land which is open to use by everyone — land under control of the National Park Service, U. S. Forest Service or Bureau of Land Management. To us as snowmobilers, the value of the wilderness is very important...

Mr. Furgurson then goes on to recite the same old shibboleth that snowmobilers destroy fences, shrubs and winter crops.... vandalize cabins... "cruelly and illegally chasing deer".... and pack down the snow so that the small creatures that live beneath it die.

Snowmobiling in the West is done at such high elevations and at such great snow depth that it is necessary to post signs warning of low hanging power and telephone lines. Rather than be accused of vandalizing cabins, snowmobilers now have found a second use for their cabin in the woods which now is accessible 12 months out of the year...

Rather than oppose legislation controlling snowmobiles, this association has taken the lead in proposing workable legislation to govern noise, registration, trail development and a variety of other problems which confront the sport.

Snowmobiles have proved invaluable tools for law enforcement and search and rescue teams to quickly save stranded hunters, lost skiers, air crash victims and pursuit of persons suspected of committing crimes... Farmers, ranchers, trappers and cattlemen have found that use of the snowmobile has increased winter production and given them a chance to diversify their operations...

As in anything there are those who will abuse their privilege whether it is in the operation of a motor vehicle, production of a motion picture or expression of opinion in a column.

India-Pakistan War Shows U.N. Security Council Dormant

U.N.: CASUALTY OF INDIA-PAKISTAN WAR. The U.N. Security Council may not be dead but it is near to it.

For months, the India-Pakistan crisis throbbed to explosion. But the Security Council could not arouse itself to hold a single meeting to attempt to do anything. It made no effort to prevent the war, to contain it or even to discuss it.

It stood mute.

WHY IS THE U.N. SO HELPLESS? Answer: The Security Council is dominated by its five permanent members who have the power to veto anything. The general assembly is dominated by blocs of small nations which do not have the power to do anything.

The Security Council is hobbled by a double-veto. The big powers can block it from doing anything which affects themselves. And they can use their veto to shield warring friends — as Russia vetoed in behalf of India an 11 to 2 Security Council majority calling for an India-Pakistan cease-fire.

The United Nations can talk and talk. Talk is sometimes useful but it doesn't stop war.

DID YOU SAY 16? Yes, during 1971 the awesome number of 16 candidates have been after the Democratic presidential nomination. Most are well to the left of political center. Nine are U.S. senators. You may not recognize all the names:

Chisholm, Bayh, Harris, Hughes, Humphrey, Hartke, Jackson, Kennedy, Lindsay, McCarthy, McGovern, Mills, Muskie, Yorty —with George Wallace and now Dr. Benjamin Spock lurking in the wings.

AND THEN THERE WERE TWO. Here is the forecast on the shape of the 1972 Democratic ticket one hears frequently in Washington. It is that it will end up being Sens. Edmund Muskie and Henry Jackson.

The early primaries will tell whether Jackson will have a fair chance of overtaking Muskie. If not, he'll accept the second spot.

SOVIETS TIGHTEN IDEOLOGICAL SCREWS ON ROMANIA. There is new evidence that Moscow is very displeased with the independent line Romania is taking in foreign policy, such as going out of its way to develop friendly relations with China and the United States.

The Kremlin is warning President Ceausescu, who helped President Nixon bring off the Peking summit, that he must not continue to pursue a pro-Soviet domestic course and an anti-Soviet foreign policy.

Moscow's pointed warning: "Remember Czechoslovakia."

GOOD NEWS FOR SOME BLACKS. Latest census figures show that young black couples living outside the South (an area of generally low incomes) have an average annual income of $8,028.

There are many disparities adverse to Negroes in the United States, but the fact is that the $8,028 figure for young black couples is 7 per cent higher than that of young white southern couples in comparable circumstances.

Chinese-Americans have the highest economic status of any ethnic group in the United States. Japanese-Americans are second.

IS THIS A POLITICAL OMEN? At a small private dinner in Washington recently members of the Nixon Cabinet freely exchanged light — and some not so light — sallies about the competition between Agnew and Connally to be Nixon's No. 2 in 1972. The secretary of the treasury was present and he seemed to relish it.

Connally is emerging as second only to Kissinger in closeness to the president.

BY NO MEANS NEUTRAL

The Spring Roster Cut — And Jackson Moving Up

By ERNEST B. FURGURSON

WASHINGTON — As spring turned to summer, Democratic presidential candidates were shooting up along with the squash plants and the poison ivy. A full dozen of them were in the conversational running, as sentimental favorites, dark horses, factional champions or such remote long shots that their ambitions clearly were set into motion either by absurd ego or by the hope that they might wind up in the No. 2 spot by pretending to run for No. 1.

Now, as fall mushes into winter, three full months ahead of the earliest primary, realism has set in. That means attrition, which has reduced the field to seven at the outside.

Senators Harold Hughes of Iowa, Birch Bayh of Indiana and Fred Harris of Oklahoma withdrew their names from contention and William Proxmire of Wisconsin took his out before anybody had put it in. Wilbur Mills conceded that he did not think he had a chance at the nomination — a concession that was totally superfluous since it came after he effectively renounced his party birthright by caving in before President Nixon's threat to veto the tax bill rider allowing checkoff contributions to next year's campaign.

WE ARE DOWN to the hard core now, to the candidates whose strategy is either to prove themselves in the early primaries or to stand aside while the others bleed themselves in state after state, then step in and graciously accept the party's draft. And in view of the Democrats' history over the past four years, it is not surprising that the ones among those survivors who are taken most seriously by political Washington this December are those grouped around the center of the party.

That means Edmund Muskie, Hubert Humphrey and Henry Jackson. It intentionally omits Edward Kennedy, whose drawing power comes from both sides of the spectrum despite his own ideological slant, but who apparently is going to sit it out at least until the convention at Miami Beach. And, of course, it omits George McGovern, Eugene McCarthy and John Lindsay because none of them makes any pretense of courting the Democratic middle. Even McGovern, the first to announce his candidacy and the only admitted aspirant to leftward, must base his hopes on the division of the party center among his opponents.

The assignment of Muskie, Humphrey and Jackson to the middle is arbitrary. Muskie's associates prefer to push Jackson off to the right, and Jackson's advocates insist Muskie has sought the youth and antiwar vote so eagerly he has set himself up on the left. Jackson is on the conservative wing, they say, only if you narrow the Democratic Party to range from him on one side to McGovern on the other. But if the party still is broad enough to take in George Wallace one way and Ramsey Clark the other, then Jackson qualified as a centrist.

WHATEVER HIS LABEL, Jackson is the only one among the dark horses who has not merely survived but prospered in the public opinion polls.

The Washington senator's advisers make much of the fact that his recognition factor grew more than anybody's in those seven months, and that he is now ahead of Lindsay and McCarthy, and even with McGovern as a Democratic presidential preference.

It must be said in rejoinder that anybody who is an announced candidate and cannot outpoll McCarthy and Lindsay at this point has no business in politics at any level. Moving up from 2 per cent to 6 per cent may triple Jackson's standing in the preference poll, but it is such a small numerical gain that his detractors can easily scoff it away as a mere polling error.

THE JACKSON PEOPLE'S efforts to cast him as a major candidate along with Humphrey and Muskie make most sense when they compare him to Mr. Nixon rather than to his Democratic colleagues. Who, the Jackson advocates ask, can meet the President most aggressively on his own terms — on the three broad issues of foreign policy, domestic law and order and the economy?

As they foresee it, Mr. Nixon could effectively exploit weaknesses or ambiguities in the recent pronouncements of the other Democrats on the first two of those issues. And on the third, the economy, the President himself is likely to be so weak that anyone from the opposition party can use it against him next year.

Thus Jackson's pitch, in part, will be that he is the most probable winner over Mr. Nixon next year. And if he can make his argument sound convincing as the first really important primary vote approaches in Florida, he may entice his leading Democratic challengers into making the primary season a struggle for the center of their party. In that case, he will have done the party an historic service whether he emerges as winner or not.

No Drapes In Hall Of Justice, Because Of Quarrel On Quality

The Civic Center Administration Building had its problem — the leaky ceiling. The newer Hall of Justice seems watertight, but it suffers from the sun — no drapes.

You may have noticed how some of the office girls have put up newspapers and cardboard to keep out the afternoon glare.

It was not an oversight. The drapes were ordered at the time the new building was built — some $30,000 worth of drapes. They were ready to install the drapes almost two years ago, but the county found the material inferior and not according to specifications. The supplier just as stubbornly refused to replace them. So the two-year-old impasse will continue into the new year with no relief in sight.

NIGHT WATCHMEN who patrol the Hall of Justic corridors have discovered an eerie phenomenon. The acoustics in the building are such that you can stand quietly near the cafeteria and catch any sound or movement in any room or stairway in the entire quarter-mile long structure.

If one elevator moves, or a person is typing at the far end, or someone tries to tip-toe up a stairway, you can catch those sounds. In the silence of the night, you can just about hear someone breathing two football fields away.

THE OTHER DAY, two young girls walked hand in hand to the county clerk's office and demanded a marriage license. They walked out in a huff when refused. Clerks in the office scarcely raised an eyebrow. "In fact," said one veteran clerk, "we were surprised we haven't had more such requests, what with all the freedom and permissiveness of the times."

A tip to the tippler — If you ever appear before the judge on a drunken driving conviction, never admit to being a plumber. They figure a plumber makes so much money that the maximum fine is called for, whereas a mere merchant or lawyer might get by with a lesser fine.

DO MORE COUPLES seek divorces (now called dissolutions) in the month of December than at any other time of year?

There are two theories on this question:

1. No, couples put up a brave front to maintain peace and goodwill through the holidays, then sprint for the divorce courts in January.

2. Yes, they all rush in for dissolutions so that they won't have to worry about Christmas gifts for their spouses.

Thus far this year, theory No. 2 seems to apply.

Pair Hurt In Crash Released

Two persons who were injured Thursday in a wrong-way collison on Highway 101 have been released from Marin General Hospital after treatment.

The accident occurred when Sondra A. Chenowith, 26, of San Francisco, apparently drove her car onto the freeway at the Spencer Avenue exit in Sausalito and then headed south in the northbound lanes, according to the California Highway Patrol.

The driver of the other car, John A. Carlson, 33, of 258 Balclutha Drive, Corte Madera, told officers he was northbound on the highway south of Spencer Avenue when he collided head-on with the Chenowith car.

Carlson suffered a cut chin and Miss Chenoweth received multiple face cuts and a cut right hand, according to hospital officials.

THE BITTER-ENDER

Redevelopment—Creation Of More Dispossessed

By ED BRANDER

Awhile back I drove to a nearby city to visit a friend who had moved into a "redevelopment" apartment house. It was my first visit to his new home.

The apartment house is one of several that were built by the city housing authority in what used to be a rundown neighborhood of mom-and-pop groceries, second hand stores, cheap saloons and assorted other subsistence-level businesses, with flats and rooms to let upstairs.

The new apartment buildings didn't impress me much. They're strictly modern. And "strictly" is the word — or maybe it should be "starkly." They all look pretty much alike. They have what architects like to call "clean lines," which means they look quite a bit like the houses that kids build out of cardboard boxes, except that they're painted. On the first floor of one building was a row of shops — a chain grocery, a chain women's wear store, a chain restaurant, a chain variety store. No mom-and-pops here.

THE APARTMENTS themselves are very nice, though, I found. My friend and his wife showed me all the new kitchen gadgets, and the sunken bath tub. I dutifully admired the wall-to-wall carpeting and the way ample storage space had been provided in the walls instead of traditional closets.

After a couple of highballs I got up courage to ask my friend how much it was setting him back.

"Two hundred and fifty-five dollars a month," he said.

Two hundred and fifty-five dollars a month! That's probably more than the total income of most of the people who used to live in those upstairs flats and run the little businesses on the ground floors.

OF COURSE, they're not there any more. Their slum has been cleared, and they have been forced to move to a worse slum, where the rents have been jacked up because of the sudden increase in demand.

Bye-and-bye "urban renewal" probably will reach that slum. The property owners will cash in. And the housing authority will build more apartments which it will have to rent for more than any of the people it dispossessed can pay, and will lease the stores only to those who can prove financial stability — which means the chains. Mom and pop will go on welfare (if they're not there already).

I'm afraid that's the story of urban renewal.

THERE WAS A PICTURE in the New York Times a few months back that told it all.

The picture was with a story about urban renewal in Atchison, Kans. The story sounded as though it had all turned out lovely. The old main street had been turned into a pedestrian mall, with parking lots behind the stores (for which, it mentioned, "whole blocks of houses were torn down"). "Children play on the mall while their parents shop," enthused the story, "and it is used as well for square dances, art shows, fairs and other events."

The trouble was, they ran a picture. It gave the whole show away. It was a picture of the mall, with two (2) boys playing — and not another living being in sight. The store fronts were in gloomy shadows behind the covered sidewalks. There wasn't a shopper to be seen. Not even a proprietor standing in the doorway hoping to snag a stray customer.

It reminded me of my friend's apartment, and all those missing moms and pops.

Wintry Storm Continues To Grip Western Areas

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

A wintry storm, packing snow and icy temperatures, continued to grip the West today, where it was blamed for one death.

Mrs. Wilma Ruth Lindsay, 26, Emmett, Idaho, was found Sunday sitting barefoot and frostbitten in the middle of a high mountain road about 64 miles east of Boise, Idaho. The woman, though suffering from exposure, was alive. Authorities found the body of her 8-month-old son, Andrew, under a layer of snow about 200 yards from where she was found. Her other son, Matthew, 3, was found in her stranded Volkswagen about two miles away, cold but otherwise uninjured.

Heavy snow warnings were in effect today for northeastern Nevada and northern Utah and travelers' warnings were in effect for most of the remainder of the Rockies and plateau regions.

Sub-zero temperatures reigned from the northern Rockies to the upper Mississippi Valley and four inches of snow accumulated in Ely, Mont., in six hours Sunday night.

Paradise Valley on Mt. Rainier, Wash., reported 131 inches of snow on the ground. Paradise Valley has gotten 299 inches of snow thus far this season.

Now that the 7% excise tax is repealed, you'll save money on all of our cars. But that's nothing new from us.

For the past 24 years, Volkswagens have had the justified reputation of saving people money.

And now that the 7% federal excise tax has been repealed, you can save even more.

In fact, even if you happened to have bought one of our cars before now but after Aug. 15, the 7% will still be refunded to you at your Volkswagen dealer.

If you bought one before Aug. 15, don't feel deprived.

You're still saving over the average car about $1500 on the car itself, over $100 a year on gas, and $who-knows-how-much on repairs.

Poor Defendants Win Court Records Nod

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Senate and House negotiators refused today to exempt news media from wage-price controls.

A Senate amendment to a controls bill granting the exemption as a means of protecting government encroachment on First Amendment protections was jettisoned as conferees began drafting a compromise measure to send President Nixon.

The legislation would extend his authority to control wages and prices for another year.

Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., who sponsored the news exemption amendment, announced the conferees' decision to reporters.

Cranston said his amendment was dropped after James Smith, a Treasury Department liaison official, indicated to the conferees that the press, radio and television would be exempted administratively.

Cranston, however, said the assurances were "vague." He said Smith told the negotiators that it would be too complicated and costly to supervise wages and prices in the industry, partly because of difficulty in establishing guidelines based on productivity.

Cranston said the Senate provision was dropped in favor of House language barring wage and price review panels from interfering with First Amendment rights which involve freedom of the press and free speech.

News Media Wage Plan Is Rejected

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Supreme Court ruled unanimously today that states must provide a convicted indigent with a free copy of his trial record in nonfelony as well as in felony cases.

justice William J. Brennan Jr. emphasized in an opinion for the Court that the trial transcript need not be made available automatically but only after an individual's claims to it have been properly considered.

The ruling came in the case of Jack L. Mayer who was convicted of violating two Chicago ordinances and fined $250 on each offense. Illinois denied him a free transcript for appeal purposes on the ground that state court rules allow one only in felony cases.

Mayer's claim now goes back to state courts.

Justice Harry A. Blackmun noted in a concurring opinion that Mayer may now have completed his professional training as a physician and may no longer be indigent. At the time of the conviction, Mayer was a third-year student in New York University medical school.

Chief Justice Warren E. Burger in a concurring opinion also cautioned that when costs are paid by the public "counsel are sometimes profligate in their demands."

"When excessive demands are made by an appellant in order to postpone the day when the appeal is finally determined, because, for example, he is at liberty pending appeal, a lawyer who cooperates is guilty of unprofessional conduct," the chief justice said. In a second case from Craven County, N.C., the Court ruled 5 to 2 that Charles W. Britt was properly denied a free copy of the record of his first trial — which ended in a hung jury — for use in his second trial.

Justice Thurgood Marshall, speaking for the majority, said the court reporter was well known to local lawyers and could have read back his notes at the second trial upon request. Justices William O. Douglas and William J. Brennan Jr. dissented.

A Guest Slot

Marin City Land Fuss To Supervisors

The stalemate between Marin City residents and two county agencies over release of choice ridgelands above the Southern Marin community will reach the county board of supervisors tomorrow.

The board, at its weekly session beginning at 9 a.m. in the Civic Center, is expected to be asked by the irate residents to intervene in the dispute.

The Marin County Redevelopment Agency and its sister organization, the county housing authority, have agreed to release 167 acres of ridgeland to California Development Co. in exchange for title to flatland within Marin City itself. That property is now held by California Development, which has failed to meet development commitments.

Residents, fearing loss of the ridgeland would endanger community self-destiny hopes, object to the proposed release.

Tomorrow, the board will also consider again a request for funds from the debt-ridden Legal Aid Society of Marin.

County Administrator John F. Barrows has recommended that the board approve an appropriation of $6,714 to see the agency through March 31, when federal money is expected.

Discussion by the board, meanwhile, of an amendment to the county's new emergency ordinance on grading has been postponed to the Dec. 21 meeting.

The postponement will enable review of additional information from county agencies.

The amendment would require a special committee to review all applications for road work.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors also is expected:

HOSPITAL — To consider an offer from Marin General Hospital that county morgue and laboratory facilities be included in the hospital's master plan study now under way.

FAIRGROUNDS — To consider spending $95,000 on improvements to the new county-fairgrounds. The funds are surplus from other projects in the auditorium and fairgrounds budget.

CLAIM — To consider a recommendation that it settle a claim against the county by a former employee of the public defender's office. The former employee, Alfred Haro of San Francisco, has agreed to accept $1,475 in lieu of salary claims.

Fireman Taken To Hospital For Smoke Treatment

A fire which broke out in a small out-building at 125 Montford Avenue in Tamalpais Valley Friday night destroyed the building and sent one fireman to a hospital for treatment for smoke inhalation.

Firemen said the building, estimated to be about 14 feet by 9 feet, was completely engulfed in flames when they arrived. They were called by a neighbor at 7:39 p.m.

They did not know the name of the person living there nor the owner of the property. No estimate of the value of the building had been made.

Firemen Patrick McClure was treated later at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Rafael for smoke inhalation, a hospital spokesman said.

Marin Tars Stomp Napa; Reedley Wins Tourney

By RALPH CHATOIAN
I-J Sports Editor

Mike Bradley and Eddie Swillis of Reedley Junior College showed Marin County fans some great basketball in leading their team to the championship of the College of Marin Invitational Tournament but it was little 5-foot-8 Pierre Jones of Santa Rosa who set the record.

Reedley defeated Santa Rosa J.C., 78-68, in the championship game Saturday night in Kentfield. Bradley, voted most valuable player in the tourney, scored 26 points and teammate Swillis hit 25, but Jones' 23 points gave him a total of 80 for the tourney. Although he missed the tourney record of 81 points, his 34 field goals beat by two a record held by five players.

Marin won third place trophy in the sixth annual tourney by dumping Napa J.C., 86-42, and Ohlone of Newark won the consolation title by edging Solano College of Suisun, 40-39.

Swillis, who scored 66 points in the tourney, Bradley, who hit 70, and Jones were joined on the all-tourney team by Marin guard Joe Smith, Santa Rosa's Dennis Narduzzi and Ohlone's Chuck Pierce.

In the championship game Saturday night, Santa Rosa controlled the boards early in the game and jumped out to a 12-5 lead. The Bear Cubs remained in front throughout the first half and led at the halftime break by nine, 37-28. But the Tigers of Reedley rallied early in the second half and Swillis hit three straight baskets to put them ahead by 47-42. It was a lead the Tigers were never to give up.

Reedley got many of their points off a fast break which was a strong point the night before when the Tigers knocked Marin out of title contention with a close 86-84 decision.

Marin's victory over Napa came with incrediable ease. The Chiefs kept trying long outlet passes on a fast break and Marin kept intercepting and going for the score. Eleven and one half minutes into the game Marin was in front, 25-11. Freshman guard Joe DeMaestri was tenacious on the floor and 6-foot-9 Neil Traub, also a freshman from Novato High, was tough on Marin's offensive board.

Marin coach John Panagakis was shuttling in his guards and all did a good job. Good defense came from Charles Flynn, Ron "Elmo" Small and Pat Purcell. The Tars forced Napa into 25 ball control errors in the first half and romped off the court with a 48-17 lead.

Normally hot-shooting Steve Bakker was completely shut off by the Tars and held to only two free throws until he left the game at his own request. Bearded Roger Miller had to take up the slack, scoring 13 points, the only Chief to hit for double figures. All but one of Marin's 13 players hit the scoreboard, led by Traub with 17 points and Smith with 14.

Halfway through the second half, Napa's players litterally gave up, allowing Marin to race down the court for easy baskets while they just hung back on their end of the court.

"They really came back," declared Panagakis. "They showed they were ready to come back and play basketball," he said about the turn around of form between Friday's loss and Saturday's win.

Marin, now with a 7-1 record gets back to action this week by playing the two teams it whipped in the tourney, both games in Kentfield. Tomorrow it will be the Chiefs of Napa, and Friday it will be the Yuba College 49ers, a team Marin whipped, 94-68, in the tournament opener last Thursday night. Both games are at 8 p.m.

SPORT NOTES

'Do Not Disturb Between 6 And 9'

By RALPH CHATOIAN

My instructions to wife and kids: No talking tonight between the hours of 6 and 9 p.m. I do not want to be disturbed. Give me my blinders, sit me down in my new reclining chair, point me toward the television set, and then let me be.

That television game tonight between the Rams and Redskins has Priority 1 to all 49er fans. A victory by the Redskins over the Rams would put the 49ers in first place in the National Football Conference west with only one game (against the Detroit Lions) to go.

YESTERDAY'S 24-3 victory over the Atlanta Falcons was the 49ers' best game of the year. It was beautiful. Everything went right and nothing seemed to go wrong for the 49ers. Why, even a pass was tipped in the air once and it bounced into the arms of a 49er, Gene Washington. Amazing!

Even 49er coach Dick Nolan said it was the 49ers' best game. Sitting in a chair against the wall in his office, a pack of reporters busily scribbling down his words, Nolan quietly said, "John (Brodie) did a great job. I think he mixed up the plays really good. . . his play selection was very good. Our execution was very good. Yes, it was our best game." He was obviously pleased.

Would he care to comment on the Monday Rams-Redskins game? "The defenses are very similar. Washington has a little more speed than L.A. It will be a control type of game."

MONDAY IS A BUSY time for NFL coaches, and Nolan said he would not be able to see all the game on TV. "But I'll see the last part." I bet he will.

It's always said Nolan is a perfect gentleman, and I'll be the first to agree. After filling up my notebook and leaving the Niners' dressing room I found a long line of cars leaving the press and players' parking section of Candlestick. Who do you think stopped and let me and my little red Volkswagen in line? The smiling Dick Nolan, that's who. And he's telling the truth in that radio ad about a Peninsula Cadillac dealership — he does drive a Caddy.

Specials team player Elmer Collett of Mill Valley who learned the basics at Tamalpais High and College of Marin had a fine game, making two tackles and recovering a fumble. He's always one of the early arrivals on 49er kickoffs and punts, either making the initial hit or forcing the ball carrier to commit himself in either direction.

WHAT ABOUT TV Monday night? "I'm going duck hunting in Colusa Monday but I'll find a television set in time for the game," Collett said.

It will be a busy Monday for 49er fleet running back Vic Washington. His plans call for him to be at Holiday Inn, Terra Linda, at noon today, and in Sacramento this evening, for speaking engagements at both locations. "I don't know if I will be able to see any of the (Rams-'Skins) game on television," said the rookie who might go over the 2,000-yard mark in total offense (rushing, pass receiving and kickoff returns) this year.

Brodie took a good slap at the Candlestick Astroturf after the game. "This is the worst football field I have ever seen when it gets wet. We were falling all over the place." Brodie kept his balance long enough to complete 9 of 18 passed for 126 yards and RUN for 17 yards and a touchdown in two carries. His touchdown run came on a bootleg play in which he fooled everybody on fourth down and one to go from the five. His other run came when all his receivers were covered. He ran out of bounds after gaining 12 yards on that one.

DEFENSIVE BACK Jimmy Johnson intercepted a pass, broken right wrist and all, and explained in the dressing room later, "It was the kind of pass I could catch without using my right hand." He said his injury is healing. "Pain is pain, but let's just say it's healing."

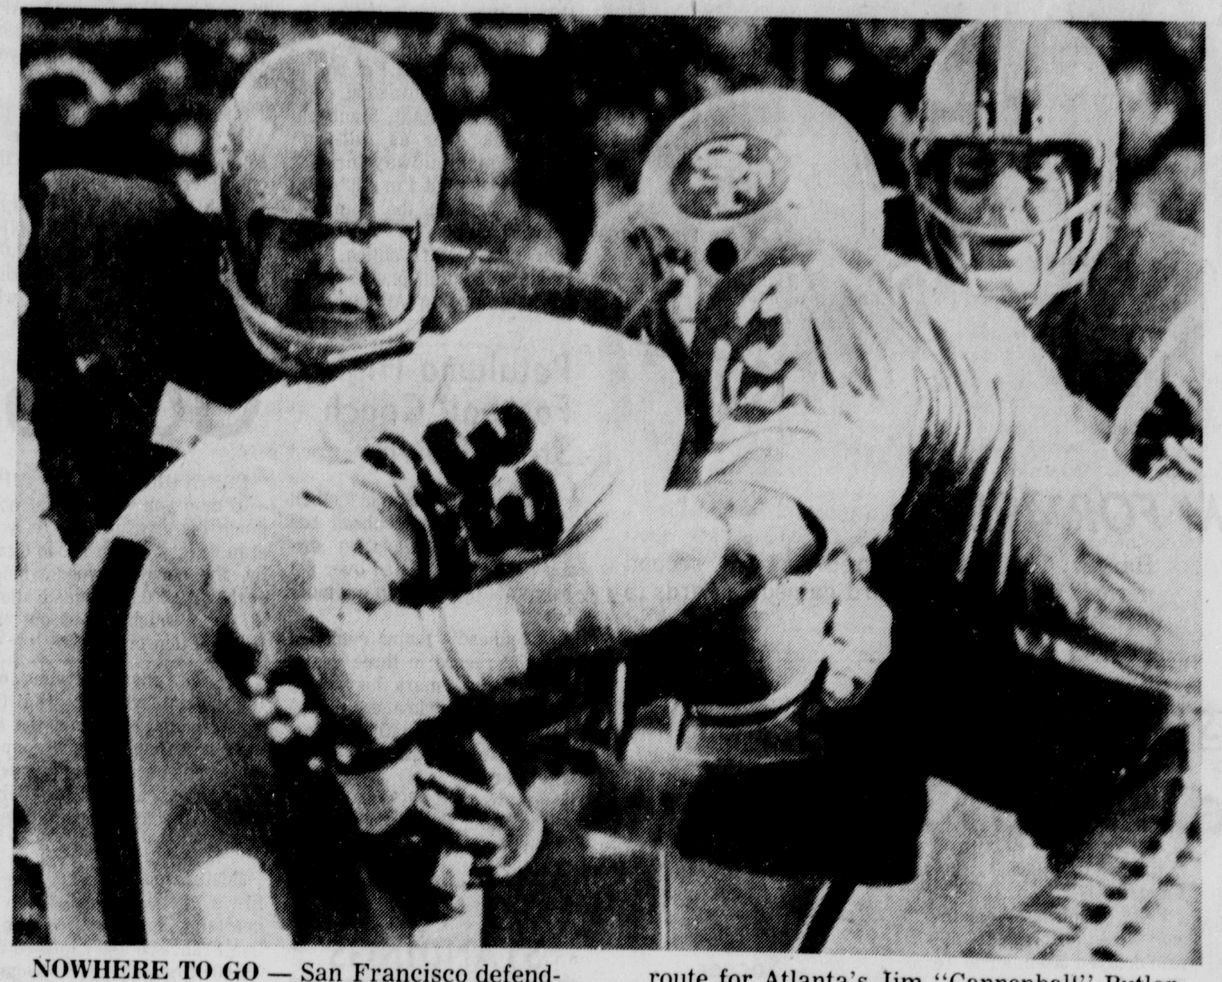
Place kicker Bruce Gossett used his longest kick of the year, a 48-yarder, to set a 49er all-time record of 22 field goals in a season, breaking his own mark of 21 set last year. Gossett, who openly admits a dislike of former boss George Allen, finds himself surprisingly rooting for an Allen coached team tonight.

Twi-Nighters To Highlight Giant Schedule

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —A pair of twi-night doubleheaders, both on Tuesday, is a new wrinkle in the 1972 home schedule of the San Francisco Giants.

The defending Western Division champions will open the season at home April 6 against the San Diego Padres and play 81 games at Candlestick Park. The twi-night affairs will be against Cincinnati May 16 and the Padres Aug. 8.

Six Sunday doubleheaders are scheduled and there are 26 night dates. Opponents in the Sunday doubleheaders will be the Padres, Montreal, Pittsburgh, Houston, Cincinnati and Atlanta.



NOWHERE TO GO — San Francisco defenders Tommy Hart (53), Charlie Krueger (70) and Skip Vanderbundt sealed off the escape route for Atlanta's Jim "Cannonball" Butler and dropped him for no gain. The 49ers won, 24-3.

California Skaters Hot In Berkeley

BERKELEY (UPI) —Southern California skaters dominated the three days of competition in the Pacific Coast Figure Skating championships at Iceland.

Robert Bradshaw of Los Angeles beat out John Baldwin of San Diego and Richard Ewell of Santa Monica to win the men's title. Top three finishers in each event qualified for the nationals to be held in Long Beach Jan. 12-16.

Other Southern California winners were Greg Boyvin and Allison Blake in the novice pairs and James Hulick and Cynthia Van Valkenburg in senior pairs. Both couples represent the Arctic Blades Figure Skating Club of Los Angeles.

Kim McIsaac of Harbor City took the novice ladies and Perry Jewell of Los Angeles won the novice mens.

AWAIT RAM RESULT

49ers Clip Atlanta, 24-3

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—As a head coach, Dick Nolan has to wonder why it can't be that perfect every Sunday.

This past one, his San Francisco 49ers put it all together, as coaches like to say, and it came as no surprise that they beat the Atlanta Falcons, 24-3.

Offensively and defensively the 49ers were nearly letter perfect. They made only one mistake all day—a pass interception—and when the Falcons made two, they converted them into scores.

"Execution-wise," said Nolan, "this was our best game of the year. "we did everything we had to do on defense and when the offense had the ball they moved it. I couldn't ask for a better performance."

The victory came just in time to keep the 49ers in the race for the division title in the NFC West. It was their eighth of the year compared to five losses and put them into a virtual tie for first with Los Angeles.

The Rams, who have a 7-4-1 record, host the Washington Redskins tonight. A victory would put them within reach of the division title because they finish up the season next Sunday against Pittsburgh. A loss would elevate the 49ers into the driver's seat and San Francisco could clinch its second division title in succession by beating Detroit next Sunday.

John Brodie, who couldn't do many things right in a 26-17 loss to the Kansas City Chiefs last Monday, enjoyed one of his best days against the Falcons. Brodie connected on nine of 18 passes for 126 yards and a touchdown and scored on a five-yard run around right end.

His scoring strike was a pass to young Larry Schreiber and it came on a fake end-around. With the Falcon defense chasing Ted Kwalick, Brodie stepped back and threw eight yards to Schreiber, who took the ball on the 15 and ran it home.

Both that score and the one on Brodie's run came as a result of Atlanta mistakes.

On the first, linebacker Skip Vanderbundt intercepted a pass by Bob Berry on the Atlanta 33 and ran it to the 23. On the very first play, Brodie hit Schreiber for the score. That made it 14-0, coming after Ken Willard wrapped up a short drive with a one-yard smash.

On the following kickoff, Willie Belton fumbled the ball after John Isenbarger nailed him, and Elmer Collett picked it up at the Atlanta 33. Brodie needed seven plays to wind up the

Redwood's Press Wins At Riordan

Redwood High School invoked the First Amendment Saturday night to defeat Wilson of San Francisco, 57-36, and win the Crusader Classic basketball tournament at Riordan High.

The First Amendment guarantees freedom of the press, and the Giants used a devastating full-court press to jump out to a 27-8 first-quarter lead. The game was never close after that.

Tamalpais defeated Capuchino of San Bruno, 72-62, to win third place and complete a Marin County sweep of the tournament. Local teams went 4-0 against schools from the Peninsula. Tam's defeat in the semi-finals was administered by Redwood.

"The press kind of surprised Wilson," said Redwood coach Dick Hart. "They use it a lot themselves, but they weren't expecting it from us.

"Winning this tournament was a great shot in the arm for us. The players are developing confidence in themselves. Also, we were able to use our bench quite a bit, which pleased me."

Redwood (6-0) again got outstanding performances from its guards. Mike Connor scored 17 points and Sam Farb added 13.

Marin Prep Cagers Resume Tomorrow

After sharpening their claws on each other for a week, Marin County Athletic League basketball teams again turn their attention to attacking various non-league opponents throughout northern California.

Tomorrow, Drake travels to Santa Rosa to face Montgomery at 4 p.m. Terra Linda visits Santa Rosa at 7 and San Marin journeys to Healdsburg, 7:30. The lone local game is at San Rafael, with Armjo of Fairfield invading at 7.

Terra Linda (3-4), fresh from a fourth-place finish in the Drake Invitational Tournament, takes on a tough foe. Santa Rosa is the defending co-champion of the North Bay League, and features an attack based on quickness and outside shooting. In its only start against a Marin County foe, Santa Rosa forced unbeaten Redwood into the final minutes before falling, 61-55.

Terra Linda will counter with its own quickness, including fast breaks on offense and pressing on defense. The Trojans have dropped two straight, but in their 54-52 loss to Novato Saturday may have found another front-line player. Brian Wall scored 13 points and teams with sparkplug John Buckley to provide an effective guard tandem.

Terra Linda's inside work will come from Mark Lowey, who was an all-tournament selection last weekend. So was Buckley.

Drake (3-4) probably will continue its hero-of-the-day routine against Montgomery. It seems like a different person sparks the Pirates in each game, the latest being Ed Chavez, who hit some key free throws in the tournamentvictory over San Marin. Mark Daubenfeld has hit double figures two games in a row for Drake.

Montgomery has played one Marin County foe, beating Novato, 60-57.

San Marin (1-4) will be trying to break a three-game losing streak against Healdsburg. The lefthanded shots of Hoza Wright and Fred Doar have been the Mustangs' most effective weapons lately, although Ken Siler emerged with a 10-point performance Saturday against Drake.

Healdsburg is vulnerable. The Greyhounds were obliterated earlier in the year by San Rafael, 62-29, and Terra Linda, 72-39.

San Rafael (3-3) gets a chance to take out its Drake Tournament disappointment on Armijo. The third-seeded Bulldogs were eliminated in the first round and then lost the consolation game to Marin Catholic.

One bright spot for San Rafael has been the play of Doni Canfield, an all-tournament selection at Drake.

PETALUMA WINS

Novato Grabs 3rd At Drake

By LEW CODDINGTON

For sheer drama, Saturday night's conclusion of the Drake Invitational basketball tournament couldn't have been better. In fact, the 6:30 p.m. show was such a hit that they showed it again at 8.

In the early-evening third-place game, Novato High School edged Terra Linda, 54-52. In the nightcap for the championship, Petaluma upset Napa by the identical score. In each case, the star of the game was a guard for the winning team.

Joe Robinson hit four consecutive free throws in the last minute to save Novato. Kevin Gillmore hit a jump shot with 1:58 left to give Petaluma its triumph. Gillmore scored 14 points, played an outstanding floor game and was named the four-day tournament's most valuable player.

Marin Catholic defeated San Rafael for fifth place, 46-40. Host Drake edged San Marin for seventh, 53-48.

Tiny Petaluma (6-1) won the tournament for the second straight year. Napa (5-1) went into the title game unbeaten with a 6-foot-11 center, Stu Walkenhorst, and dominated the first quarter on the strength of his inside game.

Petaluma was down 19-9 when its quickness and full-court press began to tell. The Trojans went ahead 25-24 and were never headed again, although the score was tied four times along the way.

Walkenhorst scored 22 points but was not intimidating after the first quarter. Al Highstreet scored 11, John Zakariassen, 10, and Jim Thomas, nine for Petaluma. The Trojans enhanced their quickness by playing three guards most of the second half — Gillmore, Zakariassen and Jim Sampietro.

The Novat-Terra Linda game saw the two teams alternate hot streaks throughout. Novato (3-4) led 10-6 early, but the Trojans (3-4) surged to go ahead 23-16 and led at the half, 25-20. Novato quickly tied things at 27-all, but Terra Linda went ahead 38-34, only to fall behind 47-41. Two baskets by John Buckley and one by Mike Bodeen tied the count again at 47 apiece with 2:14 remaining.

At this point, Novato's Marty Moroski returned after a brief rest on the bench. Hampered by a cold and tight defensive work by Andy Mora and Todd Young, he had scored only two points in the first half, but now he was hitting.

Moroski sank a jumper off an out-of-bounds play to put Novato back ahead, 49-47. Terra Linda later got a free throw, but still trailing by one, had to press, and fouled Robinson.

The lefthander made two shots for breathing room at 51-48, but Buckley hit two free throws to cut the gap back to one. With 20 seconds left, Robinson was fouled again and hit both shots of a one-on-one, so two later free throws by Terra Linda's Mark Lowey went for naught. The game's final point came after a foul at the buzzer.

"We made some mistakes, but we came back in the second half," said Novato coach Jim Caranica. "Marty (Moroski) didn't have a big scoring night but he steadied the team. Robinson won the game for us."

Robinson scored 18 points, Willie Barnes 13 and Moroski 12. Buckley finished with 11 and Brian Wall, subbing for injured

NFL ROUNDUP

Dallas Gets Title—Again

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Dallas crushed the New York Giants 42-14 to gain the title. Roger Staubach threw three TD passes, including two of 46 and 85 yards to Bob Hayes, to highlight the rout. Calvin Hill and Duane Thomas also chipped in with two touchdowns each for the Cowboys.

Staubach completed 10-of-14 passes in his three quarters, including the long bomb to Hayes, the season's longest in the NFL.

"I personally feel I'm on the verge of becoming a good quarterback," said Staubach, who took over as full-time quarterback midway through the season. "But I'm still striving to become the complete quarterback."

In other NFC action, San Francisco kept its playoff hopes alive by ripping Atlanta 24-3, Green Bay stomped Chicago 3110 and Philadelphia whipped St. Louis 19-7. Minnesota clinched the Central title Saturday with a 29-10 victory over Detroit.

In the AFC, Houston edged Buffalo 20-14, San Diego clobbered Denver 45-17, the New York Jets beat New England 13-6 and Pittsburgh rallied to defeat Cincinnati 21-13. Baltimore beat Miami 14-3 Saturday to take a half-game in the AFC East but the Chiefs' victory assured both teams of playoff berths.

Cleveland, which clinched the AFC Central title last week, edged New Orleans 21-17 in the only inter-conference game.

John Brockington became only the fourth rookie in NFL history to gain more than 1,000 yards as he led the Packers over Chicago. Brockington, who scored one TD, gained 62 yards to push his season's total to 1,032.

Tom Dempsey kicked four field goals and Pete Liske threw a 69-yard TD pass to Harold Jackson as the resurgent Eagles beat the crumbling Cardinals. Dempsey, dropped by New Orleans earlier this year, hit on field goals of 27, 22, 24 and a club record 54 yards.

Robert Holmes' two-yard TD run with 24 seconds left gave Houston its victory over Buffalo and assured the Bills of the No. 1 pick in the February pro football draft. The Bills ars1-12.

John Hadl's four TD passes, including a 77-yarder to Gary Garrison, sparked San Diego over Denver. The four TD passes put Hadl into the league lead in that department with 21 for the season.

Phil Wise's fumble recovery on the New England one and Steve Tannen's deflected punt set up a pair of scores as the Jets stopped the Patriots for the sixth straight time at home. Wise recovered Carl Garrett's fumble to set up John Riggins' TD plunge and Tannen's blocked punt set the stage for Bobby Howfield's 42-yard field goal.

Terry Bradshaw, benched until late in the third quarter, threw TD passes to John Fuqua and Ron Shanklin to rally Pittsburgh past Cincinnati. Bradshaw threw a 40-yard scoring pass to Fuqua and hit Shanklin with a five-yarder after Ralph Anderson's interception.

Bo Scott and Leroy Kelly plunged for short-yardage TDs and defensive tackle Walter Johnson recovered a fumble in the end zone for another score to spark Cleveland over the Saints.

Petaluma High Football Coach Steps Down

Petaluma High School football coach Howard Cadenhead has announced his resignation, saying "I'm disappointed over not being able to develop a winner here."

Cadenhead's teams compiled a 7-27-2 record in three years, including a 3-6 mark this fall, 2-4 in the North Bay League.

The 32-year old native of Marysville came to Petaluma in 1968 after serving as an assistant at Santa Rosa High. He will remain at Petaluma, teaching and working in the athletic department.

Goalby Tips Archer

FREEPORT, Bahamas (UPI) —In case you wonder just how much the pressure gets to veteran golfers, just ask Bob Goalby, the newly-crowned winner of the $130,000 Bahamas National Open which closed out the 1971 golf tour on Sunday.

"I was more nervous out there than when I won the Masters in 1968," said the 42-year-old former paratrooper and college football player who joined tha tour in 1957. "For a while I thought I was going to choke."

Goalby fought his nerves to fire a 70 which enabled him to overtake Big George Archer of San Francisco and captured the $26,000 first-place prize money, more than the $23,203 he had won in 39 previous tournaments this year. His four-round total was 69-70-66-70--275. Archer was 66-67-71-72--276.

"All I could think about was having to qualify on Mondays if I didn't win this one," he said. His victory moved him into the top 60 money winners thereby insuring that he won't have to qualify.

Goalby, who sank a magnificent 30 foot blast from a sandtrap on the seventhole to move ahead of Archer, also had to sink two critical putts on the 17th and 18th holes, both about seven feet.

"those were two of the greatest putts I have ever made," said Goalby, who had earlier this week been considering taking a job as a club professional in Detroit. He had decided not take the job, a decision he said he made before today.

Archer, the third-round leader, hit the ball poorly Sunday, finishing with a one over par 72. His prize money of $14,800 for second place increased his earnings to $139,158.48, behind only Jack Nicklaus, Lee Trevino and Arnold Palmer on the official earnings list.

A drive into the woods on the 12th hole cost Archer his third tournament victory of the season as he took a double bogie. Archer, who complained he was not hitting the ball well, took three bogies during his round, twice when errant drives caught the rough and once when he hit into the sand. He birdied the 15th and 16th holes to keep the pressure on Goalby but the latter refused to wilt.

The pressure was also apparent on young Grier Jones, who went into the final round tied with Goalby a shot behind Archer. Jones, obviously nervous, hit into sandtraps on the first two holes, saving his par on the first but missing a three-foot putt for a bogie on the second.

Ron Cerrudo finished with a 286, 11 strokes off the winning pace.

Seals Shock Boston 4-2 In Oakland

OAKLAND (UPI) — There was a distinct eastern Massachusetts flavor in the coliseum-arena but it didn't help the Boston Bruins.

Ex-Bruins Ivan Boldirev and Wayne Carleton, along with former Weymouth (Mass.) High School product Bobby Sheehan, scored goals Sunday night to carry the California Golden Seals to a 4-2 win over Boston.

The Seals grabbed third place all by themselves in the NHL West while ending the Bruins 12-game unbeaten string.

It was probably the most stirring game the Seals have played since rookie goalie Gilles Meloche shut out the Bruins 2-0 at Boston Garden Oct. 28.

Raider Title Hope Dashed

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Every one of the 51,215 spectators knew that if the Kansas City Chiefs were going to do it, it would be Otis Taylor that got it done.

The 6-foot-3, 215-pound wide receiver had carried the Chiefs all season with his spectacular catches. And he came through with a 16-yarder Sunday that was as responsible as anything for handing the Chiefs the Western Division Championship in the American Football Conference.

Behind 14-13, the Chiefs got the ball on their own seven with 5:35 to play. Quarterback Len Dawson twice threw incomplete. But on third down, he threaded the football to Taylor between two defenders and the Chiefs were on their way with a first down at the 23.

"The team depends on me to make the big catch," the 29-year-old Prairie View product said. "I know I've got to be the one that pulls 'em out of the hole—and that gives me confidence."

The Chiefs sprang 90 yards to Oakland's three before Jan Stenerud lofted a 10-yard field goal with 1:34 to play, giving the Chiefs a 16-14 victory and ending Oakland's four-year reign as Western Division champs.

Four times during the drive Taylor caught Dawson passes, the last one for four yards to the Oakland 41. From there, Taylor ran a deep route and Dawson tried to find him again.

Cornerback Jimmy Warren, subbing for Nemiah Wilson, who had been shaken up on another Taylor catch several plays earlier, tripped Taylor at the 12 as the ball sailed harmlessly over both.

An official quickly tossed a flag for pass interference, the Chiefs ran three running plays and Stenerud kicked the winning field goal.

"I like to think I had him beat pretty good," Taylor said of the play that resulted in the pass interference call. "Whether he tripped me intentionally, I don't know, but it was a clear penalty."

In the Oakland dressing room, Raider Coach John Madden said, "the third-down pass to Taylor was the big play, of course. I felt we had them. We had the opportunities to score. Now the season is over for us as far as any championships are concerned. When we blocked the punt, things seemed to be swinging our way."

Second-year pro Gerald Irons blocked Jerrel Wilson's punt late in the third quarter and Oakland scored the go-ahead touchdown after a 26-yard drive 41 seconds into the last period. Marv Hubbard scored from the one, his second touchdown of the game.

The Chiefs (9-3-1) close out the regular season next Sunday against Buffalo here, then host the first playoff game Dec. 25 or 26 against the Eastern Division champion, possibly Baltimore.

Kansas City Coach Hank Stram called the contest "one of the greatest games we've ever had. The catches by Otis were just splendid. You have to use many more adjectives than I can use. Our cry all year has been, 'We've got to get it to Otis.' This game is typical of what happens when we get it to him."

Both Oakland touchdowns came after 44-year-old George Blanda replaced Daryle Lamonica at quarterback in the second quarter.

Blanda, who twice had worked his miracles to tie the Chiefs in the last two years, was smashed while trying to pass early in the third quarter by the Chiefs' 270-pound tackle, Buck Buchanan.

Blanda had to be helped from the field, but returned minutes later without missing an offensive down.

"The thing that amazed me about him," said Buchanan, "was that he got up and came back and moved the team. I've got nothing but respect for a great veteran like him."

Added Stram, "Blanda is an artist. That's all there is to it. They believe in him so strongly."

The division championship was the Chiefs' first since 1966. They won the Super Bowl after the 1969 season when they qualified for the playoffs as the best second-place team.

Kansas City's victory also was only its fourth in the last 14 games with Oakland.

Terra Linda guard Eric Borcherding (ankle) got 13.

Marin Catholic (3-3), playing "a little better defense than we had been doing," beat out San Rafael (3-3) for third place. It was the second straight victory for the Wildcats under coach Dave Gonsalves, who just returned from the teachers' strike.

Gonsalves credited pivotman Steve Vanni for a large share of the victory. Vanni scored 12 points —10 from the free-throw line — and gathered 14 rebounds. "Mickey Hurley looked great on defense," the coach continued. "He held (San Rafael's) Doni Canfield to two points in the first half." Canfield finished with 14, high for either team.

Ed Chavez of Drake (3-4) had four waning-minute free throws among his 12 points as the Pirates staved off San Marin (1-4). Mark Daubenfeld and Dave Wilkinson added 10 each, while Hoza Wright led San Marin with 14. Fred Doar chipped in 13 and Ken Siler 10.

The ten-man all-tournament team consisted of Moroski and Robinson from Novato; Buckley and Lowey from Terra Linda; Canfield from San Rafael; Barry Nelson, Tom Warrington and Walkenhorst from Napa; and Zakariassen and Thomas from Petaluma. MVP Gillmore was the lone repeater from last year's team. Petaluma was adjudged to have the best rooting section.

Moreover, the Giants committed only eight turnovers.

Redwood shot well from the floor, hitting 22 of 47 shots for 47 per cent. Tim Hennessy also was in double figures, scoring 14. Steve McGee notched only four, but "did an outstanding job on defense against Wilson's big man," according to Hart.

McGee, Hennessy and Connor made the all-tournament team, as did Will Garner and Jared McFerrin of Tamalpais.

Tam's Indians (4-2) also jumped on top in the first quarter and remained ahead throughout. Capuchino closed within four points with about four minutes left but could not get nearer.

Garner scored 26 points and snatched 18 rebounds. As a team, Tam sank 29 of 61 for 47 per cent. McFerrin also was in double figures with 15.

"Most everybody played for us," said Tam coach Bernie Schneider. "This tournament was quite a feather in the cap for Marin County teams."

drive, keeping the ball on a rollout, for a 21-0 lead.

All this transpired by 4:31 of the second quarter and the game was over, for all practical purposes, at that point. Nolan was lavish in his praise of Brodie.

"He called a great game," said Nolan. "He was simply beautiful."

A 48-yard field goal by Bruce Gossett, his 22nd of the year for a club record, accounted for the other San Francisco points. Dick Shiner booted an 18-yard field goal in the 10th minute of the second quarter for the only Atlanta points.

The loss was the sixth compared to six victories and a tie and dropped the Falcons out of the race for a playoff spot in the NFC West. They needed a victory against San Francisco to stay alive.

Norm Van Brocklin, the Atlanta coach, was disappointed by his team's performance and magnanimous in his praise of the 49ers.

"We got whipped every way you can in a game," said Van Brocklin. "The 49ers played a fine game. They didn't make a mistake and we made a few. I'd guess you'd have to say that made the difference."

The San Francisco defense, the club's long suit all season, played an outstanding game. The defenders held the Falcons to 61 yards rushing and 69 passing. Berry, who didn't have more than a half dozen good chance to throw, hit on only nine of 23 attempts.

"The rush kept him in hot water," said Nolan of Berry. "We didn't give him time to throw and the few times he had a chance his men were covered. Our linebackers seemed to be in the right places all the time and that has to discourage a quarterback."

Willard ran for 62 yards in 22 carries and young Schrieber picked up 54 in six tries. Vic Washington had 33 in 13.

As Nolan pointed out, it was a perfect game for the 49ers. Now, they have to do it all over again Sunday against the Lions and hope Washington or Pittsburgh knocks off the Rams.

BAKERSFIELD (UPI) —El Camino College (11-1) piled up more than 500 offensive yards and intercepted five passes Saturday while whipping Santa Rosa 48-14 to win the state junior college football championship.

Quarterback Coy Hall, made three touchdown passes of 70 and 29 yards, with the longer one going to back Doug Jena. Jena also scored on a one-yard plunge and gained 126 yards in 13 carries.

Santa Rosa (10-2) scored on a one-yard plunge by Joe Stender and a 52-yard interception of an El Camino pitchout.

Lakers Take 21st In Row

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Bill Sharman reaped many honors during the Boston Celtics' glory years but he says it was nothing compared to this.

"This is my biggest thrill as either a coach or a player," said Sharman, after his Los Angeles Lakers set a National Basketball Association record of 21 consecutive victories Sunday night as they beat the Atlanta Hawks 104-95. "In the 26 years of the NBA, there have been 25 champions but none has ever won 21 in a row. Now we'll do our best to bring the championship to Los Angeles."

The Lakers had to struggle to break the record, set by the Milwaukee Bucks last season and equalled by the Lakers Friday night against Phoenix. Wilt Chamberlain, who had 24 rebounds, stuffed a basket with 39 seconds left to give Los Angeles a 98-95 lead and break the back of the Hawks' rally. Gail Goodrich scored 32 points, 22 in the first half, to lead the LA attack and Jerry West added 26.

"This was not one of our better games," said Sharman, in his first year as coach of the Lakers. "Our shooting was tight and we didn't get our running game going until the second half. But the players really wanted it."

And one of the players who wanted it most was Jerry West, one of the most competitive players in the league who has been denied a title despite more than a decade of brilliant performance.

"They called us old before the season started and they said Seattle had our division all wrapped up," said West. "But I guess this proves them different. It seems incredible to win this many games in a row. It's been so long I don't think we know how to lose."

Richie Guerin, the Atlanta coach, didn't think the Lakers deserved to win. "They may have deserved to win their last 20 but not this one," said Guerin. "The difference was Wilt's work on the boards."

The victory boosted the Lakers' record to 27-3. They have not lost since the end of October when West was out with an injury.

In other NBA action, the Houston Rockets edged the Seattle SuperSonics 100-98, the New York Knicks tripped the Cleveland Cavaliers 103-92 and the Boston Celtics beat the Cincinnati Royals 96-83.

Elvin Hayes hit a 10-foot jump shot at the buzzer to give Houston its victory over the Sonics. Hayes scored 16 of his game high 34 points in the final quarter to rally the Rockets from a three-point deficit and give them their third consecutive victory, their longest streak of the season.

Walt Frazier scored 30 points and Jerry Lucas hit 14 to go over the 12,000-point career mark as the Knicks downed Cleveland.

Floridians Fall To Pittsburgh In ABA Play

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Mark Binstein, the businessmanpturned-basketball coach, was elated after the Pittsburgh Condors won their fourth straight game Sunday night, a 98-95 thriller over the Floridians.

"We're looking for the open man now on offense," Binstein said. "Hopefully, this is the last time we'll have to look behind to see who's catching up. Now, we can look ahead to see who we can catch."

The win, in the only American Basketball Association game of the night, gave Pittsburgh a secure hold on third place in the ABA East.

SKIING

Swiss Shine; French Falter

VAL D'ISERE, France (UPI) —Certain trends are becoming clear after the first two ski meets of this new World Cup and Olympic season.

The first is that the Austrian and Swiss men racers are just about equal in the downhill and giant slalom events while the French are surprisingly weak.

Secondly, the French girls have showed they are still the best around—with the exception of Anne Marie Proell of Austria who is the women's world downhill champion.

Switzerland could do much better if it had a stronger girls team. The Swiss have scored only 14 World Cup points up to now compared to 90 by the French girls and 61 by the Austrians.

The Austrian men, meanwhile, have so far collected 96 points and the Swiss men, 95. France's male racers are way behind with 41 points.

But the St. Moritz and Val D'Isere competitions have not included any special slaloms—in which such Frenchmen as the two Augert brothers and Patrick Russel are among the world's best.

There was one women's special slalom here but it did not count for World Cup points.

The scene could very well look different following the next round of races in Sestriere, Italy, starting Thursday and which includes special slaloms and downhills for both the men and girls.

The national standings now are: 1. Austria 157 points, 2. France 131, 3. Switzerland 109.

Other countries are far behind, fourth place Norway for example having earned just 31 points so far.

There will always be the odd and pleasant surprise, however, with new names among the winners. Erik Haker of Norway, for one, took the giant slalom here while Rosi Mittermaier of Germany won the unofficial girls' slalom.

In Sunday's final race here, Veteran Karl Schranz of Austria won the downhill while the best American showing was the sixth place finish of Mike Lafferty of Eugene, Ore.

Quarterback Guthrie Leads Boise's Bowl Win

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) —Midway through the Camellia Bowl, Boise State's Eric Guthrie dejectedly concluded that he had "botched" his chances for a shot at professional football.

But a few hours later —with darkness settling over the empty stadium — the Scottish-born senior quarterback pushed long blond hair out of his eyes and managed an easy smile.

His change of mood reflected the dramatic turnabout that saw Boise erupt after a dismal first three quarters for 25 points in the closing period and a 32-28 bowl victory Saturday over Chico State.

With a huge helping hand from a bad case of "the fumbles" by Chico State, Guthrie directed three touchdown drives and lofted a 42-yard fieldgoal in the closing 13 minutes to quickly erase that first-half gloom.

Although he managed only 19 completions in 41 attempts, Guthrie hit 8 of 11 in the crucial closing minutes of the marathon struggle witnessed by 16,313.
